Agenda 2063 African Union:

African Union and Agenda 2063: The Past, Present and Future Adeoye O. Akinola, Khabele Matlosa, 2025-06-28

Since its official launch on 9 July 2002 in Durban South Africa the African Union AU has taken on the complex mantle of promoting peace governance development and continental integration building on the legacy of its predecessor the Organisation of African Unity OAU While the OAU championed the liberation and unity of African states the AU expanded this vision under the broader framework of Pan Africanism aligning it with modern challenges and aspirations As the AU marked its 20th anniversary in 2022 there emerged a critical need to evaluate its performance particularly in relation to Agenda 2063 The Africa We Want a strategic vision for Africa's long term transformation adopted in 2013 Understanding the AU's trajectory requires reflection on the historical struggles that shaped Pan Africanism including colonialism apartheid and racial injustice Key milestones such as the African Continental Free Trade Area AfCFTA reflect progress but limited advancement in flagship projects like the Free Movement of Persons and Silencing the Guns initiative highlights persistent challenges This book African Union and Agenda 2063 The Past Present and Future undertakes a critical assessment of the AU's 20 year record aiming to reinvigorate Pan African consciousness and examine the structural and political constraints hindering the Union's effectiveness in achieving lasting peace prosperity and unity across the continent

abstract Africa has historically been a victim of colonialism perpetrated by the Europeans for ages Colonialism was anchored by slave trade oppression suppression of the African voices expropriation of resources ethnic cleansing of some tribes millions were killed in DRC by the Belgian King among others Colonialism left an indelible mark in the African face such that whenever Africa appears the effects of colonialism are visible It is not an understatement to note that colonialism still haunts the African continent many years after independence The colonialist ceded political power and secretly maintained economic power that continues to influence the political dynamics of Africa In essence during the twentieth century African countries managed to win their independences from colonial rule Colonial rule was orchestrated by Britain France Portugal Germany and Belgium However the winning of independence demanded cooperation among African states towards making the enemy lose maximum structural control in the continent Did the enemy indeed lose structural control in politics economics and the social life of Africans It remains seemingly true that Africa was independent in the twentieth century but remained dependent to the former colonial powers to date From its founding in 1963 OAU to its rebranding after the dawn of the new millennium in 2002 to African Union volatile conflicts have been rampant in Africa The rebranded AU continues to struggle with sporadic conflicts in Africa hunger famines poverty and poor governance among others On 31 January 2015 the 24th

Ordinary Assembly of the Heads of State and Governments of the African Union in Addis Ababa adopted the AU Agenda 2063 This essay seeks to discuss the notion that the African Union Agenda 2063 is a strategic peace building initiative This desk research will tackle issues within the framework of AU Agenda 2063 document so as to determine its efficacy to peace building initiative The aspirations goals and priority areas of AU Agenda 2063 shall be of critical importance towards giving the discourse a terrain to engage with critical peace building concerns in Africa Furthermore the findings of the study draws insightful lenses from the AU Agenda 2063 document Upon discussion of findings the paper will draw a conclusion
