Alberto Kalach:

Alberto Kalach: Work Miquel Adrià, 2022-03 A comprehensive introduction to the work and vision of one of Mexico's most acclaimed contemporary architects Mexican architect Alberto Kalach born 1960 founded Taller de Arquitectura X TAX in 1981 and for more than 35 years the firm's work has produced a wide range of projects from private commissions to public buildings from solutions for confined spaces to urban planning problems The scale of the commission may vary but the approach remains the same always driven by a sense of curiosity and experimentation TAX describes itself as somewhere between a lab a greenhouse and learning team Rather than adhering to a specific style TAX's constancy is methodological and conceptual allowing the studio to be prolific versatile and consistent simultaneously The studio's work has long been motivated by Kalach's concerns about and research into the particular challenges and problems of his native Mexico City To this end he has designed a minimalist house that can be built for 5 000 the largest public library in Latin America and an ambitious proposed plan to restore Mexico City's ancient lakes which remains unrealized Alberto Kalach Work is an extensive compilation of more than 100 of TAX's built and unbuilt projects Illustrated with architectural photographs by Iwan Baan and Jaime Navarro as well as Kalach's personal diagrams and drawings this volume introduces readers to the work and vision of one of Mexico's most acclaimed contemporary architects

The New Architecture of Mexico John V. Mutlow, 2005 This book explores the modern architecture of Mexico with an emphasis from the early 1980s to the present day It is particularly appropriate now given a renewed interest in the recent modern architecture of Mexico and as the w Modernity and the Architecture of Mexico Edward R. Burian, 2010-06-28 Since the mid 1970s there has been an extraordinary renewal of interest in early modern architecture both as a way of gaining insight into contemporary architectural culture and as a reaction to neoconservative postmodernism This book undertakes a critical reappraisal of the notion of modernity in Mexican architecture and its influence on a generation of Mexican architects whose works spanned the 1920s through the 1960s Nine essays by noted architects and architectural historians cover a range of topics from broad based critical commentaries to discussions of individual architects and buildings Among the latter are the architects Enrique del Moral Juan O Gorman Carlos Obregón Santacilia Juan Segura Mario Pani and the campus and stadium of the Ciudad Universitaria in Mexico City Relatively little has been published in English regarding this era in Mexican architecture Thus Modernity and the Architecture of Mexico will play a groundbreaking role in making the underlying assumptions ideological and political constructs and specific architect's agendas known to a wide audience in the humanities Likewise it should inspire greater appreciation for this undervalued body of works as an important contribution to the modern movement

The Making of Mexican Modernist Architecture Celia Esther Arredondo Zambrano, 2023-05-03 This book presents the making of Mexican Modernist architecture through five power structures academic social status economic political gender and postcolonial and by interviews and analysis of 13 key Mexican architects These include Luis Barragán Jos Villagr

n Garc a Juan O Gorman Pedro Ram rez V zquez Agust n Hern ndez Abraham Zabludovsky Carlos Mijares Ricardo Legorreta Juan Jos D az Infante Enrique Norton Alberto Kalach Javier Sordo Madaleno and Clara de Buen Although the five power structures framed what was built the testimony of these Mexican architects helps us to recognize and discover subtleties and nuances Their views thereby shed light on what contributed to making Mexican Modernist architecture so distinctive globally Even if these architects were not always aware of the power structures their projects nonetheless supported discrimination marginalization and subjugation In that sense the book also reveals the extent to which these power structures are still present today The Making of Mexican Modernist Architecture s uniqueness lies in uncovering the remarkable buildings that arose amid the five power structures while at the same time questioning their validity It also voices the urgent need today for a new kind of architecture outside these boundaries The book is essential reading for anyone studying Mexican and Latin American architecture

Modern Architecture in Latin America Luis E. Carranza, Fernando Luiz Lara, 2015-01-05 Modern Architecture in Latin America Art Technology and Utopia is an introductory text on the issues polemics and works that represent the complex processes of political economic and cultural modernization in the twentieth century The number and types of projects varied greatly from country to country but as a whole the region produced a significant body of architecture that has never before been presented in a single volume in any language Modern Architecture in Latin America is the first comprehensive history of this important production Designed as a survey and focused on key examples paradigms arranged chronologically from 1903 to 2003 this volume covers a myriad of countries historical social and political conditions and projects developments that range from small houses to urban plans to architectural movements The book is structured so that it can be read in a variety of ways as a historically developed narrative of modern architecture in Latin America as a country specific chronology or as a treatment of traditions centered on issues of art technology or utopia This structure allows readers to see the development of multiple and parallel branches historical strands of architecture and at times their interconnections across countries The authors provide a critical evaluation of the movements presented in relationship to their overall goals and architectural transformations

The Architecture and Cities of Northern Mexico from Independence to the Present Edward Burian, 2015-08-15 The states of Northern Mexico Tamaulipas Nuevo Le n Coahuila Chihuahua Durango Sonora Sinaloa and Baja California Norte and Sur have architecture urbanism and landscape design that offer numerous lessons in how to build well but this constructed environment is largely undervalued or unknown To make this architecture better known to a wide professional academic and public audience this book presents the first comprehensive overview in either English or Spanish of the architecture urban landscapes and cities of Northern Mexico from the country s emergence as a modern nation in 1821 to the present day Profusely illustrated with color and black and white photographs maps and analytical drawings of urban cores of major cities The Architecture and Cities of Northern Mexico systematically examines significant works of architecture in large cities and small towns in each state from the earliest buildings in the urban core to the newest at the periphery Edward R Burian describes the most memorable works of architecture in each city in greater detail in terms of their spatial organization materials and sensory experience He also includes a concise geographical and historical summary of the region that provides a useful background for the discussions of the works of architecture Burian concludes the book with a brief commentary on lessons learned and possible futures for the architectural culture of the region as well as the first comprehensive biographical listing of the architects practicing in Northern Mexico during the past two centuries

Constructing Identity in Contemporary Architecture Peter Herrle, Stephanus Schmitz, 2009 The global spread of uniform modes of production and cultural values has been accompanied by a dissemination of stereotypes of modern architecture styles almost everywhere around the globe Paradoxically the reverse process has also emerged In some countries the elites feel the necessity to counterbalance the loss of identity and defend their own cultures against the intruding forces of globalization What started as a defensive notion has developed into a more progressive attempt to re create what has allegedly been lost This trend is being strongly expressed in discourses about architecture in countries of the South Who are the actors feeling compelled to construct new identities How are these new identities in architecture created in various parts of the world And which are the ingredients borrowed from various historical and ethnic traditions and other sources These and other questions are discussed in five case studies from different parts of the world written by renowned scholars from Brazil Mexico Egypt India and Singapore

Kalach + Alvarez Adriana León, Kalach + Alvarez, 1998 Shaping Terrain Davids, René, 2016-08-10 Shaping Terrain shows how the physical landscape and local ecology have influenced human settlement and built form in Latin America since pre Columbian times Most urban centers and capitals of Latin American countries are situated on or near dramatically varied terrain and this book explores the interplay between built works and their geographies in various cities including Bogot Caracas Mendoza Mexico D F Rio de Janeiro Santiago de Chile and Valpara so The multi national contributors to Shaping Terrain have a broad range of professional experience as urbanists historians and architects and many are globally renowned for their design work They examine how humans negotiate with the existing environment and how the built form expresses that relationship The result is a wide ranging representation of the unique legacy of Latin America s urban heritage which is a repository of possibilities for future cities

The Landscape within the House. A reflection on the relationship between landscape and architecture Fabrizio Foti,2021-11-18 Inhabitation is the primary action of becoming rooted with the land through settlement The dwelling space is an expression of this bond both inside and out To feel oneself inextricably linked to a place to exist in it perceiving it as an integral part of one s existential reality is to place the landscape as the fundamental core of the living space In the ancient forms of living this core of domestic life was the hearth archetypal representation of a purely introspective idea of architecture Conversely the landscape today represents a characteristic element of modern and contemporary inversions of the housing and typological modalities The house meant shelter a protective enclosure whose centralities were the fire and the patio in the contemporary experience we look away from the center and gaze towards outside Reality is no longer impervious Once changed into art into a scenario reality becomes domestic it becomes landscape the lifeblood of man s abode Therefore living a space is a conceptual and material expression of this current condition of belonging to places whilst remaining linked to perception

Spectacular Mexico Luis M. Castañeda,2014-11-01 In the wake of its early twentieth century civil wars Mexico strove to present itself to the world as unified and prosperous The preparation in Mexico City for the 1968 Summer Olympics was arguably the most ambitious of a sequence of design projects that aimed to signal Mexico s arrival in the developed world In Spectacular Mexico Luis M Castañeda demonstrates how these projects were used to create a spectacle of social harmony and ultimately to guide the nation s capital into becoming the powerful megacity we know today Not only the first Latin American country to host the Olympics but also the first Spanish speaking country Mexico s architectural transformation was put on international display From traveling exhibitions of indigenous archaeological artifacts to the construction of the Mexico City subway Spectacular Mexico details how these key projects placed the nation on the stage of global capitalism and revamped its status as a modernized country. Surveying works of major architects such as Félix Candela, Pedro Ramirez Vazquez, Ricardo Legorreta, and graphic designer Lance Wyman, Castañeda illustrates the use of architecture and design as instruments of propaganda and nation branding. Forming a kind of image economy, Mexico's architectural projects and artifacts were at the heart of the nation's economic growth and cultivated a new mass audience at an international level. Through an examination of one of the most important cosmopolitan moments in Mexico's history, Spectacular Mexico positions architecture as central to the negotiation of social, economic, and political relations.

House Cathy Lang Ho, Raul A. Barreneche, 2001. The idea and function, image and built reality of the house vary from culture to culture, locale to locale, generation to generation, demographic to demographic. Houses do much more than provide a roof over our heads. They are sanctuaries, havens, our private kingdoms, our personalized cocoons. They are backdrops to our everyday lives. They are status symbols. They are economic indicators. For architects, they are dream jobs, test beds, manifestos. Only by understanding the predominant reality of and the prevailing attitudes toward the house can we appreciate the great leaps and changes it is and always has been undergoing. The houses in this book represent new ideas about how to build houses, how they are rooted and root us to their locale, and how we use and regard them. The first chapter, Tectonics, features houses that explore the novel application of materials and building techniques in the domestic realm. Next, Context showcases houses that actively engage in their site, drawing inspiration, whether in texture, form, or topography, from their surrounding landscape. Lastly, Revolutions addresses the significant shifts our lifestyles have undergone and how the house has responded to them. House features twenty recently built houses that have been designed by some of today's leading architects, including Steven Holl, Toshiko Mori, Alberto Kalach, and Rick Joy. By leading readers to the cutting edge of today's architecture, authors Ho and Barreneche relate today's building trends and hint at what awaits us in the future. Featuring more than 200 color photographs and plans, House is the perfect book for house enthusiasts worldwide.

Encyclopedia of Twentieth Century Architecture R. Stephen Sennott, 2004. For more information, including the introduction, a full list of entries and contributors, a generous selection of sample pages, and more, visit the Encyclopedia of 20th Century Architecture website. Focusing on architecture from all regions of the world, this three-volume set profiles the twentieth century's vast chronicle of architectural achievements, both within and well beyond the theoretical confines of modernism. Unlike existing works, this encyclopedia examines the complexities of rapidly changing global conditions that have dispersed modern architectural types, movements, styles, and building practices across traditional geographic and cultural boundaries.

Beyond Modernist Masters Felipe Hernández, 2009-11-20. Latin America has been an important place for architecture for many decades. Masters like Barragán, Dieste, Lina Bo Bardi, and Niemeyer pointed the way for architectural design all over the world and they continue to do so today Their approach to colors materials and walls had a deep and lasting influence on architectural modernism Since then however and especially in the last fifteen years architecture on the continent has continued to evolve and a lively and extremely creative architecture scene has developed The work of Latin American architects and city planners is often guided by social issues for example the approach to informal settlements on the outskirts of big cities the scarcity of housing and public space the availability of affordable transportation and the important role of cultural infrastructure such as schools libraries and sports facilities as a catalyst for neighborhoods Within this context the book considers numerous projects that have prompted discussion and provided fresh impetus all across Latin America Outstanding projects like the Santo Domingo Library in Medellin Colombia by Giancarlo Mazzanti Alberto Kalach s Liceo Franco Mexicano in Mexico and the works of Alejandro Aravena in Chile show that recent Latin American architecture is more than capable of holding its own beside the works of the founders Felipe Hernandez is an architect and professor of Architectural Design History and Theory at The University of Liverpool He attended an MA in Architecture and Critical Theory graduating with distinction in 1998 and received his PhD from the University of Nottingham in 2003 He has taught at the Bartlett School of Architecture UCL The Universities of Nottingham Sheffield East London and Nottingham Trent in the United Kingdom as well as at Brown University and Roger Williams University in USA Felipe has published numerous essays and articles examining the situation of contemporary Latin American cities and revealing the multiplicity of architectural practices that operate simultaneously in the constant re shaping of the continent s cities

Privileging Water in Lima, Mexico City, and New Orleans Clare

Cardinal-Pett, 2024-11-20 Privileging Water in Lima Mexico City and New Orleans An Environmental History charts the development of the indigenous hydro social territories and their colonial transformations into modern political ecologies This book begins with a summary of the environmental histories of these regions before the arrival of people To give water its due as an agent of historical processes it is important to understand its role in shaping these three distinct ecosystems a role it still plays today despite thousands of years of human intervention in the hydrological nature of those systems It is certain that as human caused climate changes rework ecosystems worldwide surviving the Anthropocene in Mexico City New Orleans and Lima will require other ways of knowing water as hydro social territories that challenge modern notions of urbanism and foreground ways of knowing formerly considered archaic Following the inextricable histories of water and anthropogenic landscapes provokes many questions about the nature of cities especially questions of environmental justice The answers should not be abstract or universal Instead Clare Cardinal Pett argues that urbanization on the planet must be reimagined and reconstructed as bio regional systems and hydro social territories that can be best defined more comprehensively as political ecologies
