A Treatise on White Magic Alice Bailey, 2019-09. I seek in this book to do four things and to make appeal to three types of people. It is based as regards its teaching upon four fundamental postulates. These are intended to: 1. Teach the laws of spiritual psychology as distinguished from mental and emotional psychology. 2. Make clear the nature of the soul of man and its systemic and cosmic relationships. This will include its group relationship as a preliminary step. 3. Demonstrate the relations between the self and the sheaths which that self may use and thus clarify public thought as to the constitution of man. 4. Elucidate the problem of the supernormal powers and give the rules for their safe and useful development. We stand now towards the close of a great transition period and the subtler realms of life are closer than ever before. Unusual phenomena and inexplicable happenings are commoner than at any time heretofore, whilst matters telepathic, psychic, and peculiar occupy the attention even of sceptics, scientists, and religionists. Reasons for the appearance of phenomena are being everywhere sought, and societies are formed for their investigation and demonstration. Many are likewise going astray in the effort to induce in themselves psychic conditions and the energy-producing factors which give rise to the manifestation of peculiar powers. This book will endeavor to fit the information given into the scheme of life as we today recognize it and will show how basically natural and true is all that is termed mysterious. All is under law, and the laws need elucidation now that man's development has reached the stage of a juster appreciation of their beauty and reality.

A Treatise on White Magic : Or Alice Anne Bailey,1945 Treatise on White Magic Alice A. Bailey,2012 A Treatise On White Magic Alice a Bailey,2022-11-18

Throughout the whole of this series of books runs a single thread uniting various aspects of life and specialised activities within the Plan for man This is the thread of consciousness evolving in man through the efforts of the soul to contact and control its personality equipment and evolving within the planet as the centre Hierarchy becomes increasingly able to impress the Plan on the minds of men This book therefore contains the Fifteen Rules for Magic and for soul control based on these words in the Bhagavad Gita Though I am Unborn the Soul that passes not away though I am the Lord of Being yet as Lord over My nature I become manifest through the magical power of the Soul The soul unmanifest in its essential being manifest through the nature of its personality equipment is always a source of mystery It evades the analytical concrete mind it reveals its true self to the illumined mind fused with the open heart seeking not to grasp and to hold for personal progress but to wield the magical power in service The power of the soul is always available to the one who seeks as an aspirant to accepted discipleship to become of practical service in his own peculiar times state and environment The teaching in this book is based on four fundamental postulates which will

- 1 Teach the laws of spiritual psychology as distinguished from mental and emotional psychology

- 3 Demonstrate the relations between the self and the sheaths which that self may use and thus clarify thought as to the constitution of man

Through these underlying postulates runs the theme of energy of the one informing life as a centre of energy pervading and uniting all within the divine flow Man is essentially and inherently divine and the soul the centre of consciousness the result of the pervasive union of Spirit with matter is the means whereby man evolves a consciousness of divinity and unity redeems the gross matter of his vehicles and liberates the pure flame of life energy from the limitation of form The soul is the vital link therefore between God and man The book closes with a rousing call to the soul in all aspirants I close with an appeal to all who read these instructions to rally their forces to renew their vows of dedication to the service of humanity to subordinate their own ideas and wishes to the group good to take their eyes off themselves and fix them anew upon the vision Let all
