Alice Walker's The Color Purple , 2009-01-01 Alice Walker's Pulitzer Prize winning novel The Color Purple is a tale of personal empowerment which opens with a protagonist Celie who is at the bottom of America's social caste A poor black ugly and uneducated female in the America's Jim Crow South in the first half of the 20th century she is the victim of constant rape violence and misogynistic verbal abuse Celie cannot conceive of an escape from her present condition and so she learns to be passive and unemotional But The Color Purple eventually demonstrates how Celie learns to fight back and how she discovers her true sexuality and her unique voice By the end of the novel Celie is an empowered financially independent entrepreneur landowner one who speaks her mind and realizes the desirability of black femaleness while creating a safe space for herself and those she loves Through a journey of literary criticism Dialogue Alice Walker's The Color Purple follows Celie's transformation from victim to hero Each scholarly essay becomes a step of the journey that paves the way for the development of self and sexual awareness the beginnings of religious transformation and the creation of nurturing places like home and community Alice Walker's The Color Purple Christopher Hubert, 1996 Presents a guide to reading and understanding The Color Purple the story of two African American sisters told through their letters to each other featuring an introduction to the novel and its author historical background a list of characters a plot summary and letter summaries analyses and study questions The Color Purple Alice Walker, 2019-12-10 Read the original inspiration for the new boldly reimagined film from producers Oprah Winfrey and Steven Spielberg starring Taraji P Henson Danielle Brooks and Fantasia Barrino Celebrating its fortieth anniversary The Color Purple writes a message of healing forgiveness self discovery and sisterhood to a new generation of readers An inspiration to authors who continue to give voice to the multidimensionality of Black women's stories including Tayari Jones, Honoré Fanonne Jeffers, Jesmyn Ward and more. The Color Purple remains an essential read in conversation with storytellers today. Winner of the Pulitzer Prize and the National Book Award, a powerful cultural touchstone of modern American literature, The Color Purple depicts the lives of African American women in early twentieth-century rural Georgia. Separated as girls, sisters Celie and Nettie sustain their loyalty to and hope in each other across time, distance, and silence. Through a series of letters spanning nearly thirty years, first from Celie to God, then from the sisters to each other, the novel draws readers into a rich and memorable portrayal of Black women, their pain and struggle, companionship and growth, resilience and bravery. Deeply compassionate and beautifully imagined, The Color Purple breaks the silence around domestic and sexual abuse and carries readers on an epic and spirit-affirming journey toward transformation, redemption, and love. Reading The Color Purple was the first time I had seen Southern Black women's literature as world literature. In writing us into the world bravely, unapologetically, and honestly, Alice Walker has given us a gift we will never be able to repay. Tayari Jones, The Color Purple was what church should have been, what honest familial reckoning could have been, and it is still the only art object in the world by which all three generations of Black artists in my family judge American art. Kiese Laymon, The Color Purple, Alice Walker, Perfection Learning Corporation, 2020. Beautifully imagined and deeply compassionate, this is the story of two sisters: one a missionary in Africa and the other a child wife living in the South, who sustain their loyalty to and trust in each other across time, distance, and silence. This classic novel of American literature is rich with passion, pain, inspiration, and an indomitable love of life. The color purple, Alice Walker, 1983.
