Chapter 7: "The Road to Revolution"

1. John Hancock – Nicknamed "King of the Smugglers," he was a wealthy Massachusetts merchant in 1776 who was important in persuading the American colonies to declare their independence from England. He was the ringleader in storing gunpowder which resulted in the battles in Lexington and Concord. These battles began the American Revolution.
2. Lord North – 1770's-1782, King George III's stout prime minister (governor during Boston Tea Party) in the 1770's. Lord North's rule fell in March of 1782, which therefore ended the rule of George III for a short while.
3. George Grenville – The British Prime Minister from 1763-1765. To obtain funds for Britain after the costly Seven Years' War, in 1763 he ordered the Navy to enforce the unpopular Navigation Laws, and in 1764 he got Parliament to pass the Sugar Act, which increased duties on sugar imported from the West Indies. He also, in 1765, brought about the Quartering Act, which forced colonists to provide food and shelter to British soldiers, who many colonists believed were only present to keep the colonists in line. In 1765, he imposed the Stamp Act, which put taxes on everything from newspapers to marriage licenses. These measures disgruntled the colonists, created anger towards the mother country, unified them, and helped provide the beginnings of the American Revolution.
4. Samuel Adams – Often called the "Penman of the Revolution," he was a master propagandist and an engineer of rebellion. Though very weak and feeble in appearance, he was a strong politician and leader who was very aware and sensitive to the rights of the colonists. He organized the local Committees of Correspondence in Massachusetts, starting with Boston in 1772. These committees were designed to oppose British policy forced on the colonists by spreading propaganda.
5. Charles Townshend – He was in control of the British ministry and was nicknamed "Champagne Charley" for his brilliant speeches in Parliament while drunk. He persuaded Parliament in 1767 to pass the Townshend Acts. These new regulations imposed a light import duty on glass, white lead, paper, and tea. It was a tax that the colonists were very much against and was a near start for rebellions to take place.
6. John Adams – Patriot of the American Revolution and second president of the U.S. from 1796-1800. He attended the Continental Congress in 1774 as a delegate from Georgia. He swayed his countrymen to take revolutionary action against England which later gained American independence from the English.
7. King George III – He was king of England in the 1770's. Though he was a good man, he was not a good ruler. He lost all of the 13 American colonies and caused America to start to gain its freedom.
8. Baron Von Steuben – A stern, Prussian drillmaster that taught American soldiers during the Revolutionary War how to successfully fight the British.
9. Mercantilism – Economic theory that simply states a nation's power is determined by its wealth in gold. According to this doctrine, the colonies existed for the benefit of the mother country; they should add to its wealth, prosperity, and self-sufficiency. The settlers were regarded more or less as tenants. They were expected to produce tobacco and other products needed in England and not to bother their heads with dangerous experiments in agriculture or self-government.
10. "No Taxation without Representation" – This is a theory of popular government that developed in England. This doctrine was used by the colonists to protest the Stamp Act of 1765. The colonists declared that they had no one representing them in Parliament, so Parliament had no right to tax them. England continued to tax the colonists causing them to deny Parliament's authority completely. Thus, the colonists began to consider their own political independence. This eventually led to revolutionary consequences.
11. Royal Veto – A royal veto was when legislation passed by the colonial assemblies conflicted with British regulations. It was then declared void by the Privy Council. It was resented by the colonists even though it was only used 469 times out of 8563 laws.
12. Internal/External Taxation – Internal taxation were taxes on goods within the colonies and acted much like
