Central and Eastern European Literary Theory and the West Michał Mrugalski, Schamma Schahadat, Irina Wutsdorff, 2022-12-05 Literary theory flourished in Central and Eastern Europe throughout the twentieth century but its relation to Western literary scholarship is complex This book sheds light on the entangled histories of exchange and influence both within the region known as Central and Eastern Europe and between the region and the West The exchange of ideas between scholars in the East and West was facilitated by both personal and institutional relations both official and informal encounters For the longest time however intellectual exchange was thwarted by political tensions that led to large parts of Central and Eastern Europe being isolated from the West A few literary theories nevertheless made it into Western scholarly discourses via exiled scholars Some of these scholars such as Mikhail Bakhtin become widely known in the West and their thought was transposed onto new Western cultural contexts others such as Olga Freidenberg were barely noticed outside of Russian and Poland This volume draws attention to the schools circles and concepts that shaped the development of theory in Central and Eastern Europe as well as the histoire croise the history of translations transformations and migrations that conditioned its relationship with the West

Female Subjectivities in African Literature Smith, Charles,Ce, Chin,2015-09-23 In literature the ambiguous portraiture of female characters by some male writers and the phallic nature of men's writings have proved a matter of concern to female writers in Africa For decades within African writing the issue of silencing was interrogated particularly as it addressed the muting and marginalisation of black women by male writers through the script of patriarchy which men follow In this series we continue the literary and dramatic tradition of feminist concern for women's issues and we review novels plays and poetry which demonstrate a commitment to exploring the challenges facing modern women in changing times and excerpting the issues of gender feminism identity race history national and international politics specifically as they affect women Female Subjectivities collectively answers the need to question and adumbrate the possibilities of literary revisions showing what it would mean to revise even the Feminist psychoanalyst in a discourse on the subjectivity of women of colour Critical Engagements on African Literature Abba A. Abba, Benedictus C. Nwachukwu, 2019-09-24 Beyond the critical examination of Isidore Diala's award winning poetry and drama the essays in this collection offer fresh insights on the complex methodological and theoretical patterns underlying the readings of African literary landscapes This is the first book to devote considerable attention to the study of Diala's creative works The Pyre drama and The Lure of Ash poetry The majority of the contributors here are selected from among the finest of Diala's former teachers colleagues and students who know him very closely The collection addresses fertile areas of African literary expression such as the relationship between literature and national history African ritual aesthetics affirmation denial and ambivalence as products of social constructions and exile migration and home coming Contributions also explore poetry and poetic truths semiotics anticolonial revolutions and postcolonial implosions oil politics discontent and militancy and feminism and gender politics The book stands out among its peers and offers great insights to scholars researchers and teachers working in the fields of African literature cultures and aesthetics

Landscape, Environment and Technology in Colonial and Postcolonial Africa Toyin Falola, Emily Brownell, 2013-03-01 This volume seeks to identify and examine two categories of colonial and postcolonial knowledge production about Africa These two broad categories are environment and landscape and both are useful and problematic to explore Discussions about African environments often concentrate on Africans as perpetrators of their own land causing degradation from lack of knowledge and technology Landscape defines the category of knowledge produced by foreigners about Africa where Africans remain part of the scenery and yield no agency over their surroundings To flesh out these categories and explore their creation and how they have been deployed to shape colonial and postcolonial discourses on Africa this volume investigates the technological pastoral the points of convergence and conflict between Western notions of pastoral Africa and the introduction of colonial technology scientific ideas and commodification of land and animals The Changing Face of African Literature / Les nouveaux visages de la littérature africaine, 2009-01-01 The Changing Face of African Literature combines both the large picture a synopsis of current trends in African literature and the small studies of individual texts and of themes across several texts The large and the small are linked by recurring themes such as gender and sexuality the nation state and its collapse AIDS war and suffering The volume is comparative bringing together literature in at least five languages and from at least ten national literatures Such a large comparative frame is implied by most discussion of African literature but is too seldom seen At the same time the collection also problematizes the comparison the goal is to make clear what African literatures have in common but also where they diverge What difference do distinct literary traditions readerships and publishing patterns make to literatures which share a common thematic and so many of the same questions and needs By juxtaposing contemporary texts from several traditions the intention of this collection is to bring out the themes that are currently dominant in African literatures generally After a preface by Liz Gunner and a wide ranging introduction by the editors the collection presents keynote essays on new paradigms in African literature before treating specific themes recent crime fiction the Afrikaans and anglophone novel feminist literature migration and studies of recent works by individual authors such as Andr  Brink Henri Djombo Pie Tshibanda Bessora Nadine Gordimer and Paulina Chiziane as well as the South African television series Yizo Yizo

Harrow,Eunice E. Omonzejie,2017-05-11 That Africa is at a crossroads in an increasingly globalised world is indisputable Equally unassailable is the fact that the humanities as a broad field of intellection research and learning in Africa appears to have been pigeonholed in debates of relevance in the development aspirations of many African nations Historical experiences and contemporary research outputs indicate however that the humanities in its various shades is critical to Africa's capacity to respond effectively to such problems as security corruption political ineptitude poverty superstition and HIV AIDS among many other mounting challenges which confront the people of Africa The vibrancy and resilience of Africa's cultures against these and other odds of globalisation episodes in the course of our history demand the focused attention of academia to exploit their relevance to contemporary issues This collection provides a comprehensive overview of issues in the humanities at the turn of the 21st century which create a veritable platform for the global redefinition and understanding of Africa's rich cultures and traditions Such areas covered include ruminations in metaphysics and psychology pathos and ethos cinematic and literary connections and historical conceptualisations The Oxford History of the Novel in English Simon

Gikandi,2016-09-05 Why did the novel take such a long time to emerge in the colonial world And what cultural work did it come to perform in societies where subjects were not free and modes of social organization diverged from the European cultural centers where the novel gained its form and audience Answering these questions and more Volume 11 The Novel in Africa and the Caribbean since 1950 explores the institutions of cultural production that exerted influence in late colonialism from missionary schools and metropolitan publishers to universities and small presses How these structures provoke and respond to the literary trends and social peculiarities of Africa and the Caribbean impacts not only the writing and reading of novels in those regions but also has a transformative effect on the novel as a global phenomenon Together the volume's 32 contributing experts tell a story about the close relationship between the novel and the project of decolonization and explore the multiple ways in which novels enable readers to imagine communities beyond their own and thus made this form of literature a compelling catalyst for cultural transformation The authors show that even as the novel grows in Africa and the Caribbean as a mark of the elites mastery of European form it becomes the essential instrument for critiquing colonialism and for articulating the new horizons of cultural nationalism Within this historical context the volume examines works by authors such as Chinua Achebe Nadine Gordimer George Lamming Jamaica Kincaid V S Naipaul Zoe Wicomb J M Coetzee and many others Eco-critical Literature Ogaga Okuyade,2013 Eco Critical Literature Regreening African Landscapescritically examines the representations constructions and imaginings of the relationship between the human and non human worlds in contemporary African literature and culture It offers innovative incisive and critical perspectives on the importance of sustaining a symbiotic relationship between humans and their environment The book thus carries African scholarship beyond the mere analysis of themes and style to ethical and activist roles of literature having an impact on readers and the public It is a scholarship geared towards rectifying ecological imbalance that is prevalent in many parts of the continent that forms the setting context and thematic discourse of the works or authors studied in this book Besides sensitizing the African readership to the need for the restoration of harmony between man and the environment this book equally aims to further familiarize scholars and students working on African literature and culture with the theoretical concerns of eco criticism
