Development in Coastal Zones and Disaster Management Amita Singh,R. Lalitha S. Fernando,Nivedita P. Haran,2020-10-13 In the last two decades coastal regions have relatively endured some of the fiercest oceanic and geophysical disasters than the earlier decades Yet disaster management governance fails to match the human nonhuman and environmental calamity which is unfolding in its most frequent and unpredictable pattern Between the Asian Tsunami of 2004 to the devastating Chennai and Kerala floods of 2018 the socio industrial livelihood impact alerts governments towards a greater and more serious compliance to laws for coastal conservation The United Nations Office for Disaster Risk Reduction UNDRR in 2018 had shocking statistics to share as the deaths and damages related to only Tsunami disaster at the coasts to 251 770 and US 280 billions respectively in the last 20 years 1998 2017 as compared to 998 and US 2 7 billion in the previous 20 years 1978 1997 Coastal conservation is no more a question of casual governance but has become a need for survival The region of South Asia which ranks much higher in its vulnerability weak resilience and relatively undersupplied governance structures ought to take this responsibility on a priority The spirit of Hyogu Declaration and the Sendai Framework for Action suggests preparedness and resilience building as key approach areas in coastal governance The book is incomparable in its holistic and transdisciplinary social science based approach to disaster management which links conservation of marine flora and fauna ecosystems and land management with decision making processes and coastal regulations These grass root findings from the subcontinent are substantiated by a section on the most powerful court battle on the Kerala Floods as a guideline for readers to discerningly identify an Act of God often used as a veil to hide lack of preparedness apathy and political greed This book becomes indispensable reading for anyone involved in research administration or any level of decision making for the mitigation and prevention of disasters New Challenges to Food Security Ian Christoplos,Adam Pain,2014-11-13 Food security is high on the political agenda Fears about societal insecurity due to food price increases and hunger grave scenarios regarding the effects of climate change and general uncertainty about the impacts of investments in biofuels and so call land grabbing on food prices and availability have meant that food security is now recognised as being a multifaceted challenge This book is unique in that it will bring together analyses of these different factors that impact on food security This volume will describe a range of different perspectives on food security with an emphasis on the various meanings that are applied to food security crisis The challenges to be reviewed include market volatility climate change and state fragility Analyses of responses to food security crises and risk will cover rural and urban contexts arenas of national policy formation and global food regimes and investment in land and productive technologies This book is unique in two respects First it takes a step back from the normative literature focused on specific factors of for example climate change agricultural production or market volatility to look instead at the dynamic interplay between these new challenges It helps readers to understand that food security is not one discourse but is rather related to how these different factors generate multiple risks and opportunities Second through the case studies the book particularly emphasises how these factors come together at local levels as farmers entrepreneurs consumers local government officials and others are making key decisions about what will be done to address food security and whose food security will be given priority The book will explore how food production and consumption is embedded in powerful political and market forces and how these influence local actions Genetically Modified Democracy Aniket Aga,2021-11-23 How the debate over genetically modified crops in India is transforming science and politics Genetically modified or transgenic crops are controversial across the world Advocates see such crops as crucial to feeding the world s growing population critics oppose them for pushing farmers deeper into ecological and economic distress and for shoring up the power of agribusinesses India leads the world in terms of the intensity of democratic engagement with transgenic crops Anthropologist Aniket Aga excavates the genealogy of conflicts of interest and disputes over truth that animate the ongoing debate in India around the commercial release of transgenic food crops The debate may well transform agriculture and food irreversibly in a country already witness to widespread agrarian distress and over 300 000 suicides by farmers in the last two decades Aga illustrates how state science and agrarian capitalism interact in novel ways to transform how democracy is lived and understood and sheds light on the dynamics of technological change in populous unequal polities Groundwater Raya Marina Stephan, James E. Nickum, Philippus Wester, 2023-02-21 Groundwater is invisible but its impact is visible everywhere Everything around us relies on groundwater our drinking water and sanitation our food supply and our natural environment Yet because it is invisible information management and governance of groundwater is often poor and inadequate This book contributes to UN Water Groundwater year 2022 and to the effort of making the invisible visible Through worldwide case studies ranging from the Americas California Brazil to Asia India Iran Lao PDR Nepal Africa Malawi Tanzania South Africa and the MENA region Lebanon Morocco Yemen including cases of transboundary aquifers the chapters in this edited volume reflect important recent advances in interdisciplinary knowledge on the governance management practice and science policy interfaces of groundwater An insightful resource for researchers and planners in the field of environmental policies water laws climate change and groundwater governance this book comes with a new Introduction The other chapters were originally published in Water International Special Report: 2024 FAO Crop and Food Supply Assessment Mission to the Federal Democratic Republic of Nepal Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations, 2025-03-19 At the request of the government an FAO Crop and Food Supply Assessment Mission CFSAM visited the country from 17 to 30 November 2024 to estimate the 2024 crop production assess the impact of floods that occurred in July August and September identify other factors that influenced crop production analyse food market conditions and forecast cereals and pulses import requirements for the 2024 25 marketing year July June The Mission identified some measures to address the most urgent needs of farmers affected by climate hazards and to improve performance and resilience of the agricultural sector in line with the Agriculture Development Strategy ADS 2015 2035 In order to provide assistance to farmers affected by the floods and to strengthen agriculture resilience as well as to unlock agriculture growth potential the Mission recommends the implementation of a series of cost effective short and medium term measures aligned to the Ministry of Agriculture and Livestock Development s ADS 2015 2035 The ADS aims to transform the country from an increasingly net food importer to a net food exporter generating 0 5 percent trade surplus and to achieve an agriculture growth at a rate of 6 percent per year at the end of the policy period Multidisciplinary Research in Arts, Science & Commerce (Volume-21) Chief Editor- Biplab Audhya, Editor- Dr. Jay Prakash Rajak, Dr. Akheel Mohammed, Dr. (Mrs) Shirley Bless Agwuocha, Andriya Mallick, Dr. Sandip R.
