exercises both individual and group based Communicating for Success Cheryl Hamilton, Tony Kroll, Bonnie Creel, 2023-02-28 Communicating for Success third edition is a core textbook for Introduction to Communication courses and gives students an overview of the subfields of Communication Studies and how these areas provide practical fun and immediate applications to students pursuing a wide variety of career paths as well as practical instruction in public speaking for success on today's social media platforms This fully updated third edition focuses on the key communication competencies recommended by the National Communication Association including verbal and nonverbal communication listening interpersonal communication and conflict resolution group and organizational communication public speaking leadership and the roles of social media technology culture gender and ethics in communication With a vibrant and engaging design this volume is packed with applied features including practical scenarios and examples key terms discussion questions sample activities learning objectives and more A concentrated focus on the influence of communication on careers in business education and healthcare is highlighted in a two page career spread at the end of each chapter and takes lessons beyond the classroom New features in this edition include a greater focus on public speaking in the workplace emphasis on demographic and behavioral factors in audience analysis and increased discussion of issues of social justice and equity Online resources for instructors include PowerPoint slides and an Instructor's Manual with guidance on how to use the book's activities in both in person and online courses Epistemic Autonomy Jonathan Matheson, Kirk Lougheed, 2021-08-05 This is the first book dedicated to the topic of epistemic autonomy It features original essays from leading scholars that promise to significantly shape future debates in this emerging area of epistemology While the nature of and value of autonomy has long been discussed in ethics and social and political philosophy it remains an underexplored area of epistemology The essays in this collection take up several interesting questions and approaches related to epistemic autonomy Topics include the nature of epistemic autonomy whether epistemic paternalism can be justified autonomy as an epistemic value and or vice and the relation of epistemic autonomy to social epistemology and epistemic injustice Epistemic Autonomy will be of interest to researchers and advanced students working in epistemology ethics and social and political philosophy Ad Hominem Arguments Douglas Walton, 1998-09 Douglas Walton presents a clear account of the structure of the ad hominem argument and how that structure can be used to evaluate specific cases of this type of argumentation as fallacious or not Fallacies Hans V. Hansen, Robert C. Pinto, 2010-11 Since 1970 when Charles Hamblin issued a challenge for philosophers logicians and educators in general to begin work anew in fallacies a serious literature on fallacies has indeed developed Part of this literature deals with the theory of what fallacies are another part of it contains rigorous analyses of particular fallacies However most is still not readily accessible to the researcher teacher or student of the field As a result the best work on fallacies is not finding its way into the classroom nor is it informing the educational and intellectual experiences available to most college and university students A major purpose of this book is to make the post Hamblin work on fallacies available to a wider audience in a single convenient volume The editors have brought together for the first time the most important historical writings on fallacy theory from Aristotle to John Stuart Mill and the most recent and most important theoretical and pedagogical developments in the field since Hamblin's landmark 1970 book All but a few of the essays included are new contributions for this anthology and an extensive annotated bibliography is included for researchers and students of fallacies and fallacy theory

Landmark Essays on Contemporary Rhetoric Thomas B. Farrell, 2020-10-28 This work brings together the pivotal scholarly essays responsible for the present resurgence in rhetorical studies Assembled by one of the most respected senior scholars in the field of rhetoric the essays chart a course from tradition based theory of civic rhetoric to ongoing issues of figuration power and gender Together with a lucid introductory essay these studies help to integrate the still volatile questions at the core of humanities scholarship in rhetoric The introductory student as well as the seasoned scholar will gain familiarity and footing in this oldest and still new liberal art

Logical Reasoning Bradley Harris Dowden, 1993 This book is designed to engage students interest and promote their writing abilities while teaching them to think critically and creatively Dowden takes an activist stance on critical thinking asking students to create and revise arguments rather than simply recognizing and criticizing them His book emphasizes inductive reasoning and the analysis of individual claims in the beginning leaving deductive arguments for consideration later in the course

Pink Floyd and Philosophy George A. Reisch, 2011-04-15 With their early experiments in psychedelic rock music in the 1960s and their epic recordings of the 1970s and 80s Pink Floyd became one of the most influential and recognizable rock bands in history As The Pink Floyd Sound the band created sound and light shows that defined psychedelia in England and inspired similar movements in the Jefferson Airplane's San Francisco and Andy Warhol's New York City The band's subsequent recordings forged rock music's connections to orchestral music literature and philosophy Dark Side of the Moon and The Wall ignored pop music's ordinary topics to focus on themes such as madness existential despair brutality alienation and socially induced psychosis They also became some of the best selling recordings of all time In this collection of essays sixteen scholars expert in various branches of philosophy set the controls for the heart of the sun to critically examine the themes concepts and problems usually encountered in the pages of Heidegger Foucault Sartre or Orwell that animate and inspire Pink Floyd's music These include the meaning of existence the individual's place in society the interactions of knowledge and power in education the contradictions of art and commerce and the blurry line the tragic line in the case of Floyd early member Syd Barrett died in 2006 between genius and madness Having dominated pop music for nearly four decades Pink Floyd's dynamic and controversial history additionally opens the way for these authors to explore controversies about intellectual property the nature of authorship and whether wholes especially in the case of rock bands are more than the sums of their parts

Reasonable Responses Catherine E. Hundley, 2017-01-17 This tribute to the breadth and influence of Trudy Govier's philosophical work begins with her early scholarship in argumentation theory paying special attention its pedagogical expression Most people first encounter Trudy Govier's work and many people only encounter it through her textbooks especially A Practical Study of Argument published in many editions In addition to the work on argumentation that has continued throughout her career much of Govier's later work addresses social philosophy and the problems of trust and response to moral wrongs The introduction by Catherine Hundleby situates Govier's research along the path of her unusual academic life While following the timeline of Govier's research publication in this collection the authors build on her work and suggest certain new connections between her argumentation theory and social philosophy A Practical Study of Argument first published in 1985 situates Govier among a distinct segment of informal logicians whose concerns about teaching reasoning to post secondary students orient their research Takuzo Konishi argues Moira Kloster evaluates Govier's progress in the challenge of providing critical thinking education to diverse and changing social contexts Shifting gears to social philosophy but still addressing education Laura Elizabeth Pinto explores the significance of Govier's work on trust for explaining the problem of audit culture for teaching At the centre of this volume social philosophy receives an abstract meta ethical defense from Linda Radzik Moving solidly into the domain of normative social philosophy Alice MacLachlan reconsiders Govier's condemnation of revenge by viewing it as a form of moral address but she notes how revenge as an act of communication contrasts with argumentation in lacking the respect that Govier maintains is intrinsic to argumentation MacLachlan ultimately agrees that revenge is morally indefensible The practical challenges of addressing others in the aftermath of wrongdoing especially in public contexts can make it difficult to distinguish between victims and combatants or wrongdoers Alistair Little and Wilhelm Verwoerd explain and Kathryn Norlock argues that forgiveness is psychologically vexed too People may recognize transformation to be in principle possible for all people Norlock argues and yet we may find the evidence regarding some particular evildoer sufficient to count that person as an exception Finally Govier responds to the various papers
