Topic 6: Incremental Analysis

Question 1

ThreePoint Sports Inc. manufactures basketballs for the Women's National Basketball Association (WNBA). For the first 6 months of 2020, the company reported the following operating results while operating at 80% of plant capacity and producing 120,000 units.

	Amount
Sales	$ 4,800,000
Cost of goods sold	3,600,000
Selling and administrative expenses	405,000
Net income	$ 795,000

Fixed costs for the period were cost of goods sold $960,000, and selling and administrative expenses $225,000. In July, normally a slack manufacturing month, ThreePoint Sports receives a special order for 10,000 basketballs at $28 each from the Greek Basketball Association (GBA). Acceptance of the order would increase variable selling and administrative expenses $0.75 per unit because of shipping costs but would not increase fixed costs and expenses.

Instructions:

- Prepare an incremental analysis for the special order.
- Should ThreePoint Sports Inc. accept the special order? Explain your answer.
- What is the minimum selling price on the special order to produce net income of $5.00 per ball?
- What non-financial factors should management consider in making its decision?

Question 2

The management of Zhou Manufacturing is trying to decide whether to continue manufacturing a part or to buy it from an outside supplier. The part, called CISCO, is a component of the company's finished product.

The following information was collected from the accounting records and production data for the year ending December 31, 2020:

- 8,000 units of CISCO were produced in the Machining Department
- Variable manufacturing costs applicable to the production of each CISCO unit were: direct materials HK$48.00, direct labor HK$43.00, indirect labor HK$4.30, utilities HK$4.00.
- Fixed manufacturing costs applicable to the production of CISCO were:

Cost Item	Direct	Allocated
Depreciation	HK$21,000	HK$ 9,000
Property taxes	5,000	2,000
Insurance	9,000	6,000
	HK$35,000	HK$17,000

All variable manufacturing and direct fixed costs will be eliminated if CISCO is purchased. Allocated costs will have to be absorbed by other production departments.

- The lowest quotation for 8,000 CISCO units from a supplier is HK$800,000.
