The Politics of English Language Education and Social Inequality Maya Kalyanpur, Padmini Bhuyan Boruah, Sarina Chugani Molina, Sunaina Shenoy, 2022-12-30 Based on policy analysis and empirical data this book examines the problematic consequences of colonial legacies of language policies and English language education in the multilingual contexts of the Global South Using a postcolonial lens the volume explores the raciolinguistics of language hierarchies that results in students from low income backgrounds losing their mother tongues without acquiring academic fluency in English Using findings from five major research projects the book analyzes the specific context of India where ambiguous language policies have led to uneasy tensions between the colonial language of English national and state languages and students linguistic diversity is mistaken for cognitive deficits when English is the medium of instruction in schools The authors situate their own professional and personal experiences in their efforts at dismantling postcolonial structures through reflective practice as teacher educators and present solutions of decolonial resistance to linguistic hierarchies that include critical pedagogical alternatives to bilingual education and opportunities for increased teacher agency Ultimately this timely volume will appeal to researchers scholars academics and students in the fields of international and comparative education English and literacy studies and language arts more broadly Those interested in English language learning in low income countries specifically will also find this book to be of benefit to their research

African American Literacies Unleashed Arnetha F. Ball, Ted Lardner, 2005 This pioneering study of African American students in the composition classroom lays the groundwork for reversing the cycle of underachievement that plagues linguistically diverse students African American Literacies Unleashed Vernacular English and the Composition Classroom approaches the issue of African American Vernacular English AAVE in terms of teacher knowledge and prevailing attitudes and it attempts to change current pedagogical approaches with a highly readable combination of traditional academic discourse and personal narratives Realizing that composition is a particular form of social practice that validates some students and excludes others Arnetha

Ball and Ted Lardner acknowledge that many African American students come to writing and composition classrooms with talents that are not appreciated. To empower and inform practitioners, administrators, teacher educators, and researchers, Ball and Lardner provide knowledge and strategies that will help unleash the potential of African American students and help them imagine new possibilities for their successes as writers. African American Literacies Unleashed asserts that necessary changes in theory and practice can be addressed by refocusing attention from teachers' knowledge deficits to the processes through which teachers engage information relevant to culturally informed pedagogy. Providing strategies for unlearning racism in the classroom and changing the status quo, this volume stresses the development and maintenance of a real sense of teaching efficacy, teachers' beliefs in their abilities to connect with and work effectively with all students, and reflective optimism. Teachers' informed expectations that all students have the potential to succeed.
