

How To Run a Tabletop Exercise

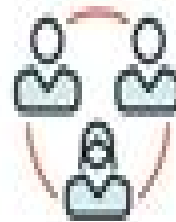

1

Design the exercise

Create an outline of your team's plan that you'll put to use in the session.

2

Run the experiment

Have your team act out the scenario and go through every step of your plan.

3

Reflect

Look back on what went well, what went wrong, and what you'd like to change for next time.

Elementary Schools Senior Centers Apartments Business Corporate Centers Farms First Responders and Government Agencies and refineries Finally there are templates your team can quickly complete to establish a simple disaster recovery plan in 40 hours or less A website is provided with links to over 100 additional resources to support teaching and leading your organization easily and effectively toward completion of your business recovery plan It includes over 20 videos templates and links to many other related files and lessons learned Why should you need to learn about Disaster Recovery Planning Every event requires a set of initial response activities These activities are usually termed as Incident Response or Emergency Response activities They more clearly define our instinctive reaction to how we provide for our safety and protection when an incident occurs These activities may also include an attempt to communicate with others family friends co workers or emergency officials Once an initial response has been achieved following an event a decision to implement either one or more of the organization s response plans is determined One of the obligations all enterprise executives share is ensuring the survival of the enterprise in the event of disaster either a natural disaster like Hurricane Sandy or an unnatural disaster like an act of terrorism Developing documenting and deploying an enterprise disaster recovery or business continuity plan can be a difficult time consuming exercise Testing a business continuity plan can be an expensive proposition As such many enterprise planners are embracing Tabletop exercises as a more economical approach to plan validation Tabletop tests are similar in concept to the training pilots receive in aircraft simulators and are useful in enabling business continuity personnel to practice their skills in a safe environment

Ransomware Tabletop Exercise for Government Agencies Jacqlynn C. Fields, 2020 Ransomware is a form of malicious software malware that attacks computer systems encrypts the victim s files and prevents the victim from accessing their data Ransomware attacks on critical information technology systems can cause loss of service and productivity State and local government agencies are especially vulnerable to attacks due to their limited access to resources and lower than standard industry pay which makes it difficult to recruit top talent This project submitted in partial fulfillment of the requirements for the degree Master of Science in Cybersecurity examines the issue of ransomware attacks Utilizing National Incident Management Systems protocols created by the Federal Emergency Management Agency for natural disaster responses this project creates tabletop training exercises to be used by cybersecurity professionals and other government officials in order to prepare for and respond to these incidents Trained facilitators will guide the participants through each exercise which concludes with a debriefing session This project is designed to inform and educate those participants in order to prepare them for an actual event This project includes a detailed description of how FEMA and NIMS operate in relation to disaster recovery and how that relates to designing a tabletop exercises geared towards responding to a ransomware attack This project focus on ransomware attacks against state and local government agencies since this is a growing situation that they are facing My goal with this project is to create a tabletop exercise for agencies to implement in their training programs to better prepare them for a ransomware attack on their agencies These tabletops are designed to simulate an actual response to a ransomware attack and will help agencies develop an idea of how prepared they are for an attack and make a plan for one

Readying a Company for a Catastrophic Event Paul C. Constant Jr., Paul C. Constant, 2010 Disasters are possible maybe inevitable Although their consequences may be uncontrollable the effects are to some extent and in many cases quite controllable if proper attention is given to planning for a disastrous event An organization cannot necessarily depend on help when a disaster strikes It must be prepared to tackle the disaster on its own This is especially true if the event is area wide regional or national in scope This book essentially is a stand alone publication that provides the how to ready an organization for a catastrophic or lesser event It is a template for an organization to internally develop in a cost effective manner a plan to cover prevention techniques to minimize potentially adverse consequences from a disastrous event how to prepare for an event such as planning training personnel and acquiring and maintaining the supplies and information that will be crucial in responding to and handling a crisis event as well as recovering from the event Strategic methods are given on these processes whether the event is natural technological or man made The disaster management system is defined through its seven principal tools Numerous examples are given to facilitate a better understanding of the disaster management system Required teams and task forces are identified as well as internal and external information that may be needed Guidelines are given for determining an organization s critical assets determining their vulnerability and rating and ranking critical assets Other areas covered include pre and post financial issues impact determination fiscal analyses and decisions needed to be made pertinent questions to be asked in order to make prudent decisions organizational areas of concern legal security HR business etc incident and crises responses to be undertaken plans to be developed training of personnel recovery and closeout operations tabletop exercise scenarios and much more
