BRIEF Seventh Edition

JON C.W. PEVEHOUSE
JOSHUA S. GOLDSTEIN

Jon C W Pevehouse

M. Rodwan Abouharb, Bernhard
Reinsberg

Jon C W Pevehouse:

Democracy from Above Jon C. Pevehouse, 2005-01-13 Few scholars have systematically examined whether the world outside a state's borders can influence the prospects for democracy. Jon Pevehouse argues that regional organizations such as the European Union and the Organization of American States can have an important role in both the transition to and the longevity of democracy. Combining statistical analysis and case study evidence, Pevehouse finds that regional organizations can be a potent force for instilling and protecting democracy throughout the world.

International Relations Jon C. W. Pevehouse, Joshua S. Goldstein, 2016-04-22 For courses in International Relations. Building a Foundation for International Relations enables readers to form a framework for analyzing the complex and constantly changing information that comprises our increasingly interconnected world. Opening readers' eyes to the positive and negative events that occur across the globe every day, authors Jon Pevehouse and Joshua Goldstein offer a strong foundation in current global affairs with insight into topics like foreign assistance in the developing world, the changing nature of war, and global poverty levels. The Eleventh Edition explores themes of international relationships from economic, social, and political standpoints. Through human-scale stories that touch on broader themes such as war and peace, humans and their environment, poverty, and development, and more, the book provides readers with relatable material to understand international relations.

Time Series Analysis for the Social Sciences Janet M. Box-Steffensmeier, John R. Freeman, Matthew P. Hitt, Jon C. W. Pevehouse, 2014-12-22 Time series or longitudinal data are ubiquitous in the social sciences. Unfortunately, analysts often treat the time series properties of their data as a nuisance rather than a substantively meaningful dynamic process to be modeled and interpreted Time Series Analysis for the Social Sciences provides accessible up to date instruction and examples of the core methods in time series econometrics Janet M Box Steffensmeier John R Freeman Jon C Pevehouse and Matthew P Hitt cover a wide range of topics including ARIMA models time series regression unit root diagnosis vector autoregressive models error correction models intervention models fractional integration ARCH models structural breaks and forecasting This book is aimed at researchers and graduate students who have taken at least one course in multivariate regression Examples are drawn from several areas of social science including political behavior elections international conflict criminology and comparative political economy IMF Lending M. Rodwan Abouharb, Bernhard Reinsberg, 2024-05-31 This Element argues that governments allocate adjustment burdens strategically to protect their supporters imposing adjustment costs upon the supporters of their opponents who then protest in response Using large N micro level survey data from three world regions and a global survey it discusses the local political economy of International Monetary Fund IMF lending It finds that opposition supporters in countries under IMF structural adjustment programs SAP are more likely to report that the IMF SAP increased economic hardships than government supporters and countries without IMF exposure In addition it finds that partisan gaps in IMF SAP evaluations widen in IMF program countries with an above median number of conditions suggesting that opposition supporters face heavier adjustment burdens and that opposition supporters who think SAPs made their lives worse are more likely to protest This title is also available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Global Governance in a World of Change Michael N. Barnett, Jon C. W. Pevehouse, Kal Raustiala, 2021-12-09 Global governance has come under increasing pressure since the end of the Cold War In some issue areas these pressures have led to significant changes in the architecture of governance institutions In others institutions have resisted pressures for change This volume explores what accounts for this divergence in architecture by identifying three modes of governance hierarchies networks and markets The authors apply these ideal types to different issue areas in order to assess how global governance has changed and why In most issue areas hierarchical modes of governance established after World War II have given way to alternative forms of organization focused on market or network based architectures Each chapter explores whether these changes are likely to lead to more or less effective global governance across a wide range of issue areas This provides a novel and coherent theoretical framework for analysing change in global governance This title is available as Open Access on Cambridge Core Building Pathways to Peace Nadine Ansorg, Sabine Kurtenbach, 2023-11-29 SSR is a key element of the transitions out of war aiming at the establishment of accountable and legitimate institutions able to prevent and sanction the use of violence While recognizing the need to include local actors donor policies still focus mostly on the state as a provider of security Second generation SSR has emphasized the need to include local communities and recognize the existence of non state actors in the provision of security and justice However recognition is not enough This Element promotes a radical re think of SSR in the context of conflict and war Guiding question for the considerations is how can security sector reform be set up and implemented to contribute to constructive and inclusive state society relations and build the path to long lasting peace This Element argues that a focus on functional equivalents minorities gender and human rights is key for the design implementation and success of SSR

The Human Rights Council Damian Etone,2020-01-27 This book examines the engagement of African states with the United Nations Human Rights Council s Universal Periodic Review UPR mechanism This human rights mechanism is known for its pacific and non confrontational approach to monitoring state human rights implementation Coming at the end of the first three cycles of the UPR the work offers a detailed analysis of the effectiveness of African states engagement and its potential impact It develops a framework which comprehensively evaluates aspects of states UPR engagement such as the pre review national consultation process and implementation of UPR recommendations which until recently have received little attention The book considers the potential for acculturation in engagement with the UPR and unpacks the impact of politics regionalism cultural relativism rights ritualism and civil society The work provides a useful guide for policymakers and international human rights law practitioners as well as a valuable resource for international legal and international relations academics and researchers

Time Series Analysis for the Social Sciences Janet M. Box-Steffensmeier,2014-12-22 This book provides instruction and examples of the core methods in time series econometrics drawing from several main fields of the social sciences

Principles of International Relations Joshua S. Goldstein,Jon C. Pevehouse,2008 This is a primer on the key theories used to analyze world politics The authors introduce students to both canonical and alternative theoretical perspectives ranging from realism liberalism and constructivism to gender theories critical theories and globalization
