Landscape And Western Art:

Landscape and Western Art Malcolm Andrews, 1999 This book explores many issues raised by the range of ideas and images of the natural world in Western art since the Renaissance The whole concept of landscape is examined as a representation of the relationship between the human and natural worlds Featured artists include Claude Freidrich Turner Cole and Ruisdael and many different forms of landscape art are addressed such as land art painting photography garden design panorama and cartography

Chinese Landscape Painting as Western Art History James Elkins, 2010-06-01 This is a provocative essay of reflections on traditional mainstream scholarship on Chinese art as done by towering figures in the field such as James Cahill and Wen Fong James Elkins offers an engaging and accessible survey of his personal journey encountering and interpreting Chinese art through Western scholars writings He argues that the search for optimal comparisons is itself a modern Western interest and that art history as a discipline is inherently Western in several identifiable senses Although he concentrates on art history in this book and on Chinese painting in particular these issues bear implications for Sinology in general and for wider questions about humanistic inquiry and historical writing Jennifer Purtle s Foreword provides a useful counterpoint from the perspective of a Chinese art specialist anticipating and responding to other specialists likely reactions to Elkins s hypotheses

A History of Landscape Painting in Western Art Alvey L. Jones, 1988

The Oxford History of Western Art Martin Kemp, 2000 The Oxford History of Western Art is the new authority on the development of visual culture in the West over the last 2700 years from the classical period to the end of the twentieth century OHWA is an innovative and challenging reappraisal of how the history of art can be presented and understood None of the currently available general histories of art offers the wealth of perspectives and cross media references of this book Through a carefully devised modular structure readers are given insights not only into how and why works of art were created but also how works in different media relate to each other across time Here uniquely is not the simple linear story of art but a rich series of stories told from varying viewpoints The founding principle of the book has been to use carefully selected groupings of pictures to give readers a sense of the visual texture of the various periods and episodes covered The 167 illustration groups supported by explanatory text and picture captions create a sequence of visual tours not merely a procession of individually great works viewed in isolation but juxtapositions of significant images that powerfully convey a sense of the visual environments in which works of art need to be viewed in order to be understood and appreciated The aim throughout has been to make the shape and nature of these visual presentations a stimulating and rewarding experience allowing readers to become active participants in the process of interpretation and synthesis Another key feature of the narrative is the re definition of traditional period boundaries Rather than relying on conventional labels such as Medieval Renaissance Baroque etc five major phases of significant historical change are established that unlock longer and more meaningful continuities The art of classical antiquity from c 600 BC to the fall of Rome in AD 410 The establishment of visual culture in Europe from 410 to 1527 the sack of papal Rome European visual regimes from 1527 to 1770 The era of revolutions 1770 to 1914 Modernism and after 1914 to 2000 This new framework shows how the major religious and secular functions of art have been forged sustained transformed revived and revolutionized over the ages how the institutions of Church and State have consistently aspired to make art in their own image and how the rise of art history itself has come to provide the dominant conceptual framework within which artists create patrons patronize collectors collect galleries exhibit dealers deal and art historians write The text has been written by a team of 50 specialist authors working under the direction of Professor Martin Kemp one of the UK's most distinguished art historians Whilst bringing their own expertise and vision to their sections each author was also asked to relate their text to a number of unifying themes and issues including written evidence physical contexts patronage viewing and reception techniques gender and racial issues centres and peripheries media and condition the notion of art and current presentations Though the coverage of topics focuses on European notions of art and their transplantation and transformation in North America space is also given to cross fertilizations with other traditions including the art of Latin America the Soviet Union India Africa and Afro Caribbean Australia and Canada Professor Kemp and his team similarly deal generously with the applied arts and reproductive media such as photography and prints The result is a vibrant vigorous and revolutionary account of Western art serving both as an inspirational introduction for the general reader and an authoritative source of reference and guidance for students

The Excursion and Wordsworth's Iconography Brandon C. Yen, 2018-09-20 This book considers William Wordsworth's use of iconography in his long poem The Excursion Through the iconographical approach the author steers a middle course between The Excursion's two very different interpretive traditions one focusing upon the poem's philosophical abstraction the other upon its touristic realism Fresh readings are also offered of Wordsworth's other major works including The Prelude Yen explores Wordsworth's iconography in The Excursion by tracing allusions and correspondences in an abundance of post 1789 and earlier verbal and pictorial sources as well as in Wordsworth's prose and poetry He analyses how the iconographical images in The Excursion contribute to and impose limitations on the overarching preoccupations of Wordsworth's writings particularly the themes of paradise lost and paradise regained in the post revolutionary context Shedding light on a vital aspect of Wordsworth's poetic method this study reveals the visual etymologies together with the nuances and rhetorical capacities of five categories of apparently collateral images envisioning rooting dwelling flowing and reflecting

Landscape into Eco Art Mark Cheetham, 2018-02-14 Dedicated to an articulation of the earth from broadly ecological perspectives eco art is a vibrant subset of contemporary art that addresses the widespread public concern with rapid climate change and related environmental issues In Landscape into Eco Art Mark Cheetham systematically examines connections and divergences between contemporary eco art land art of the 1960s and 1970s and the historical genre of landscape painting Through eight thematic case studies that illuminate what eco art means in practice reception and history Cheetham places the form in a

longer and broader art historical context He considers a wide range of media from painting sculpture and photography to artists films video sound work animation and installation and analyzes the work of internationally prominent artists such as Olafur Eliasson Nancy Holt Mark Dion and Robert Smithson In doing so Cheetham reveals eco art to be a dynamic extension of a long tradition of landscape depiction in the West that boldly enters into today s debates on climate science government policy and our collective and individual responsibility to the planet An ambitious intervention into eco criticism and the environmental humanities this volume provides original ways to understand the issues and practices of eco art in the Anthropocene Art historians humanities scholars and lay readers interested in contemporary art and the environment will find Cheetham s work valuable and invigorating Western Art, Western History Ron Tyler,2019-03-07 For nearly half a century celebrated historian Ron Tyler has researched interpreted and exhibited western American art This splendid volume gleaned from Tyler s extensive career of connoisseurship brings together eight of the author s most notable essays reworked especially for this volume Beautifully illustrated with more than 150 images Western Art Western History tells the stories of key artists both famous and obscure whose provocative pictures document the people and places of the nineteenth century American West The artists depicted in these pages represent a variety of personalities and artistic styles According to Tyler each of them responded in unique ways to the compelling and exotic drama that unfolded in the West during the nineteenth century an age of exploration surveying pleasure travel and scientific discovery In eloquent and engaging prose Tyler unveils a fascinating cast of characters including the little known German Russian artist Louis Choris who served as a draftsman on the second Russian circumnavigation of the globe the exacting and precise Swiss artist Karl Bodmer who accompanied Prince Maximilian of Wied on his sojourn up the Missouri River and the young American Alfred Jacob Miller whose seemingly frivolous and romantic depictions of western mountain men and American Indians remained largely unknown until the mid twentieth century Other artists showcased in this volume are John James Audubon George Caleb Bingham Alfred E Mathews and finally Frederic Remington who famously sought to capture the last glimmers of the old frontier A common thread throughout Western Art Western History is the important role that technology especially the development of lithography played in the dissemination of images As the author emphasizes many works by western artists are valuable not only as illustrations but as scientific documents imbued with cultural meaning By placing works of western art within these broader contexts Tyler enhances our understanding of their history and significance , Landscape Protection in International Law Amy Strecker,2018-08-29 Once the exclusive prerogative of domaine r serv landscape has gained increasing importance in international law in recent years Since the introduction of cultural landscapes within the UNESCO World Heritage Convention and particularly since the adoption of the European Landscape Convention ELC emphasis has shifted beyond a scenic preservationist approach towards a more dynamic human centred one The focus is not only on outstanding landscapes but also on the everyday and degraded landscapes where most people live and work Landscape is land shaped by people

after all and its protection management and planning have a number of implications for democracy human rights and spatial justice Despite these links however there has been little legal scholarship on the topic How does international law which deals for the most part with universality deal with something so region specific and particular as landscape What is the legal conception of landscape and what are the various roles played by international law in its protection Amy Strecker assesses the institutional framework for landscape protection analyses the interplay between landscape and human rights and links the etymology and theory of landscape with its articulation in law The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies Peter Howard, Ian Thompson, Emma Waterton, Mick Atha, 2013-02-15 Landscape is a vital synergistic concept which opens up ways of thinking about many of the problems which beset our contemporary world such as climate change social alienation environmental degradation loss of biodiversity and destruction of heritage As a concept landscape does not respect disciplinary boundaries Indeed many academic disciplines have found the concept so important it has been used as a qualifier that delineates whole sub disciplines landscape ecology landscape planning landscape archaeology and so forth In other cases landscape studies progress under a broader banner such as heritage studies or cultural geography Yet it does not always mean the same thing in all of these contexts The Routledge Companion to Landscape Studies offers the first comprehensive attempt to explore research directions into the many uses and meanings of landscape The Companion contains thirty nine original contributions from leading scholars within the field which have been divided into four parts Experiencing Landscape Landscape Culture and Heritage Landscape Society and Justice and Design and Planning for Landscape Topics covered range from phenomenological approaches to landscape to the consideration of landscape as a repository of human culture from ideas of identity and belonging to issues of power and hegemony and from discussions of participatory planning and design to the call for new imaginaries in a time of global and environmental crisis Each contribution explores the future development of different conceptual and theoretical approaches as well as recent empirical contributions to knowledge and understanding Collectively they encourage dialogue across disciplinary barriers and reflection upon the implications of research findings for local national and international policy in relation to landscape This Companion provides up to date critical reviews of state of the art perspectives across this multifaceted field embracing disciplines such as anthropology archaeology cultural studies geography landscape planning landscape architecture countryside management forestry heritage studies ecology and fine art It serves as an invaluable point of reference for scholars researchers and graduate students alike engaging in the field of landscape studies A Cultural History of Ideas in the Age of Enlightenment Jack R. Contested Landscapes Barbara Bender, Margot Winer, 2020-05-27

Landscapes are not just backdrops to human action people make them and are made by them How people understand and engage with their material world depends upon particularities of time and place These understandings are dynamic variable contradictory and open ended Landscapes are thus always evolving and are often volatile and contested They are also always on the move people may or may not be rooted but they have legs From prehistoric times onwards people have travelled but the process of people on the move as tourists or on global business as migrant workers or political or economic refugees has vastly accelerated How and why do people who share the same landscape have different and often violently opposed ways of understanding its significance How do people on the move make sense of the unfamiliar How do they create a sense of place How do they rework the memories of places left behind There is nothing easeful about the landscapes discussed in this book which are often harsh edged and troubled both socially and politically The contributors tackle contested notions of landscape to explain the key role it plays in creating identity and shaping human behaviour This landmark study offers an important contribution towards an understanding of the complexity of landscape
