million women and 1.2 million children TB is present in all countries and age groups The Immune Mechanisms of Protection Against Mycobacterium tuberculosis Centers IMPAc TB program is an initiative established by NIAID in 2019 to elucidate the immune responses needed to protect against infection with M.tb The program also aims to develop a better understanding of various pathogenesis aspects of TB infection such as latent infection and transition to active TB disease To accomplish these objectives multidisciplinary research teams at Harvard T.H. Chan School of Public Health Boston and Seattle Children's Research Institute were selected to conduct immunological analyses of tissue specific and systemic responses in small animals non human primates NHPs and humans to identify the key immune responses needed for protection against M.tb identify immunologic targets that can be used to improve TB vaccine strategies determine the impact of human immunodeficiency virus HIV simian immunodeficiency virus SIV and nontuberculous mycobacteria NTM infections on relevant immune responses to M.tb infection or TB vaccines and identify how bacterial immune evasion mechanisms subvert immune responses to M.tb This Research Topic will provide Center Objectives and Goals as well as some data that have been generated since execution of the three IMPAc TB contracts In this Research Topic we discuss important questions including What are the mediators of the complex immune responses required to prevent M.tb infection or active TB disease What are the common protective correlates of immunity against M.tb in escalating preclinical animal models of TB How does NTM exposure affect the rational design and development of candidate vaccines that generate robust levels of durable protective immunity against TB What is the role of Systems Immunology in the context of investigating immune correlates of protection against M.tb Why is it important to develop standardized reagents and standard operating procedures to profile immune responses in preclinical and human experimental medicine TB studies Are transcriptional signatures predictive What benefits are afforded by including the guinea pig model in the TB preclinical vaccine evaluation pipeline How to manage data across consortiums generating large datasets The Topic Editors RC SF WB JF declare that they are supported by the NIH on this IMPAc TB collaboration
