Applied Puppetry Matt Smith,2024-10-03 Drawing on thirty years of making theatre with objects this field defining book maps the terrain of applied puppetry Through a range of case studies both personal and practical Matt Smith offers a reflective and engaging study which provides makers thinkers and students alike with a toolkit for thinking about and making puppetry in community settings Through eight chapters Smith muses on the nature of creativity explores approaches to puppetry through ecology and considers how puppets and objects affect the act of making and in turn how they affect those who make use and experience them in performance Along the way Applied Puppetry offers practical exercises in theatre making demonstrates the political power of puppetry beyond borders and interrogates the limitations and possibilities of puppetry and object theatre in local communities volatile contexts and difficult circumstances Federal Law Review ,2005 Cross-Modal Learning: Adaptivity, Prediction and Interaction Jianwei Zhang,Stefan Wermter,Fuchun Sun,Changshui Zhang,Andreas K. Engel,Brigitte Röder,Xiaolan Fu,Gui Xue,2023-02-02 The purpose of this Research Topic is to reflect and discuss links between neuroscience psychology computer science and robotics with regards to the topic of cross modal learning which has in recent years emerged as a new area of interdisciplinary research The term cross modal learning refers to the synergistic synthesis of information from multiple sensory modalities such that the learning that occurs within any individual sensory modality can be enhanced with information from one or more other modalities Cross modal learning is a crucial component of adaptive behavior in a continuously changing world and examples are ubiquitous such as learning to grasp and manipulate objects learning to walk learning to read and write learning to understand language and its referents etc In all these examples visual auditory somatosensory or other modalities have to be integrated and learning must be cross modal In fact the broad range of acquired human skills are cross modal and many of the most advanced human capabilities such as those involved in social cognition require learning from the richest combinations of cross modal information In contrast even the very best systems in Artificial Intelligence AI and robotics have taken only tiny steps in this direction Building a system that composes a global perspective from multiple distinct sources types of data and sensory modalities is a grand challenge of AI yet it is specific enough that it can be studied quite rigorously and in such detail that the prospect for deep insights into these mechanisms is quite plausible in the near term Cross modal learning is a broad interdisciplinary topic that has not yet coalesced into a single unified field Instead there are many separate fields each tackling the concerns of cross modal learning from its own perspective with currently little overlap We anticipate an accelerating trend towards integration of these areas and we intend to contribute to that integration By focusing on cross modal learning the proposed Research Topic can bring together recent progress in artificial intelligence robotics psychology and neuroscience

Singing Utopia Ben Macpherson,2024-12-03 Singing Utopia is an original study of voice in musical theatre Rather than focusing on how actors sing or analysing voices using established approaches found in opera studies this book offers readers ways to understand musical theatre voices from a cultural perspective It argues that musical theatre singing allows listeners and audiences to escape their everyday lives and that voices can be utopian It then considers what this means and uncovers some paradoxes and difficulties in this idea Introducing a new set of terms it provides a way to listen to think about and even perform voice in popular musical theatre

Nordic Exposures Arne Lunde,2011-07-01 Nordic Exposures explores how Scandinavian whiteness and ethnicity functioned in classical Hollywood cinema between and during the two world wars Scandinavian identities could seem mutable and constructed at moments while at other times they were deployed as representatives of an essential biological and natural category As Northern European Protestants Scandinavian immigrants and emigres assimilated into the mainstream rights and benefits of white American identity with comparatively few barriers or obstacles Yet Arne Lunde demonstrates that far from simply manifesting a normative unmarked whiteness Scandinavianness in mass immigration America and in Hollywood cinema of the twentieth century could be hyperwhite provisionally off white or not even white at all Lunde investigates key silent films such as Technicolor s The Viking 1928 Victor Sjöström s He Who Gets Slapped 1924 and Mauritz Stiller s Hotel Imperial 1927 The crises of Scandinavian foreign voice and the talkie revolution are explored in Greta Garbo s first sound film Anna Christie 1930 The author also examines Warner Oland s long career of Asian racial masquerade most famously as Chinese detective Charlie Chan as well as Hollywood s and Third Reich Cinema s war over assimilating the Nordic female star in the personae of Garbo Sonja Henie Ingrid Bergman Kristina Soderbaum and Zarah Leander

The Times-picayune Index ,2001 Pet Projects Elizabeth Young,2019-12-17 In Pet Projects Elizabeth Young joins an analysis of the representation of animals in nineteenth century fiction taxidermy and the visual arts with a first person reflection on her own scholarly journey Centering on Margaret Marshall Saunders a Canadian woman writer once famous for her animal novels and incorporating Young s own experience of a beloved animal s illness this study highlights the personal and intellectual stakes of a pet project of cultural criticism Young assembles a broad archive of materials beginning with Saunders s novels and widening outward to include fiction nonfiction photography and taxidermy She coins the term first dog voice to describe the narrative technique of novels such as Saunders's Beautiful Joe written in the first person from the perspective of an animal She connects this voice to contemporary political issues revealing how animal fiction such as Saunders's reanimates nineteenth century writing about both feminism and slavery Highlighting the prominence of taxidermy in the late nineteenth century she suggests that Saunders transforms taxidermic techniques in surprising ways that provide new forms of authority for women Young adapts Freud to analyze literary representations of mourning by and for animals and she examines how Canadian writers including Saunders use animals to explore race ethnicity and national identity Her wide ranging investigation incorporates twenty first as well as nineteenth century works of literature and culture including recent art using taxidermy and contemporary film Throughout she reflects on the tools she uses to craft her analyses examining the state of scholarly fields from feminist criticism to animal studies With a lively first person voice that highlights experiences usually concealed in academic studies by scholarly discourse such as detours zigzags roadblocks and personal experience this unique and innovative book will delight animal enthusiasts and academics in the fields of animal studies gender studies American studies and Canadian studies The Guardian Index, 2000 [D.M.
