Dont Let Me Be Lonely An American Lyric:

Don't Let Me Be Lonely Claudia Rankine, 2024-07-09 A brilliant and unsparing examination of America in the early twenty first century Claudia Rankine's Don't Let Me Be Lonely invents a new genre to confront the particular loneliness and rapacious assault on selfhood that our media have inflicted upon our lives Fusing the lyric the essay and the visual Rankine negotiates the enduring anxieties of medicated depression race riots divisive elections terrorist attacks and ongoing wars doom scrolling through the daily news feeds that keep us glued to our screens and that have come to define our age First published in 2004 Don't Let Me Be Lonely is a hauntingly prescient work one that has secured a permanent place in American literature This new edition is presented in full color with updated visuals and text including a new preface by the author and matches the composition of Rankine's best selling and award winning Citizen and Just Us as the first book in her acclaimed American trilogy Don't Let Me Be Lonely is a crucial guide to surviving a fractured and fracturing American consciousness a book of rare and vital honesty complexity and presence Rethinking the North American Long Poem Ridvan Askin, Julius Greve, 2024-12-15 For centuries critics poets poet scholars and philosophers have either openly proclaimed or tacitly assumed the long poem as the highest expression of literary ambition and excellence Rethinking the North American Long Poem focuses on the North American variant of this notorious form notorious because of its often forbidding and difficult character particularly with respect to the dialectics of content and form aesthetics and politics matter and genre In nine essays and a contextual introduction the editors and contributors scrutinize seminal long poems by North American writers including Walt Whitman's Song of Myself Ezra Pound's The Cantos Muriel Rukeyser's The Book of the Dead and Charles Olson's The Maximus Poems They also explore recent efforts that have redefined or reopened the case of the long poem including Rachel Blau DuPlessis's Drafts M. NourbeSe Philip's Zong and Claudia Rankine's Citizen Taking the categories of form matter and experiment as frames of conceptual reference the book examines the ways in which material and immaterial aspects of literary practice and the philosophically and politically inscribed duality of experience and experiment are negotiated in and by North American long poems from the nineteenth century to the present American Hybrid Poetics Amy Moorman Robbins, 2014-07-21 American Hybrid Poetics explores the ways in which hybrid poetics a playful mixing of disparate formal and aesthetic strategies have been the driving force in the work of a historically and culturally diverse group of women poets who are part of a robust tradition in contesting the dominant cultural order Amy Moorman Robbins examines the ways in which five poets Gertrude Stein Laura Mullen Alice Notley Harryette Mullen and Claudia Rankine use hybridity as an implicitly political strategy to interrupt mainstream American language literary genres and visual culture and expose the ways in which mass culture in the twentieth and twenty first centuries has had a powerfully standardizing impact on the collective American imagination By forcing encounters between incompatible traditions consumer culture with the avant garde low culture forms with experimental poetics prose poetry with linguistic subversiveness these poets bring together radically competing ideologies and highlight their implications for lived experience Robbins argues that it is precisely because these poets have mixed forms that their work has gone largely unnoticed by leading members and critics in experimental poetry circles The Academic Avant-Garde Kimberly Quiogue Andrews,2023-01-10 The surprising story of the relationship between experimental poetry and literary studies In The Academic Avant Garde Kimberly Quiogue Andrews makes a provocative case for the radical poetic possibilities of the work of literary scholarship and lays out a foundational theory of literary production in the context of the university In her examination of the cross pollination between the analytic humanities and the craft of poetry writing Andrews tells a bold story about some of today s most innovative literary works This pathbreaking intervention into contemporary American literature and higher education demonstrates that experimental poetry not only reflects nuanced concern about creative writing as a discipline but also uses the critical techniques of scholarship as a cornerstone of poetic practice Structured around the concepts of academic labor such as teaching and methodological work such as theorizing the book traces these practices in the works of authors ranging from Claudia Rankine to John Ashbery providing fresh readings of some of our era s most celebrated and difficult poets The Cambridge Companion to The Essay Kara Wittman,Evan Kindley,2022-11-03 The book studies the history and theory of the essay and its social political and aesthetic contexts This Is the Honey Kwame Alexander,2024-01-30 A breathtaking poetry collection on hope heart and heritage from the most prominent and promising Black poets and writers of our time edited by 1 New York Times bestselling author Kwame Alexander In this comprehensive and vibrant poetry anthology bestselling author and poet Kwame Alexander curates a collection of contemporary anthems at turns tender and piercing and deeply inspiring throughout Featuring work from well loved poets such as Rita Dove Jericho Brown Warsan Shire Ross Gay Tracy K Smith Terrance Hayes Morgan Parker and Nikki Giovanni This Is the Honey is a rich and abundant offering of language from the poets giving voice to generations of resilient joy each incantation as Mahogany L Browne puts it in her titular poem is a jubilee of a people dreaming wildly This essential collection in the tradition of Dudley Randall s The Black Poets and E Ethelbert Miller s In Search of Color Everywhere contains poems exploring joy love origin race resistance and praise Jacqueline A Trimble likens Black woman joy to indigo tassels foxes and peacock plumes Tyree Daye Nate Marshall and Elizabeth Acevedo reflect on the meaning of home through food from Cuban rice and beans to fried chicken gizzards Clint Smith and Cameron Awkward Rich enfold us in their intimate musings on love and devotion From a jewel in the hand Patricia Spears Jones to butter melting in small pools Elizabeth Alexander This Is the Honey drips with poignant and delightful imagery music and raised fists Fresh memorable and deeply moving this definitive collection a must have for any lover of language and a gift for our time Sacrifice and Modern War Literature Alex Houen,Jan-Melissa Schramm,2018 This book explores how writers from the early nineteenth century to the present have addressed the intimacy of sacrifice and war Each chapter presents fresh insights into the literature of a

Visceral Maia Dolphin-Krute, 2017 Memoirs about being sick are popular and everywhere and only ever contribute to pop narratives of illness as a single event or heroic struggle or journey Visceral: Essays on Illness as Metaphor is not that Visceral to the extent that it is a memoir is a record not of illness but of the research project being sick became While rooted firmly in critical disability and queer practices the use of personal narratives opens these approaches up to new ways of writing the body ultimately a body that is at once theoretical and unavoidably physical A body where everything is visceral so theory must be too From the gothic networks of healthcare bureaucracy and hospital philanthropy to the proliferation of wellness media off label usage of drugs and running off to live a life with these essays move fluidly through theoretical and physical anger curiosity and surprise Arguing for disability rights that attend to the theoretical as much as the physical this is Illness Not As Metaphor: Being Sick and Time and The Body in Actual Pain as one A sick body of text that is and is not in direct correspondence to an actual sick body Visceral is an unrelenting examination of chronic illness that turns towards the theoretical only to find itself in the realms of the biological and autobiographical because how much theory can a body take Raised by Wolves Graywolf Press, 2024-01-23 Raised by Wolves is a unique and vibrant gathering of poems from Graywolf Press's fifty years. The anthology is conceived as a community document: fifty Graywolf poets have selected fifty poems by Graywolf poets offering insightful prose reflections on their selections. What arises is a choral arrangement of voices and lineages across decades, languages, styles, and divergences, inspiring a shared vision for the future. Included here are established and emerging poets, international poets, and poets in translation, and many of the most significant poets of our time. There are extraordinary pairings: Tracy K. Smith on Linda Gregg, Vijay Seshadri on Tomas Transtr mer translated by Robert Bly, Natalie Diaz on Mary Szybist, Diane Seuss on D. A. Powell, Elizabeth Alexander on Christopher Gilbert, Ilya Kaminsky on Venus Khoury Ghata translated by Marilyn Hacker, Mai Der Vang on Larry Levis, Layli Long Soldier on Solmaz Sharif, Solmaz Sharif on Claudia Rankine. In these poets' championing of others, fascinating threads emerge. Stephanie Burt writes on Monica Youn, who selects Harryette Mullen, who writes on Liu Xiaobo translated by Jeffrey Yang, who chooses Fanny Howe, who writes on Carl Phillips, who selects Danez Smith, who chooses Donika Kelly, who writes on Natasha Trethewey. With an introduction by Graywolf publisher Carmen Gimenez, Raised by Wolves is an echoing outward of poetry's possibilities.

Communicative Biocapitalism Olivia Banner, 2017-11-20 The Precision Medicine Initiative, Apple's HealthKit, the FitBit: the booming digital health industry asserts that digital networks, tools, and the scientific endeavors they support will usher in a new era of medicine centered around the voice of the patient. But whose voices do such tools actually solicit? And through what perspective will those voices be heard? Digital health tools are marketed as neutral devices made to help users take responsibility for their health. Yet digital technologies are not neutral; they are developed from an existing set of assumptions about their potential users and contexts for use, and they reflect dominant ideologies of health, disability, gender, and race. Using patient networking websites, the Quantified Self, and online breast cancer narratives, Communicative Biocapitalism examines the cultural, technological, economic, and rhetorical logics that shape the voice of the patient in digital health to identify how cultural understandings and social locations of race, gender, and disability shape whose voices are elicited and how they are interpreted.

Freedom Time Anthony Reed, 2014-12 In Freedom Time, Anthony Reed reclaims the power of black experimental poetry and prose by arguing that if literature fundamentally serves the human need for freedom in expression, then readers and critics must see it as something other than a reflection of the politics of social protest and identity formation. Prior to the successful campaigns against Jim Crow segregation in the U.S. and colonization in the Caribbean, literary politics seemed much more obviously interventionist. As more African Americans and Afro-Caribbean writers gained access to formal political power, more writing emerged whose political concerns went beyond improving racial representation, appealing for social recognition, raising consciousness, or commenting on the political disillusion and fragmentation of the post-segregation and post-colonial moments. Through formal innovation and abstraction, writers increasingly pushed the limits of representation and expression in order to extend the limits of thought and literary possibility Reed offers a theoretical account of this new black experimental writing which is at once a literary historical development and a concept with which to analyze the ways writing engages race and the possibilities of expression One of his key interventions is arguing that form drives the politics literature not vice versa Through extended analyses of works by N H Pritchard NourbeSe Philip Kamau Brathwaite Claudia Rankine Douglas Kearney Harryette Mullen Suzan Lori Parks and Nathaniel Mackey Freedom Time draws out the political implication of their innovative approaches to literary aesthetics

Forms of a World Walt Hunter, 2019-01-08 What happens when we think of poetry as a global literary form while also thinking the global in poetic terms Forms of a World shows how the innovations of contemporary poetics have been forged through the transformations of globalization across five decades Sensing the changes wrought by neoliberalism before they are made fully present poets from around the world have creatively intervened in global processes by remaking poetry's formal repertoire In experimental reinventions of the ballad the prospect poem and the ode Hunter excavates a new globalized interpretation of the ethical and political relevance of forms Forms of a World contends that poetry's role is not only to make visible thematically the violence of global dispossessions but to renew performatively the missing conditions for intervening within these processes Poetic acts the rhetoric of possessing belonging exhorting and prospecting address contemporary conditions that render social life ever more precarious Examining an eclectic group of Anglophone poets from Seamus Heaney and Claudia Rankine to Natasha Trethewey and Kofi Awoonor Hunter elaborates the range of ways that contemporary poets exhort us to imagine forms of social life and enable political intervention unique to but beyond the horizon of the contemporary global situation Contested Records Michael Leong, 2020-05-13 Why have so many contemporary poets turned to source material from newspapers to governmental records as inspiration for their poetry How can citational poems offer a means of social engagement Contested Records analyzes how some of the most well known twenty first century North American poets work with fraught documents Whether it's the legal paperwork detailing the murder of 132 African captives state transcriptions of the last words of death row inmates or testimony from miners and rescue workers about a fatal mine disaster author Michael Leong reveals that much of the power of contemporary poetry rests in its potential to select adapt evaluate and extend public documentation Examining the use of documents in the works of Kenneth Goldsmith Vanessa Place Amiri Baraka Claudia Rankine M NourbeSe Philip and others Leong reveals how official records can evoke a wide range of emotions from hatred to veneration from indifference to empathy from desire to disgust He looks at techniques such as collage plagiarism re reporting and textual outsourcing and evaluates some of the most loved and reviled contemporary North American poems Ultimately Leong finds that if bureaucracy and documentation have the power to police and traumatize through the exercise of state power then so too can document based poetry function as an unofficial counterhegemonic and popular practice that authenticates marginalized experiences at the fringes of our cultural memory Forms of Late Modernist Lyric Edward Allen, 2021 This volume argues that our oldest styles of poetic articulation the elegy the ode the hymn have figured all too briefly in modern genealogies of the lyric poem and have proved especially popular among experimental poets since 1945 Their recourse to familiar forms and shapes of thought should prompt us to reconsider late modernism as a crucial phase in the evolving history of lyric

Marking Whiteness Sonita Sarker, Jennifer Nesbit, 2025-09-01 The collection is divided into three parts to address the practices of Whiteness in modernist studies Aesthetics Intersectionality and Inter disciplinary Practice We begin with aesthetics because modernism is the aesthetic produced in dynamic relation to the cultural formations of modernity perceived rapid changes in labor transportation technology and perceptions of body mind and even character Essays in this section examine how the production of Whiteness is baked in as a positive value in assessing the value of cultural production The second section focuses on the embodiment of Whiteness primarily through the gendered and racialized female body as a deflective practice that unmarks Whiteness while making it central to cultural crises around morality national borders and futurity The third section considers the tacit prioritization of Whiteness as a positive value through institutional structures and pedagogical practice these case studies ruminate on the generative potential of isolating and marking these effects In each essay scholars examine the stakes of marking Whiteness as a category of analysis distinct from yet wholly imbricated with racial categorization given the potential for reification inherent in all strategies of marking

Lyric and Liberalism in the Age of American Empire Hugh Foley, 2022-08-15 What is the difference between the I of a poem the lyric subject and the liberal subject of rights Lyric and Liberalism in the Age of American Empire uses this question to re examine the work of five major American poets changing our understanding of their writing and the field of post war American poetry Through extended readings of the work of Elizabeth Bishop Robert Lowell Amiri Baraka John Ashbery and Jorie Graham Hugh Foley shows how poets have imagined liberalism as a problem for poetry Foley s book offers a new approach to ongoing debates about the nature of lyric by demonstrating the entanglement of ideas about the lyric poem with the development of twentieth century liberal discussions of individuality Arguing that the nature of American empire in this period underpinned by the discourse of individual rights forced poets to reckon with this entanglement it demonstrates how this reckoning helped to shape poetry in the post war period By tracing the ways a lyric poem performs personhood and the ways that this person can be distinguished from the individual envisioned by post war liberalism Foley shows how each poet stages a critique of liberalism from inside the standpoint of lyric This book demonstrates the capacities of poetry for rethinking its own relation to history and politics providing a new perspective on a vital era of American poetry
