Orientalism, Philology, and the Illegibility of the Modern World Henning Trüper, 2020-02-20 Orientalism Philology and the Illegibility of the Modern World examines the philology of orientalism It discusses how European and in particular German orientalism has influenced the modern understanding of how language accesses reality and offers a critical reinterpretation of orientalism ontology and modernity This book pushes an innovative focus on the global history of knowledge as entangled between European and non European cultures Drawing from formal oriental studies epigraphy travel literature and theology Henning Trüper explores how the attempt to appropriate the world by attaching language to the notion of a real reference in the world ultimately produced a crisis of meaning In the process Trüper convincingly challenges received understandings of the intellectual genealogies of oriental scholarship and its practices This ground breaking study is a meaningful contribution to current discourses about philology and significantly adds to our understanding about the relationship between discursive practices cultural agendas and political systems As such it will be of immense value to scholars researching Europe and the modern world the history of philology and those seeking to historicise the prevalent debates in theory
