Unwilling Executioner Andrew Pepper, 2016-04-08 What gives crime fiction its distinctive shape and form What makes it such a compelling vehicle of social and political critique Unwilling Executioner argues that the answer lies in the emerging genre's complex and intimate relationship with the bureaucratic state and modern capitalism and the contradictions that ensue once the state assumes control of the criminal justice system This study offers a dramatic new interpretation of the genre's emergence and evolution over a three hundred year period and as a genuinely transnational phenomenon From its roots in the tales of criminality circulated widely in Paris and London in the early eighteenth century this book examines the extraordinary richness diversity and complexity of the genre's subsequent thematizations of crime and policing moving from France and Britain and from continental Europe and the United States to other parts of the globe In doing so it offers new ways of reading established crime novelists like Gaboriau Doyle Hammett and Simenon beyond their national contexts and an impulse to characterize their work as either straightforwardly radical or conservative It also argues for the centrality of writers like Defoe Gay Godwin Vidocq Morrison and more recently Manchette Himes and Sj wall and Wahl to a project where crime and policing are rooted and shown to be rooted in the social and economic conditions of their time These are all deeply political writers even if their novels exhibit no interest in directly promoting political causes or parties The result is an agile layered and far reaching account of the crime story's ambivalent relationship to the justice system and its move to complicate our understanding of what crime is and how society is policed and for whose benefit

Hatmaker,2020-06-02 Noir Affect proposes a new understanding of noir as defined by negative affect This new understanding emphasizes that noir is first and foremost an affective disposition rather than a specific cycle of films or novels associated with a given time period or national tradition Instead the essays in Noir Affect trace noir's negativity as it manifests in different national contexts from the United States to Mexico France and Japan and in a range of different media including films novels video games and manga The forms of affect associated with noir are resolutely negative These are narratives centered on loss sadness rage shame guilt regret anxiety humiliation resentment resistance and refusal Moreover noir often asks us to identify with those on the losing end of cultural narratives especially the criminal the lost the compromised the haunted the unlucky the cast aside and the erotically perverse including those whose greatest erotic attachment is to death Drawing on contemporary work in affect theory while also re orienting some of its core assumptions to address the resolutely negative affects narrated by noir Noir Affect is invested in thinking through the material bodily social and political economic impact of the various forms noir affect takes If much affect theory asks us to consider affect as a space of possibility and becoming Noir Affect asks us to consider affect as also a site of repetition dissolution redundancy unmaking and decay It also asks us to consider the way in which the affective dimensions of noir enable the staging of various forms of social antagonism including those associated with racial gendered sexual and economic inequality Featuring an Afterword by the celebrated noir scholar Paula Rabinowitz and essays by an array of leading scholars Noir Affect aims to fundamentally re orient our understanding of noir Contributors Alexander Dunst Sean Grattan Peter Hitchcock Justus Nieland Andrew Pepper Ignacio Sánchez Prado Brian Rejack Pamela Thoma Kirin Wachter Grene Historical Dictionary of Crime Films Geoff Mayer,2012-09-13 The crime film genre consists of detective films gangster films suspense thrillers film noir and caper films and is produced throughout the world Crime film was there at the birth of cinema and it has accompanied cinema over more than a century of history passing from silent films to talkies from black and white to color The genre includes such classics as The Maltese Falcon The Godfather Gaslight The French Connection and Serpico as well as more recent successes like Seven Days and L.A. global society and the possibility of imagining alternative ways of living outside of capitalism Using a range of sociological and philosophical theories to write the first intellectual history of the capitalist utopia in English Featherstone provokes the reader into thinking about ways of moving beyond this model of organising social life through sociological modes of thought Indeed this enlightening volume seeks to show how utopian thinking about the way people should live has been progressively captured by capitalism with the result that it is difficult to imagine alternatives to capitalist society today Presenting sociology and sociological thinking as a utopian alternative to the capitalist utopia Planet Utopia will appeal to postgraduate and postdoctoral students interested in subjects including Sociology Social Theory Cultural Studies Cultural Theory and Continental Philosophy
