Black Theology and the Menace of Racial Apocalypse Cyril Orji, 2025-04-30 Racism evolves Black theology must be adaptable For this reason Black Theology and the Menace of Racial Apocalypse argues that racism must take centre stage in Black theology because racism is an existential dread that inevitably confronts the Black person in their existential situation This book unfolds in two interwoven steps First it delves into the complex history of Black theology examining its development across its first second and third waves This critical study expositis the discomfoting idea that something is missing and that this something makes Black theology seem a little deficient as noted in the pioneering works of James Baldwin and other contemporary thinkers challenging the hesitation to engage with ideas outside Black experience The second step draws from multidisciplinary sources including brain research on cognitive bias and psychological works on implicit bias and microaggressions Effectively utilizing the methodological work of Bernard Lonergan the book argues that incorporating white sources can enhance Black theology s articulation against racism In doing so the book demonstrates how this interpretative mechanism can help overcome societal ideological differences as well as help meaningfully address the ever evolving problem of racism for Christian theology

Rehabilitation Work Hannah Graham, 2016-05-26

Conversations about rehabilitation and how to address the drugs crime nexus have been dominated by academics and policymakers without due recognition of the experience and knowledge of practitioners Not enough is known about the cultures and conditions in which rehabilitation occurs Why is it that significant numbers of practitioners are leaving the alcohol and other drugs field while disproportionate numbers of criminal justice practitioners are on leave Rehabilitation Work provides a unique insight into what happens behind the closed doors of prisons probation and parole offices drug rehabs and recovery support services drawing on research from Australia This book is among the first to provide a dedicated empirical examination of the interface between the concurrent processes of desistance from crime and recovery from substance misuse and the implications for rehabilitation work Hannah Graham uses practitioner interviews workforce data and researcher observations to reveal compelling differences between official accounts of rehabilitation work and what practitioners actually do in practice Practitioners express a desire to be the change rather than being subject to change actively co producing progressive reforms instead of passively coping with funding cutbacks and interagency politics Applied examples of how practitioners collaborate lead and innovate in the midst of challenging work are complemented with evocative illustrations of insider humour and professional resilience This book is a key resource for students academics and practitioners across fields including criminology and criminal justice social work psychology counselling and addiction treatment

Teachers' Work and Emotions Kwok Kuen Tsang, 2018-10-26 Being a teacher is often thought of as an emotionally fulfilling job with many positive experiences in watching students grow and mature However as Tsang's research shows there are plenty of negative emotional experiences in this line of work as well Given the recent attention towards mental health and well being this book addresses these negative experiences and provides recommendations for dealing with them Focusing on teachers in Hong Kong Tsang investigates the social mechanisms that arouse such negative emotional experiences otherwise known as caam2 He asserts that these feelings are socially constructed and it is only by understanding the causes and feelings can we begin to improve teachers emotional well being and teaching quality Using a theoretical framework based on a critical review and synthesis of five existing perspectives including labor process perspective school administration perspective emotional labor perspective social interaction perspective and teacher identity perspective Tsang does precisely that exploring the social process of these emotional experiences and the interplay between teacher agency and social structure These findings go a long way in ameliorating teacher experiences all over the world Varcarolis'
