The Athenian Agora, 1953 The Athenian Agora John McK. Camp II, Craig Mauzy, 2010-02-28 This definitive guide to the archaeological remains in the civic and commercial center of ancient Athens is an essential companion to the interested visitor as well as to students of the topography of the classical city A large scale map provides an overview of the site keyed to descriptions and plans of every monument still visible from the majestic Temple of Hephaistos to the utilitarian Great Drain The fifth edition retains many of the elements that made the earlier editions so popular but also takes full account of new discoveries and recent scholarship It is intended for visitors touring the site and is arranged topographically monument by monument Also included are an overview of the historical development of the site and a history of the excavations A companion guide to the Agora Museum in the Stoa of Attalos is also available The Athenian Agora Museum Guide by Laura Gawlinski 2014 The Ancient Theatre at Kalydon in Aitolia Rune Frederiksen, Olympia Vikatou, 2023-08-24 The theatre at Kalydon in Aitolia known only since a few decades has already attracted a lot of attention due to its square orchestra and rectilinear benches for seating The Danish Greek collaborative project responsible for investigating the theatre presents in this two volume publication results of the excavation and documentation including all finds such as tile pottery metals and coins made during the excavations The traditional analysis of the building is supplemented by an archaeoacoustic analysis comparing acoustic advantages and disadvantages between the square and semicircular design Pottery in the

Archaeological Record Mark L. Lawall, John Lund, 2011-04-20 Archaeologists are increasingly focusing on the transformation of artifacts from their use in the past to their appearance in the archaeological record trying to identify the natural and cultural processes that created the archaeological record we study today In Classical Archaeology attention to these processes received an impetus by J Theodore Pena's 2007 monograph Roman Pottery in the Archaeological Record which considered how ceramic vessels were made used and stayed in use serving various secondary purposes before finally being discarded Pena relied mainly on evidence from Roman Italy which raises the question of the impact of similar cultural forces on pottery from other periods and places His work accentuates the need to continue the process of building and developing explicit interpretive models of ceramic life histories in Mediterranean archaeology With a view to beginning to address these challenges the editors invited a group of specialists in the pottery of Greece and the rest of the Eastern Mediterranean to a colloquium in Athens in June 2008 asking the contributors to reconsider Pena's general models approaches and examples from their own particular geographic and cultural perspectives This publication constitutes the proceedings of this colloquium Excavations at Maresha Subterranean Complex 169 Ian Stern, 2019-08-22 Tel Maresha is located in the foothills of Israel's Judean Mountains. It was established in the Iron Age II circa 700 BCE and is mentioned in the Hebrew Bible Josh 15:44 I Chron 2:42. But it was mainly a Hellenistic period town, a major Idumean political and administrative center. One of the unique and fascinating aspects of Maresha is its subterranean city, hundreds of underground galleries and chambers filled to the gills with artifacts. This volume is a report of the excavations of one of these rich subterranean complexes SC 169 which contained a full corpus of Hellenistic pottery forms, both local and exotic, altars, figurines, amulets, seals, and seal impressions, hundreds of inscriptions in Greek and Aramaic, coins, jewelry, and much more. These finds tell the story of an affluent cosmopolitan society comprised of Idumeans, Phoenicians, Greeks, and Jews who lived together in a vibrant urban setting until the city was destroyed, probably by the Jewish Hasmonean kingdom, in 104 BCE. The Athenian Agora Laura Gawlinski, Craig A. Mauzy, 2014-06-18. Written for the general visitor, the Athenian Agora Museum Guide is a companion to the 2010 edition of the Athenian Agora Site Guide and leads the reader through all of the display spaces within the Stoa of Attalos in the Athenian Agora: the terrace, the ground floor colonnade, and the newly opened upper story. The guide also discusses each case in the museum gallery chronologically, beginning with the prehistoric and continuing with the Geometric, Archaic, Classical, Hellenistic, Roman, and Byzantine periods. Hundreds of artifacts, ranging from common pottery to elite jewelry, held in 81 cases, are described and illustrated in color for the very first time. Through focus boxes, readers can learn about marble working, early burial practices, pottery production, ostracism, home life, and the wells that dotted the ancient site. A timeline, maps, and plans accompany the text. For those who wish to learn more about what they see in the museum, a list of further reading follows each entry. The Chora of Metaponto 6 Francesca Silvestrelli, Ingrid E. M. Edlund-Berry, 2016-08-02. The sixth volume in the Institute of Classical Archaeology's series on the rural countryside, the chora of Metaponto, is a study of the Greek settlement at Sant'Angelo Vecchio. Located on a slope overlooking the Basento River, the site illustrates the extraordinary variety of settlements and uses of the territory from prehistory through the current day. Excavators brought to light a Late Archaic farmhouse, evidence of a sanctuary near a spring, and a cluster of eight burials of the mid-fifth century BC, but the most impressive remains belong to a production area with kilns. Active in the Hellenistic, Late Republican, and Early Imperial periods, these kilns illuminate important and lesser-known features of production in the chora of a Greek city and also chronicle the occupation of the territory in these periods. The thorough diachronic presentation of the evidence from Sant'Angelo Vecchio is complemented by specialist studies on the environment, landscape, and artifacts, which date from prehistory to the post-medieval period. Significantly, the evidence spans the range of Greek site types: farmhouse, necropolis, sanctuary, and production center, as well as the Greek dates from the Archaic to Early Imperial periods highlighted during ICA's survey of the Metapontine chora. In this regard, Chora 6 enhances the four volumes of The Chora of Metaponto 3: Archaeological Field Survey, Bradano to Basento, and provides further insight into how sites in the chora interacted.

throughout its history The Athenian Agora ,1997 A Study of the Circulation of Ceramics in Cyprus from the 3rd Century BC to the 3rd Century AD John Lund,2015-10-26 This is the first monograph devoted solely to the ceramics of Cyprus in the Hellenistic and Roman Periods The island was by then no longer divided into kingdoms but unified politically first under Ptolemaic Egypt and later as a province in the Roman Empire Submission to foreign rule was previously thought to have diluted if not obliterated the time honoured distinctive Cypriot character The ceramic evidence suggests otherwise The distribution of local and imported pottery in Cyprus points to the existence of several regional exchange networks a division that also seems reflected by other evidence The similarities in material culture exchange patterns and preferential practices are suggestive of a certain level of regional collective self awareness From the 1st century BC onwards Cyprus became increasingly engulfed by mass produced and standardized ceramic fine wares which seem ultimately to have put many of the indigenous makers of similar products out of business or forced them to modify their output Also the ceramic record gradually became less diverse during the Roman Period than before developments which we today might be inclined to view as symptoms of an early form of globalisation The Chora of Metaponto 5 Elisa Lanza Catti,Keith Swift,2014-08-15 The fifth volume in the Institute of Classical Archaeology s series on rural settlements in the countryside chora of Metaponto presents the excavation of a Greek farmhouse illuminating the lifeways of fourth century BC farmers of modest means Archaeological Investigations in a Northern Albanian Province Michael L. Galaty,Lorenc Bejko,2023-09-12 This work presented in two volumes is focused on the province of Shkod r in northern Albania It is the first synthetic archaeological treatment of this region and is based on five years of field and laboratory work Some of the earliest and largest hillforts and tumuli burial mounds in Albania dating to the Bronze and Iron Age are located in Shkod r and this region is important to ongoing archaeological debates regarding the origins of inequality and the rise of social complexity Volume 1 includes geological context a literature review historical background and reports on the regional survey and test excavations at three settlements and three tumuli In Volume 2 the authors describe the artifacts recovered through survey and excavation including chipped stone small finds and pottery from the prehistoric Classical Roman medieval and post medieval periods They also present results of faunal petrographic chemical carpological and strontium isotope analyses of the artifacts The Hellenistic West Jonathan R. W. Prag,Josephine Crawley Quinn,2013-10-24 Although the Hellenistic period has become increasingly popular in research and teaching in recent years the western Mediterranean is rarely considered part of the Hellenistic world instead the cities peoples and kingdoms of the West are usually only discussed insofar as they relate to Rome This book contends that the rift between the Greek East and the Roman West is more a product of the traditional separation of Roman and Greek history than a reflection of the Hellenistic period Mediterranean which was a strongly interconnected cultural and economic zone with the rising Roman republic just one among many powers in the region east and west The contributors argue for a dynamic reading of the economy politics and history of the central and western Mediterranean beyond Rome and in doing so problematise the concepts of East West and Hellenistic itself The Athenian Agora American School of Classical Studies at Athens,2009 The Agora Bone Well Maria A. Liston,Susan I. Rotroff,Lynn M. Snyder,2018-12-31 Even though Dorothy Thompson excavated the Agora Bone Well in 1938 the well and its remarkable finds have never been fully studied until now Located outside the northwest corner of the Athenian Agora and dating to the second quarter of the 2nd century B C the well contained the remains of roughly 460 newborn infants as well as a few older individuals Also found in the well were the bones of over 150 dogs and an assortment of other animals plus various artifacts including an intriguing herm treated here by Andrew Stewart and an ivory chape In addition to a thorough examination of the contents of the well the authors provide a thoughtful analysis of the neighborhood in which the well was located and carefully compare the deposit with similar accumulations found elsewhere in the Mediterranean The product of close cooperation between archaeological palaeoanthropological and faunal scholars this interdisciplinary work will be of interest to a large audience across a variety of fields La necropole hellenistique de Plinthine Marie-Francoise Boussac,Olivier Callot,Patrice Georges-Zimmermann,2023-12-31 The Hellenistic necropolis of Plinthine located about 800 m west of the urban settlement of Kom el Nogus Plinthine on the western margins of the Alexandrian chora was built on and in the calcarenite ridge or taenia that separates the Mediterranean from Lake Mariut It has been celebrated as a miniature version of the great Alexandrian necropolises since the first excavations by Achille Adriani in 1937 followed by various unpublished explorations Nevertheless it had not been the subject of a comprehensive study combining architectural analysis and investigation of funerary practices The policy followed by the French expedition MFTMP systematic architectural survey of a necropolis too often previously analyzed through the prism of a few hypogeas emphasis on phasing anthropological studies made it possible to give a more global vision of the Plinthine necropolis than that provided by earlier studies the dead are no longer absent and the necropolis reveals a history parallel to that of the Plinthine Hellenistic town The Archaeology of Roman Portugal in its Western Mediterranean Context Tesse D. Stek,André Carneiro,2022-06-20 The Archaeology of Roman Portugal aims to contribute to the wider debate on Roman imperialism and expansionism by bringing to the fore a much underrepresented area of the Roman empire at least in English language scholarship its westernmost edge in modern day Portugal Highlighting the perspective from Roman Portugal will contribute to our understanding of the Roman empire because it presents both an extraordinary landscape in the sense of economic opportunities ocean resources marble and metal mining and settlement history The volume aims to present new data and insights from both archaeology and ancient history and to discuss their significance for our understanding of Roman expansion and imperialism A key goal of the volume is to discuss how the Portuguese panorama compares to other areas of the Iberian peninsula An explicit goal of the volume is to better integrate Portuguese scholarship in the academic debate on the Mediterranean Roman world and to contextualize it firmly in the wider Iberian and Western Mediterranean context

Therefore chapters are produced by internationally diverse scholars in archaeology and ancient history from Portugal Spain Germany the UK the US the Netherlands Belgium and Italy With a view to asses the potential of integrating best practices in archaeological approaches and methodology different national and disciplinary research traditions and historical frameworks will be explicitly discussed Art Book News Annual, volume 4: 2008Art Book News Annual, volume 4: 2008 ,
