Hermeneutics Interpretation Theory In Schleiermacher:

Hermeneutics Richard E. Palmer, 1969 Hermeneutics introduces English speaking readers to a field of increasing importance in contemporary philosophy and theology hermeneutics the theory of understanding or interpretation Hermeneutics is concerned with the character of understanding especially as it is related to interpreting linguistic texts It goes beyond mere philological methodology however to questions of the philosophy of language the nature of historical understanding and ultimately the roots of interpretation in existential understanding Palmer principally treats the conception of hermeneutics enunciated by Heidegger and developed into a philosophical hermeneutics by Hans Georg Gadamer He provides a brief overview of the field of hermeneutics by surveying some half dozen alternate definitions of the term and by examining in detail the contributions of Friedrich Schleiermacher and Wilhelm Dilthey In the Manifesto which concludes the book Palmer suggests the potential significance of hermeneutics for literary interpretation When the context of interpretation is pressed to its limits hermeneutics becomes the philosophical analysis of what is involved in every act of understanding In this context hermeneutics becomes relevant not simply to the humanistic disciplines in which linguistic and historical understanding are crucial but to scientific forms of interpretation as well for it asserts the principles involved in any and every act of interpretation Hermeneutics Richard E. Palmer, 1988 Hermeneutics; Interpretation Theory in Schleiermacher, Dilthey, Heidegger, and Gadamer Richard E. Palmer, 1977 Revelation Gerald O'Collins, 2016 Since the late 1980s the theme of God's self revelation has been treated only briefly in Christian theology at times simply ignored and often confused with biblical inspiration Revelation Towards a Christian Theology of God's Self Revelation lays out its basic characteristics and begins by distinguishing between revelation in the primary sense a living encounter with God's self disclosure and in the secondary sense statements of faith derived from that encounter or propositional revelation It considers revelation as transforming and informing as being sacramental or mediated through words and deeds as communicated through an endless variety of means and mediators as related to but distinct from biblical inspiration and truth and as reaching those of other faiths or of no faith at all Gerald O'Collins skilfully distinguishes between past or foundational revelation present or dependent revelation and future or eschatological revelation He expounds with ecumenical sensitivity the complex relationship between tradition and scripture O'Collins moves into controversial areas by insisting that the divine self revelation takes place only when received by human faith and that outside revelation there is no salvation extra revelationem nulla salus This volume offers a coherent account of God's self revelation which can serve as a basis for all that follows in theology and for dialogue with those who follow other living faiths or none at all O'Collins extends and enriches what he has proposed in earlier books and articles about the characteristics of God's self revelation A Reference Guide for English Studies Michael J. Marcuse, 1990-01-01 This ambitious undertaking is designed to acquaint students teachers and researchers with reference sources in any branch of English studies which Marcuse defines as all those subjects and lines of critical and scholarly inquiry presently pursued by members of university departments of English language and literature Within each of 24 major sections Marcuse lists and annotates bibliographies guides reviews of research encyclopedias dictionaries journals and reference histories The annotations and various indexes are models of clarity and usefulness and cross references are liberally supplied where appropriate Although cost conscious librarians will probably consider the several other excellent literary bibliographies in print such as James L Harner s Literary Research Guide Modern Language Assn of America 1989 larger academic libraries will want Marcuse s volume Jack Bales Mary Washington Coll Lib Fredericksburg Va Library Journal

American Designs Jeanne Campbell Reesman,2016-11-11 American Designs addresses three major literary critical issues the hermeneutics of the novel genre the intense importance of this genre for American literature and the way James and Faulkner by writing within hermeneutic traditions of the modern American novel explore further than any other writers the particular functions of the novelistic designs they inherited and transformed Jeanne Campbell Reesman contends that in the late fiction of James and Faulkner the search for knowledge of the self and others is presented as a metafictional issue of power authority and freedom While their own interests lead characters in the novels to enact designs on other characters the novels themselves undermine the validity of any single imposed design American writers Reesman argues develop narrative structures that fail to close Theirs is an open ended search for American identity Structures remain unfinished or unresolved or disunified in order to allow human beings a certain freedom from closed design and they do this out of a dual reaction against both Old World tradition and New World Puritanism Reesman probes the relationship between narrative design and the problem of knowledge in American literature in her resonant readings the The Ambassadors Absalom Absalom The Golden Bowl and Go Down Moses James and Faulkner of course never knew each other but in this first
