

beyond their original mandate, sometimes even recording data. The UN put this on record as a violation of international census protocol in a letter to the government. Thankfully, the much improved security environment will render that level of involvement unnecessary.

3. Fourth, the census must use modern technology, including the recording of information through handheld devices, correlating to GPS coordinates, to ensure transparency of responses. We must stop relying on archaic indelible ink, paper, and sluggish methods of transporting reams of data across the country in order to save months of processing time. The provinces should be able to maintain their own counts rather than rely on a central data base so that databases can be shared to avoid administrative delays.

4. Finally, can the census data (about to be released) be utilized to convince the gurus tasked with fixing Pakistan's economic problems of the criticality of demographic trends for planning the economy? In a recent webinar organized by the Population Council at the Population Association of Pakistan's annual meeting, national experts spoke about the critical need to base economic and development planning on demographic data.
