Family Constellations in Contemporary Ibero-American and Slavic Literatures Anna Artwińska, Ángela Calderón, Jobst Welge, 2024-10-07 This volume examines Ibero American as well as Slavic literatures of the 21st century and studies how historical imaginaries in family narratives are functionalized for both individual and collective and post national identities The analysis proceeds along three conceptual axes What these narratives have in common is that they construct specific constellations of the historical imagination and of family whereby family is here conceived not so much as an organic micro unity but rather as changing multiple relations between individual members godparents first and second degree relatives non blood related family members present and absent members adopted children etc Furthermore these novels are often grounded in trans generational memories They are written by members of a generation that as a rule did not directly experience these historical events It is also significant that these narratives are no longer conceived as representing national identities but paradigmatically speak for a collective that defines itself in regional ethnic religious or ideological terms It seems therefore that these narratives of family constellations are in need of more flexible typological rubrics and interpretive frameworks Intended as a sustained comparative study of these family narratives this volume is a contribution in

Cemetery Jos Lus Peixoto, 2010 Set in the working class district of Benfica in Lisbon The Piano Cemetery tells the story of a family and especially of the hopes and fears of the fathers who pass the baton of the generations on to their sons The Lazaro family are cabinet makers who would rather be piano makers They have a carpentry shop in the Benfica district of Lisbon and there at the back is the piano cemetery piled high with broken down pianos that provide the spare parts needed for repairing pianos all over the city It is a mysterious and magical place a place of solace a dreaming place and above all a trysting place for lovers The Piano Cemetery is a wonderfully accomplished novel in which the true story of the Portuguese marathon runner Francisco Lazaro is woven into a rich narrative of love betrayal domestic happiness and dashed hopes Narrated in part by the father of Francisco Lazaro on the day his grandson is born and the day he himself dies and in part by his son as he runs the Stockholm marathon of 1908 remembering his family and his loves as he struggles against the heat and strives to outrun death itself It is a beautifully constructed tale that is by turns violent and tender funny and moving with flashes of true insight startling imagery and an instinctive understanding of families and their ways The Piano Cemetery establishes Jose Luis Peixoto not only as the leading Portuguese novelist of his generation but as a major figure on the
