Investment Analysis & Portfolio Management Frank K. Reilly, Keith C. Brown, Brindha Gunasingham, Asjeet Lamba, Dr Frank Elston, 2019-11-19 This first Asia Pacific edition of Reilly Brown's Investment Analysis and Portfolio Management builds on the authors' strong reputations for combining solid theory with practical application and has been developed especially for courses across the Australia New Zealand and Asia Pacific regions. The real world illustrations and hands on activities enhance an already rigorous empirical approach to topics such as investment instruments, capital markets, behavioural finance, hedge funds and international investment. The text also emphasises how investment practice and theory are influenced by globalisation. CFA Level III Candidate Readings, 2007: Portfolio management II, 2006 □□□□□□□□□□

Responses of the Stock Market to Macroeconomic Announcements Across Economic States Zuliu Hu, Li Li, 1998-05-01 Is the stock market responsive to macroeconomic news? This paper employs the daily returns of the Dow Jones Industrial Index, the S P 500 index, the Russell 1000 index and the Russell 2000 index to examine stock market reactions to a broad list of macroeconomic announcements including money supply, inflation, employment, housing starts and trade balances etc. Several announcements concerning real economic activity that have received little attention in previous research are shown to have a significant impact on stock prices. The paper also presents preliminary evidence for the different reaction to macroeconomic news by small cap stocks and large cap stocks. Macroeconomics and Finance Stanley Fischer, Robert C. Merton, 1984 The treatment of the stock market in finance and macroeconomics exemplifies many of the important differences in perspective between the two fields In finance the stock market is the single most important market with respect to corporate investment decisions In contrast macroeconomic modelling and policy discussion assign a relatively minor role to the stockmarket in investment decisions This paper explores four possible explanations for this neglect and concludes that macro analysis should give more attention to the stock market Despite the frequent jibe that the stockmarket has forecast ten of the last six recessions the stock market is in fact a good predictor of the business cycle and the components of GNP We examine the relative importance of the required return on equity compared with the interest rate in the determination of the cost of capital and hence investment In this connection we review the empirical success of the Q theory of investment which relates investment to stock market evaluations of firms One of the explanations for the neglect of the stock market in macroeconomics may be the view that because the stock market fluctuates excessively rational managers will pay little attention to the market in formulating investment plans This view is shown to be unfounded by demonstrating that rational managers will react to stock price changes even if the stock market fluctuates excessively Finally we review the extremely important issue of whether the market does fluctuate excessively and conclude that while not ruled out on a priori theoretical grounds the empirical evidence for such excess fluctuations has not been decisive

Equilibrium and Macroeconomic Fundamentals Mr.Lamin Leigh,1997-01-01 This paper examines the efficiency of the Stock Exchange of Singapore and the relationship between the stock market and the overall economy Using a wide range of methods for testing market efficiency the paper establishes that the Singapore stock market is both weakly and semi strongly efficient in asset pricing terms but not strongly efficient Granger causality tests based on the efficiency test results indicate that developments in the stock market appear to be systematically related to the overall economy in Singapore and can thus serve as a leading indicator of its intertemporal behavior

Do Macroeconomic Variables Have an Effect on the US Stock Market? Dennis Sauert,2010-10 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject Economics Case Scenarios grade 1 0 Berlin School of Economics language English abstract The objective of this paper is to examine whether the unanticipated change of specific macroeconomic variables influences the US stock market represented by the S P 500 using monthly data from 1986 to 2007 Thereby the performance of the arbitrage pricing theory of Ross cp Ross S 1976 shall be studied To explain the behavior of the US stock market return the paper contains the five predefined variables consumer price index CPI industrial production index IPT money stock M1 M1 total consumer credit outstanding TCC and the term structure of interest rates Term which are approximately similar to those variables used by Ross cp Chen N F et al 1986 pp 383 403 Applying the OLS method it was found that CPI IPT and Term are negatively related to the US stock return It was also detected that M1 affects the stock market lagging 8 months and 12 months However the test statistics showed that TCC has rather no impact on the US stock market return To ensure that the ultimate results are not spurious care will be taken in regards to autocorrelation multicollinearity serial correlation as well as heteroskedasticity
