What are my strengths?

Feedback analysis

- Write down the outcome you expect
 - 9-12 months later, compare results
 - Build on your strengths
- What are you good at?
- What do you need to improve?
- What unproductive habits are in your way?
- Intellectual arrogance
- Lack of follow-through
- Lack of modifiers
- What you can be good at
- What you're incompetent at

The second half of your life

Benefits
① + ②

3 ways to develop a second career

- Start one by moving jobs
- Develop a parallel career (or part-time, consulting)
- Be a social entrepreneur/organizer

Take responsibility for relationships

Other people are individuals too. Adapt to different strengths, ways of working, values.

Take responsibility for communication.

What should I contribute?

Plan: 1 month beyond today

- What does the situation need?
- What is the greatest contribution I can make?
- What results have to be achieved to make a difference?
- Hard to achieve (stretch)
- But within reach
- Meaningful
- Visible
- Measurable (if possible)

How do I work?

Don't try to change yourself. Improve how you perform. Avoid what you'll perform poorly.

What are my values?

- What kind of person do I want to see in the mirror?
- Are my org's values compatible?

Where do I belong?

Where do I not belong?

Know yourself so that you can say "yes, but this way"

Managing Oneself Peter Drucker Pdf:

Managing Oneself Peter Ferdinand Drucker, 2008-01-07 We live in an age of unprecedented opportunity with ambition drive and talent you can rise to the top of your chosen profession regardless of where you started out But with opportunity comes responsibility Companies today aren't managing their knowledge workers careers Instead you must be your own chief executive officer That means it's up to you to carve out your place in the world and know when to change course And it's up to you to keep yourself engaged and productive during a career that may span some 50 years In Managing Oneself Peter Drucker explains how to do it The keys Cultivate a deep understanding of yourself by identifying your most valuable strengths and most dangerous weaknesses Articulate how you learn and work with others and what your most deeply held values are and Describe the type of work environment where you can make the greatest contribution Only when you operate with a combination of your strengths and self knowledge can you achieve true and lasting excellence Managing Oneself identifies the probing questions you need to ask to gain the insights essential for taking charge of your career Peter Drucker was a writer teacher and consultant His 34 books have been published in more than 70 languages He founded the Peter F Drucker Foundation for Nonprofit Management and counseled 13 governments public services institutions and major corporations

Managing Oneself Peter F. Drucker, 2017-02-28 The classic Harvard Business Review articles by renowned thinker Peter Drucker on how to take charge of your own career Peter Drucker is widely regarded as the father of modern management offering penetrating insights into business that still resonate today But Drucker also offers deep wisdom on how to manage our personal lives and how to become more effective leaders In these two classic articles from Harvard Business Review Drucker reveals the keys to becoming your own chief executive officer as well as a better leader of others Managing Oneself identifies the probing questions you need to ask to gain the insights essential for taking charge of your career while What Makes an Effective Executive outlines the key behaviors you must adopt in order to lead Together they chart a powerful course to help you carve out your place in the world

Manning Up Kay S Hymowitz, 2012-03-06 In Manning Up Manhattan Institute fellow and City Journal contributing editor Kay Hymowitz argues that the gains of the feminist revolution have had a dramatic unanticipated effect on the current generation of young men Traditional roles of family man and provider have been turned upside down as pre adult men stuck between adolescence and real adulthood find themselves lost in a world where women make more money are more educated and are less likely to want to settle down and build a family Their old scripts are gone and young men find themselves adrift Unlike women they have no biological clock telling them it's time to grow up Hymowitz argues that it's time for these young men to man up

Encore Marc Freedman, 2008-08-26 In one of the most significant social trends of the new century and the biggest transformation of the American workforce since the women's movement members of the baby boom generation are inventing a new phase of work Encore tells the stories of encore career pioneers who are not content or affluent enough to spend their next thirty years on a golf course These men and women are moving beyond midlife careers yet refusing to phase out or fade away As they search for a calling in the second half of life and focus on what matters most these individuals stand to transform the nature of work in America They also hold the potential to create a society that balances the joys and responsibilities of contribution across the generations in other words one that works better for all of us

Leading With Intention Peter M. DeWitt, Michael Nelson, 2024-05-26 Deepen your connections with students staff and your larger community Behind every thriving school or district are deeply interconnected teams that consistently engage in a reciprocal transfer of learning Leading With Intention aims to make this process visible by helping leaders and teachers understand how their thinking impacts their decision making and the overall well being of their learning communities Through five highly practical chapters authors DeWitt and Nelson explore self awareness nurturing human interconnectedness collective inquiry establishing a learning network and crafting a personal learning environment Filled with research stories and places to process information this timely book is focused on how educators think the choices they make and how they develop deeper academic and social emotional connections Other features include Success criteria to help readers identify personal goals Suggested activities to apply knowledge Reflection sheets with guiding questions In depth examples to illustrate content School leaders will come away with a deeper understanding of the importance of self awareness in leadership and the pedagogical knowledge required to focus initiatives on student learning Leading with Intention helps education leaders go from being merely on task to deeply engaged and reconnected with why they entered the education profession in the first place
