Shared Services in Local Government Ray Tomkinson, 2017-03-02 Despite the pressure for local councils to follow the lead of the private sector and develop shared service and partnership arrangements the barriers in terms of culture differences in priorities across councils and lack of experience are formidable yet this is the most likely source of meeting government targets for reduced overheads and improved organizational effectiveness By using extensive case studies drawn from across local councils in England Ray Tomkinson explains the implications of sharing service delivery addresses concerns about loss of control and accountability and demonstrates the potential advantages He shows how to set up collaborative ventures formal partnerships shared service centres or special purpose vehicles while pointing out possible pitfalls thus enabling senior managers to follow all the necessary project steps to create an appropriate shared service It seeks to examine the evidence of the cost effectiveness and quality improvements achieved from sharings This ground breaking book has been written for everyone in local government it explores the political and cultural barriers and legislative legal framework for joint workings explains how to find an appropriate governance vehicle and how to gain the commitment of partners It deals with political and managerial concerns risk aversion and parochial issues and the possible impact on the reputation and performance of both sharers Shared Services in Local Government is the only comprehensive study for the UK and it will ensure any public sector organization pursuing this route is able to approach the task of creating a shared service with a real understanding of the issues involved Planning, 2009 Local Plan Derbyshire Dales (England). Rural Planning Futures Mark Scott, John Sturzaker, Nick Gallent, Gavin Parker, Amy Burnett, Ian Mell, 2025-04-09 Rural Planning Futures charts the critical societal challenges that are reshaping rural places across the UK and Ireland The book evaluates current planning processes and explores the prospects for an enhanced cross sectoral and holistic future practice that mediates rural change towards more resilient and sustainable outcomes Rural places and planning have for too long been viewed as marginal to both the theory and practice of planning However rural places are central to addressing critical global challenges from climate action through nature recovery energy transitions and food security to water quality while also facing more localised conflicts around housing the siting of infrastructure and the challenge of sustaining local services The policy response to these complex challenges has too often been fragmented siloed and fixated on the short term By illustrating how key rural capitals are linked and integrated this book argues for a reset of the rural planning narrative and for the urgent disruption of established ways of working Using innovative case studies the chapters detail how planning for rural places must be guided by the pursuit of social value rather than protecting private interests This book is essential reading for undergraduate and graduate students in planning geography rural studies landscape studies and regional studies
