Breisch, Alison K. Hoagland, 2005 Selected articles originally presented at the Vernacular Architecture Forum conference in Duluth Minnesota 2002 and Newport Rhode Island 2001

Perspectives in Vernacular Architecture, III Thomas Carter, 1989 Invitation to Vernacular Architecture Thomas Carter, Elizabeth C. Cromley, 2005 Review Invitation to Vernacular Architecture A Guide to the Study of Ordinary Buildings and Landscapes is a manual for exploring and interpreting vernacular architecture the common buildings of particular regions and time periods Thomas Carter and Elizabeth Collins Cromley provide a comprehensive introduction to the field Rich with illustrations and written in a clear and jargon free style Invitation to Vernacular Architecture is an ideal text for courses in architecture material culture studies historic preservation American studies and history and a useful guide for anyone interested in the built environment Jacket The Country Houses of John F. Staub Stephen Fox, 2007 This ambitious study of Staub's work by architectural historian Stephen Fox goes beyond a description of Staub's houses Fox analyzes the roles of space structure and decoration in creating defining and maintaining social class structures and expectations and shows how Staub was able to incorporate these elements and understandings into the elegant buildings he designed for his clients In the process he contributes greatly to a fuller understanding of Houston's emergence as a premier American city BOOK JACKET People, Power, Places Sally Ann McMurry, Annmarie Adams, 2000 From workers cottages in Milwaukee's Polish community to Alaskan homesteads during the Great Depression from early American retail stores to nineteenth century prisons different types of buildings reflect the diverse responses of people to their architectural needs Through inquiry into such topics the contributors to this volume examine a variety of building forms as they assess the current state of vernacular architecture studies Because scholars in vernacular architecture have come to consider thematic questions rather than simply to look at types of structures the essays chosen for this collection address issues of how people power and places intersect They demonstrate not only the inextricable links between people and place but also show how power relationships are defined by spatial organization and how this use of space has helped define the distinction between private and public The essays examine a wide range of forms from camp meetings to trolley cottages to consider what buildings might reveal about their makers users and even interpreters One article for example will give readers a new appreciation of balloon framing in Midwest farmhouses refuting popular notions that it was a single individual s invention Another considers servants quarters in Apartheid era South Africa to explore the relationship between black domestic workers and their white employers Drawn from the Vernacular Architecture Forum conferences of 1996 and 1997 these thirteen essays make significant contributions to the study of design and building processes and the adaptation of architectural forms and spaces over time They help redefine the scope of vernacular and provide new models for better understanding the built environment The Editors Sally McMurry is professor of history at Pennsylvania State University and author of Families and Farmhouses in Nineteenth Century America Annmarie Adams is associate professor of architecture at McGill University and author of Architecture in the Family Way Doctors Houses and Women 1870 1900 Constructing Image, Identity, and Place: Perspectives in Vernacular Architecture, IX, 2003 Making Place Arijit Sen, Lisa Silverman, 2021-12-22 An analysis of how city dwellers interact with their social and materials worlds in everyday life and how this affects their bodies Space and place have become central to analysis of culture and history in the humanities and social sciences Making Place examines how people engage the material and social worlds of the urban environment via the rhythms of everyday life and how bodily responses are implicated in the making and experiencing of place The contributors introduce the concept of spatial ethnography a new methodological approach that incorporates both material and abstract perspectives in the study of people and place and encourages consideration of the various levels from the personal to the planetary at which spatial change occurs The book s case studies come from Costa Rica Colombia India Austria Italy the United Kingdom and the United States Rich diverse and provocative meditations on place and identity formation it builds on the previous scholarship on bodies memory and place while also moving our understanding of this theme in a refreshing and engaging direction Abidin Kusno University of British Columbia Everyday Architecture of the Mid-Atlantic Gabrielle M. Lanier, Bernard L. Herman, 1997-07-15 Everyday Architecture of the Mid Atlantic gives proof to the insights architecture offers into who we are culturally as a community a region and a nation Special Issue: Storied Spaces Michael Joseph Chiarappa, Gabrielle Anna Berlinger, 2020 Avery Index to Architectural Periodicals. 2d Ed., Rev. and Enl Avery Library, 1995 CRM, 2010 Building Power Anna Vemer Andrzejewski, 2008 Introduction Discipline Efficiency Hierarchy Fellowship Conclusion The Grove Encyclopedia of American Art Joan M. Marter, 2011 Arranged in alphabetical order these 5 volumes encompass the history of the cultural development of America with over 2300 entries Constructing Image, Identity, and Place Alison K. Hoagland, Kenneth A. Breisch, 2003 Although vernacular architecture scholarship has expanded beyond its core fascination with common buildings and places its attention remains fixed on the social function of building Consistent with this expansion of interests Constructing Image Identity and Place includes essays on a wide variety of American building types and landscapes drawn from a broad geographic and chronological spectrum. Subjects range from examinations of the houses, hotels, and churches of America's colonial and Republican elite to analyses of the humble cottages of Southern sharecroppers and mill workers. Mississippi juke joints and the ephemeral rustic arbors and bowers erected by Civil War soldiers. Other contributors examine or reexamine the form of early synagogues in Georgia, colonial construction technologies in the Chesapeake, the appropriation and use of storefront windows by San Francisco suffragists, and the evolution of the modern factory tour. Other decidedly twentieth-century topics include the impact of the automobile on American building forms and landscapes, including parkways, drive-in movie theaters, and shopping malls. Drawn from the Vernacular Architecture Forum conferences of 1998 and 1999, these seventeen essays represent the broad range of topics and methodologies current in the field today. The volume will introduce newcomers to the breadth and depth of vernacular architecture while also bringing established scholars up to date on the field's continued growth and maturation.
