Guilderoy Ouida, 1889 Created Equal Joshua Berman, 2011-08-12 In Created Equal Joshua Berman engages the text of the Hebrew Bible from a novel perspective considering it as a document of social and political thought He proposes that the Pentateuch can be read as the earliest prescription on record for the establishment of an egalitarian polity What emerges is the blueprint for a society that would stand in stark contrast to the surrounding cultures of the ancient Near East Egypt Mesopotamia Ugarit and the Hittite Empire in which the hierarchical structure of the polity was centered on the figure of the king and his retinue Berman shows that an egalitarian ideal is articulated in comprehensive fashion in the Pentateuch and is expressed in its theology politics economics use of technologies of communication and in its narrative literature Throughout he invokes parallels from the modern period as heuristic devices to illuminate ancient developments Thus for example the constitutional principles in the Book of Deuteronomy are examined in the light of those espoused by Montesquieu and the rise of the novel in 18th century England serves to illuminate the advent of new modes of storytelling in biblical narrative

She Brought the Art of Women Janet Tyson, 2023-04-10 What would happen if the interpretation of Song of Solomon were to move beyond the layered traditions of rabbinic Judaism the theological concerns of Christian communities or even the Enlightenment ideals of a rigorously objective secular hermeneutic This new reading by Janet Tyson provides a fascinating answer to that question Timothy Paul Erdel Bethel University The Song of Solomon is an intimate eyewitness account of the stormy marriage between the last King of Babylon Nabonidus and the Egyptian princess Nitocris II It details the couple's seven year stay in Tayma Arabia during which time the king formulated his plan to reinstate a long defunct female priesthood at Ur in honour of the lunar deity Sîn The Song was written by a female scribe during the exodus from Babylon in c 538 BCE she is potentially recorded elsewhere in the Hebrew Bible Her song of praise tells of magic blood rites jealousy and rivalry contraception miscarriage lies and curses It bears all the signs of an act of vengeance for it preserves the bitter resentment of a woman who lived in the shadow of the king's most exotic wife Topics of interest include A consistent pattern of applied Ishtar Hathor mythology Potential insight into the function of the God's Hand The use of Jewish gematria Clear allusions to the esoteric rite known today as the Elixir Rubeus Internal chronology that mirrors the reign of Nabonidus including a lunar eclipse Profound parallels between Nabonidus and King Solomon Strong connections between Herodotus and the Song's narrative Potential identification of the Song's author and date of composition Other ancient legends revealing this same interpretation The Oracle Encyclopaedia, 1895 The Atlantic Monthly, 1880 The Poetical Works of Jonathan E. Convention, 1873 Passionate Bureaucrat, The: Lessons For The 21st Century From 4,500 Years Of Public Service Reform Max Everest-Phillips, 2018-06-28 Effective and impartial public administration is the foundation of state legitimacy This was understood 4 500 years ago when Urukagina the ruler of a small country in Mesopotamia proclaimed the first known reform of public service The quality of public administration will be even more important in the 21st century Successful states will be those that recognise public service as a key determinant of national competitive advantage That realisation will generate a radical change in the image of the civil servant from dull uninspired public official to passionate advocate of the common good This transformation will be the product of the complex challenges arising from the interweaving of globalisation with the 4th Industrial Revolution These and related developments are forcing governments around the world to search for public service that can respond to the unprecedented range of opportunities and threats emerging from a rapidly evolving international context In an increasingly frenetic world ruled by Wicked Ostriches and Black Elephants governments require a civil service capable of achieving five outcomes i unlocking the creativity and collaborative spirit needed to solve complex problems ii overcoming the fallacy that the private sector is inherently more innovative and efficient than the public service iii developing societies that are perceived by their citizens as fair iv fostering the trust of citizens in their governments and v bolstering the legitimacy of the state The author who is Director of the United Nations Development Programme's Global Centre for Public Service Excellence in Singapore suggests that these interconnected aims will result in a new phenomenon the public recognition by political leaders and citizens that future prosperity political stability environmental sustainability and social cohesion are
