Louise Weiss Sa Vie:

Women in Europe between the Wars Angela Kimyongür, 2017-11-30 The central aim of this interdisciplinary book is to make visible the intentionality behind the forgetting of European women's contributions during the period between the two world wars in the context of politics culture and society It also seeks to record and analyse women's agency in the construction and reconstruction of Europe and its nation states after the First World War and thus to articulate ways in which the writing of women's history necessarily entails the rewriting of everyone's history By showing that the erasure of women's texts from literary and cultural history was not accidental but was ideologically motivated the essays explicitly and implicitly contribute to debates surrounding canon formation Other important topics are women's political activism during the period antifascism the contributions made by female journalists the politics of literary production genre women's relationship with and contributions to the avant garde women's professional lives and women's involvement in voluntary associations In bringing together the work of scholars whose fields of expertise are diverse but whose interests converge on the inter war period the volume invites readers to make connections and comparisons across the whole spectrum of women's political social and cultural activities throughout Europe

Jews and Gender in Liberation France K. H. Adler, 2003-08-07 This book takes a new look at occupied and liberated France through the dual prism of race specifically Jewishness and gender core components of Vichy ideology The imagining of liberation and the potential post Vichy state lay at the heart of resistance strategy Their transformation into policy at liberation forms the basis of an enquiry that reveals a society which while split deeply at the political level found considerable agreement over questions of race the family and gender This is explained through a new analysis of republican assimilation which insists that gender was as important a factor as nationality or ethnicity A new concept of the long liberation provides a framework for understanding the continuing influence of the liberation in post war France where scientific planning came to the fore but whose exponents were profoundly imbued with reductive beliefs about Jews and women that were familiar during Vichy
