Binzley, 2018-10-15 A very welcome volume of essays questioning the presumption of irreconcilable conflict between science and religion British Journal for the History of Science The conflict thesis the idea that an inevitable irreconcilable conflict exists between science and religion has long been part of the popular imagination The Warfare between Science and Religion assembles a group of distinguished historians who explore the origin of the thesis its reception the responses it drew from various faith traditions and its continued prominence in public discourse Several essays examine the personal circumstances and theological idiosyncrasies of important intellectuals including John William Draper and Andrew Dickson White who through their polemical writings championed the conflict thesis relentlessly Others consider what the thesis meant to different religious communities including evangelicals liberal Protestants Roman Catholics Eastern Orthodox Christians Jews and Muslims Finally essays both historical and sociological explore the place of the conflict thesis in popular culture and intellectual discourse today Based on original research and written in an accessible style the essays in The Warfare between Science and Religion take an interdisciplinary approach to question the historical relationship between science and religion and bring much needed perspective to an often bitter controversy Contributors include Thomas H Aechtner Ronald A Binzley John Hedley Brooke Elaine Howard Ecklund Noah Efron John H Evans Maurice A Finocchiaro Frederick Gregory Bradley J Gundlach Monte Harrell Hampton Jeff Hardin Peter Harrison Bernard Lightman David N Livingstone David Mislin Efthymios Nicolaidis Mark A Noll Ronald L Numbers Lawrence M Principe Jon H Roberts Christopher P Scheitle M Alper Yal inkaya

Researching Sex and Sexualities Charlotte Morris, Paul Boyce, Andrea Cornwall, Hannah Frith, Laura Harvey, Yingying Huang, 2018-02-15 Sexuality is a complex and multifaceted domain encompassing bodily contextual and subjective experiences that resist ready categorisation To claim the sexual as a viable research object therefore raises a number of important methodological questions what is it possible to know about experiences practices and perceptions of sex and sexualities What approaches might help or hinder our efforts to probe such experiences This collection explores the creative personal and contextual parameters involved in researching sexuality cutting across disciplinary boundaries and drawing on case studies from a variety of countries and contexts Combining a wide range of expertise its contributors address such key areas as pornography sex work intersectionality and LGBT perspectives The contributors also share their own experiences of researching sexuality within contrasting disciplines as well as interrogating how the sexual identities of researchers themselves can relate to and inform their work The result is a unique and diverse collection that combines practical insights on field work with novel theoretical reflections A Working Scientific Demarcation Damian Fernandez-Beanato,2025-10-24

This book solves a century old key problem in the philosophy of science by providing the first successful solution that differentiates between disciplines claims and attitudes that are scientific and those that are not This is of profound social relevance as sharpening and improving our understanding of the nature of science would benefit human well being including in educational financial medical legal regulatory and political endeavours The book executes a multi criterial scientific demarcation project This allows for the demarcation not only of science from pseudoscience but also of science from other non scientific fields In this way it provides a unique and intensional scientific demarcation in philosophy of science This book is of great interest to philosophers of science epistemologists educators and anyone designing policies or deciding matters concerning science such as legislators regulators magistrates and judges Sociology: The Basics Ken
