In 2000, Euronext, the second big merger project, became reality. The Exchanges of Amsterdam, Paris, and Brussels created a new joint platform with corporate structure. Norex, Virt X, Newex are further merger projects. During the last decade, not only the institutional framework of exchanges has changed, but also the popularity of different products that are traded on the new platforms Currently the derivatives market in particular the trading with repurchase agreements experiences major growth in Europe as well as in the U S The Eurex Repo platform observes a steady increase of outstanding volume due to the fact that Eurex Repo is the only electronic market that offers repo transactions with the shortest possible term of just one night overnight repo transaction The goal of this paper is to analyse and to critically assess the Eurex Repo market model mentioned above which is currently treated as the most efficient and successful trading platform for derivatives with a specific focus on repurchase agreements Chapter 2 aims to give answers to the following questions What is a repurchase agreement Which are the characteristics of repo markets in general Which risks are associated with repos and how does the pricing of repos work Which other instruments for liquidity management do exist for banks The purpose of Chapter 3 is to give an overview of the derivatives market in general past business methods the intermediating role of banks and exchanges and the dynamic development of the derivatives market In addition the Eurex market model will be described as well as competing market players in Europe and the U S In Chapter 4 the main focus is put on the examination and evaluation of the Eurex Repo market model in order to investigate the key drivers in this model Considering Eurex expansion to the U S where the originally European exchange is competing with the major North American exchange CBoT since February 2004 and the advance of Eurex main competitor Euronext the future perspectives for the Eurex Repo market model will be explored
