

Chapter # 3 (Solution) Job-Order Costing

Exercise 3-1 (10 minutes)

The estimated total manufacturing overhead cost is computed as follows:

$$Y = $94,000 + ($2.00 \text{ per DLH})(20,000 \text{ DLHs})$$

Estimated fixed manufacturing overhead	$ 94,000
Estimated variable manufacturing overhead: $2.00 per DLH × 20,000 DLHs	40,000
Estimated total manufacturing overhead cost	$134,000

The predetermined overhead rate is computed as follows:

Estimated total manufacturing overhead	$134,000
÷ Estimated total direct labor hours (DLHs)	20,000 DLHs
= Predetermined overhead rate	$6.70 per DLH

Exercise 3-2 (10 minutes)

Actual direct labor-hours	10,800
× Predetermined overhead rate	$23.40
= Manufacturing overhead applied	$252,720

Heuristic Reasoning in Management Accounting Jörn Sebastian Basel,Jörn Basel,2012 Heuristics are short cuts and deliberately ignore information for instance through examining fewer cues or integrating less information However this collides with a view on management accountants and controllers as rational agents which seems to suggest that all available information should be considered As their role as information supplier is often accompanied with the task to assist managers in their judgment and decision making they have huge influence on these processes Therefore it is of high relevance to know if how and which heuristics management accountants and controllers use Furthermore we need to know which individual and situational factors influence their usage of heuristics With a series of five empirical studies applying a mixed methods research design the author sheds light to these research questions and addresses some central claims of the potential biases but also the stunning benefits of relying on heuristic reasoning Central to his discussion are dual process approaches which are debated in cognitive psychology Scholars of these approaches claim that we should distinguish between two distinct processes or systems of the human mind Following this interpretation heuristics are processes which are described as intuitive automatic fast and unconscious They are routinized cognitive processes which are based on experience in certain social environments and thus often exhibit ecological rationality Overall this book picks up an up to date topic in behavioural accounting research which not only is of relevance for researchers but as well for practitioners Managerial Accounting

Accounting Function Oliver Holtkemper, 2020-10-27 This book analyzes the impact of digitization on management accounting in five manufacturing companies It is one of the first in depth empirical studies on the intersection of management accounting and digitization The study suggests that there are two archetypes of digitization of the management accounting function The first archetype emphasizes top down driven changes that aim to enhance efficiency such as conducting tasks with a higher degree of automation in a leaner structure with fewer resources The second archetype is strongly driven and initiated by employees in the management accounting function bottom up The focus is on improving the use of data by applying innovative analytics methods integrating additional sources of data and benefiting from new technologies like artificial intelligence The results of the study also indicate that digitization of the management accounting function is mostly in line with the overall company strategy Management Accounting Demystified Leonard Eugene
