Petroleum Geology of Myanmar A. Racey, M.F. Ridd, 2015-09-18 With the social political and economic changes taking place in Myanmar formerly Burma there is a keen interest among international resource companies to explore opportunities for investment in the country As early as the 1700s oil was being produced onshore from deep hand dug wells and was exported as far afield as India But in the petroleum sector the most dramatic change has been the discovery offshore of major gasfields The present volume is the first to bring together information on the offshore as well as the onshore petroleum geology The readership is likely to include not only those in the petroleum industry seeking an overview of the habitat of Myanmar's oil and gas but also researchers in the broader field of SE Asian geology As in many parts of the world it has been the petroleum industry that has provided data of value to stratigraphers structural geologists and those seeking to decipher the tectonic history of the region

Handbook of Japan's Foreign and Domestic Policies During the Decade of Abe Tosh Minohara, 2012-10-01 No Japanese leader has dominated Japan's recent political landscape more than the late Abe Shinzo With this as the basic premise the main objective of this compiled volume is to examine and assess Japan's foreign and domestic policies during the 2010s a decade which largely overlaps with Abe's tenure as prime minister This book is much more than a mere study of Abe's leadership however as it ventures far beyond the traditional scope of diplomatic and political history by incorporating a multidisciplinary approach As such the contributors comprise not only historians and political scientists but also sociologists economists legal experts journalists and practitioners of diplomacy This diversity in backgrounds makes it possible to examine a much wider range of topics and themes that clearly illuminate the multitude of challenges that Japan faced in the decade as well as how it responded to those challenges leading to a more thorough understanding of the path that Japan took in the 2010s

The making of a blue revolution in Bangladesh: Enablers, impacts, and the path ahead for aquaculture Shahidur Rashid, Xiaobo Zhang, 2019-08-07 A rapid increase in aquaculture production in Bangladesh has lowered fish prices increased protein consumption and reduced poverty The Making of a Blue Revolution in Bangladesh offers a valuable case study of how this transformation in the fish value chain has occurred and how it has improved the lives of both fish producers and fish consumers and considers the future potential of aquaculture in Bangladesh

Myanmar's Rohingya Genocide Ronan Lee, 2021-01-28 The genocide in Myanmar has drawn global attention as Nobel Peace Prize laureate Aung San Suu Kyi appears to be presiding over human rights violations forced migrations and extra judicial killings on an enormous scale This unique study draws on thousands of hours of interviews and testimony from the Rohingya themselves to assess and outline the full scale of the disaster Casting new light on Rohingya identity history and culture this will be an essential contribution to the study of the Rohingya people and to the study of the early stages of genocide This book adds convincingly to the body of evidence that the government of Myanmar has enabled a genocide in Rakhine State and the surrounding areas

Blue Skies Over Beijing Matthew E. Kahn, Siqi Zheng, 2019-07-16 How individuals and the government are changing life in China's polluted cities Over the past thirty years even as China's economy has grown by leaps and bounds the environmental quality of its urban centers has precipitously declined due to heavy industrial output and coal consumption The country is currently the world's largest greenhouse gas emitter and several of the most polluted cities in the world are in China Yet millions of people continue moving to its cities seeking opportunities Blue Skies over Beijing investigates the ways that China's urban development impacts local and global environmental challenges Focusing on day to day choices made by the nation's citizens families and government Matthew Kahn and Siqi Zheng examine how Chinese urbanites are increasingly demanding cleaner living conditions and consider where China might be headed in terms of sustainable urban growth Kahn and Zheng delve into life in China's cities from the personal perspectives of the rich middle class and poor and how they cope with the stresses of pollution Urban parents in China have a strong desire to protect their children from environmental risk and calls for a better quality of life from the rising middle class places pressure on government officials to support greener policies

Using the historical evolution of American cities as a comparison the authors predict that as China's economy moves away from heavy manufacturing toward cleaner sectors many of China's cities should experience environmental progress in upcoming decades Looking at pressing economic and environmental issues in urban China Blue Skies over Beijing shows that a cleaner China will mean more social stability for the nation and the world Blue Legalities Irus Braverman, Elizabeth R. Johnson, 2020-01-17 The ocean and its inhabitants sketch and stretch our understandings of law in unexpected ways Inspired by the blue turn in the social sciences and humanities Blue Legalities explores how regulatory frameworks and governmental infrastructures are made reworked and contested in the oceans Its interdisciplinary contributors analyze topics that range from militarization and Maori cosmologies to island building in the South China Sea and underwater robotics Throughout Blue Legalities illuminates the vast and unusual challenges associated with regulating the turbulent materialities and lives of the sea Offering much more than an analysis of legal frameworks the chapters in this volume show how the more than human ocean is central to the construction of terrestrial institutions and modes of governance By thinking with the more than human ocean Blue Legalities questions what we think we know and what we don't know about oceans our earthly planet and ourselves Contributors Stacy Alaimo Amy Braun Irus Braverman Holly Jean Buck Jennifer L Gaynor Stefan Helmreich Elizabeth R Johnson Stephanie Jones Zsafia Korosy Berit Kristoffersen Jessica Lehman Astrida Neimanis Susan Reid Alison Rieser Katherine G Sammler Astrid Schrader Kristen L Shake Phil Steinberg China, the UN, and Human Protection Rosemary Foot, 2020-05-27 Over a relatively short period of time Beijing moved from dismissing the UN to embracing it How are we to make sense of the People's Republic of China's PRC embrace of the UN and what does its engagement mean in larger terms This study focuses directly on Beijing's involvement in one of the most contentious areas of UN activity human protection contentious because the norm of human protection tips the balance away from the UN's Westphalian state based profile towards the provision of greater protection for the security of individuals and their individual liberties The argument that follows shows that as an ever more crucial actor within the United Nations Beijing's rhetoric and some of its practices are playing an increasingly important role in determining how this norm is articulated and interpreted In some cases the PRC is also influencing how these ideas of human protection are implemented At stake in the questions this book tackles is both how we understand the PRC as a participant in shaping global order and the future of some of the core norms which constitute that order Managerial Strategies and Practice in the Asian Business Sector Aung, U Zeyar Myo, Ordoñez de Pablos, Patricia, 2015-12-22 Due in part to globalism and economic development the Asian business sector has been rapidly expanding Thanks to the increasing industrialization and economic growth of China and India in particular tourism as well as business opportunities in the Asian sector are booming Managerial Strategies and Practice in the Asian Business Sector is a comprehensive reference source for theories and practices related to business integration in Asian countries The research presented within this timely resource closely examines a number of essential topics such as ethics competition and entrepreneurship in an era of globalization and economic expansion Illustrating innovative insights concerning the development of business strategies in this growing region this book is an invaluable reference for business executives students of business academics policy makers or any professional concerned with globalism and the intricacies of Asian business and information technology integration in the Asian business sector Policy Response, Local Service Delivery, and Governance in Bangladesh, Nepal, and Sri Lanka Ishtiaq Jamil, Tek Nath Dhakal, Sk Tawfique M Haque, Laxmi Kanta Paudel, Hasan Muhammad Baniamin, 2021-06-07 This book analyzes contemporary issues in governance policy management and policy performance both at the central and local levels in Bangladesh Nepal and Sri Lanka The focus is on some central social issues such as empowerment the inclusion of minorities institutional trust policy implementation and local service delivery Although these three countries have recently opted for democratic governance the journey to establish and consolidate democracy as well as enhance governance capacity have been painful and filled with challenges The chapters in this volume are country specific studies based on empirical data both quantitative and qualitative collected for several years and presented in readable prose This does not however rule out the general applicability of the findings to other contexts within and beyond the borders of these countries Despite huge differences in South Asia the policy and governance issues and challenges that are explored highlighted and analyzed also have commonalities with other South Asian countries

Twenty Years of BIMSTEC Prabir De, 2019-10-16 This book reviews the past and provides new strategies to help BIMSTEC achieving a new paradigm of integration It primarily deals with the regional cooperation and integration issues and assesses policy priorities effectiveness implementation imperatives and challenges Each chapter in this book tries to capture essential features of the crosscutting issues and attempts to draw some policy implications The subject of this book will be of special interests to policy planners development organisations academicians researchers as well as potential investors Please note T F does not sell or distribute the Hardback in India Pakistan Nepal Bhutan Bangladesh and Sri Lanka
