Wounds of History Jill Salberg, Sue Grand, 2016-12-08 Wounds of History takes a new view in psychoanalysis using a trans generational and social political cultural model looking at trauma and its transmission The view is radical in looking beyond maternal dyads and Oedipal triangles and in its portrayal of a multi generational world that is no longer hierarchical This look allows for greater clinical creativity for conceptualizing and treating human suffering situating healing in expanding circles of witnessing The contributors to this volume look at inherited personal trauma involving legacies of war genocide slavery political persecution forced migration unwelcomed immigration and the way attachment and connection is disrupted traumatized and ultimately longing for repair and reconnection The book addresses several themes such as the ethical social turn in psychoanalysis the repetition of resilience and wounds and the repair of these wounds the complexity of attachment in the aftermath of trauma and the move towards social justice In their contributions the authors remain close to the human stories Wounds of History will be of interest to psychoanalysts psychologists and other mental health professionals as well as students or teachers of trauma studies Jewish and gender studies and studies of genocide Unmaking Love Ashley T. Sheldon, 2017-01-10 The contemporary novel does more than revise our conception of love it explodes it queers it and makes it unrecognizable Rather than providing union connection and completion love in contemporary fiction destroys the possibility of unity harbors negativity and foregrounds difference Comparing contemporary and modernist depictions of love to delineate critical continuities and innovations Unmaking Love locates queerness in the novelistic strategies of Ian McEwan Zadie Smith Hanif Kureishi Alan Hollinghurst and Hari Kunzru In their work queer love becomes more than shorthand for sexual identity It comes to embody thwarted expectations disarticulated organization and unnerving multiplicity In queer love social forms are deformed affective bonds do not bind and social structures threaten to come undone Unmaking Love draws on psychoanalysis and gender and sexuality studies to read love's role in contemporary literature and its relation to queer negativity
