Reading Dante Gabriel Rossetti Brian Donnelly, 2016-03-03 A revolutionary figure throughout his career Dante Gabriel Rossetti's work provides a distinctly revolutionary lens through which the Victorian period can be viewed Suggesting that Rossetti's work should be approached through his poetry Brian Donnelly argues that it is both inscribed by and inscribes the development of verbal as well as visual culture in the Victorian era In his discussions of modernity aestheticism and material culture he identifies Rossetti as a central figure who helped define the terms through which we approach the cultural productions of this period Donnelly begins by articulating a method for reading Rossetti's poetry that highlights the intertextual relations within and between the poetry and paintings His interpretations of such poems as the Mary's Girlhood sonnets the sonnet sequence The House of Life and The Orchard Pit in relationship to paintings such as The Girlhood of Mary Virgin and Ecce Ancilla Domini shed light on Victorian ideals of femininity on consumer culture and on the role of gender hierarchies in Victorian culture Situating Rossetti's poetry as the key to all of his work Donnelly also makes a case for its centrality in its representation of the dominant discourses of the late Victorian period faith sex consumption death and the nature of representation itself
