1,000 Conversation Questions Larry Pitts, 2012-08-12 More than 1 000 conversation questions spanning 100 topics targeted towards intermediate or advanced ESL or EFL students Resources in Education ,1994-11 TESOL Newsletter Teachers of English to Speakers of Other Languages, 1990 Language and Language Behavior Abstracts ,1982 Second Language Instruction/acquisition Abstracts ,1996 Bilingual Educational Publications in Print ,1983 Current Index to Journals in Education ,2001 Linguistics and Language Behavior Abstracts ,2003 Who's who in American Education ,1990 El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2003 ,2003 Arts & Humanities Citation Index ,1993 More Fuel Alycia C. Jobes, 2016-11-18 Why did I write this book The first installment of Fuel for Lively Conversations in English was born because I needed material to get my students talking Well it so happens that my students are voracious They are so interested in the world and excited to talk about anything and everything that I needed more material That s when I started thinking of a new list of subjects and questions Once the ball started rolling a new book was created I have tried to come up with a wide variety of topics to interest everybody All fifty subjects are new and were not published in the first Fuel book However there may be some overlap for example in the first book there was a Travel section and in this one there is a Discovering the World section Having said that even if some of the subjects overlap most of the questions are completely new As I said in the first Fuel book conversation is a great way to break the ice in a class It gets your students using the language in an active and engaging manner And let s admit it talking about something you are interested in is fun Students enjoy the freedom of guided conversation in the ESL classroom Why should you use this book Teachers are busy people We don t have a job that we leave on our desks at 5pm We take our work home with us in the form of lesson plans corrections etc Anything that can potentially make our lives easier is welcome Rather than putting a list of conversation questions together yourself or looking for something on line all you have to do is open More Fuel to the Table of Contents and choose a subject that you think will motivate your class In addition the subjects from More Fuel are up to date current events that will open your students minds to the world around them They will grapple with some of the ethical questions ponder some of the more complex points and wonder about their place in the midst of all these questions And they will do it all in English What more could an ESL teacher ask for How Was Your Weekend? 1001 Discussion Questions To Use With Your EFL/ESL Students JAMES M.
