Eroticism of More- and Other-than-Human Bodies Grażyna Gajewska, 2020-09-09 Focusing on non human actors Grażyna Gajewska expands the discussion of eroticism in contemporary culture by bringing in material culture object studies and the anthropology of things. She sets out from the assumption that things such as for instance attire underwear shoes or jewelry play an important role in arousing erotic imagination they are genuine participants in the process not mere signifiers of eroticism. Their use does not denote only undeniable facts of everyday life associated with functionality the pragmatic or aesthetic aspect but also contribute to the shaping of human emotions fantasies and phantasms. In her study Gajewska brings eroticism in contemporary culture to light through applying gender studies to new contexts animals robots virtual worlds even as she explores a new methodology the anthropology of things. Images of Sex Work in Early Twentieth-Century America Mollie LeVeque, 2019-04-18 Storyville was the infamous red light district of New Orleans. It was a world where normative social values didn't apply and was shrouded in mystery and myth until the photographs of E. J. Bellocq were rediscovered. Bellocq's depictions of Storyville's sex workers have typically been treated as tragic, ominous and emblematic of New Orleans singularity. Yet such interpretations have projected gendered stereotypes of frailty and victimhood onto the women they portrayed. In Images of Sex Work Mollie LeVeque interrogates these glib readings and argues that sex work was a routine aspect of life in a modern city. She supports this theory by examining a range of cultural forms such as crime fiction illustrations and paintings from contemporary urban centres like Paris, London and New York. In doing so she advances the new argument that Bellocq humanised his subjects, de-sensationalised sex work and gave these women the dignity they were all too often denied.

American Girls Nancy Jo Sales, 2017-01-24 A New York Times Bestseller Award winning Vanity Fair writer Nancy Jo Sales crisscrossed the country talking to more than two hundred girls between the ages of thirteen and nineteen about their experiences online and off. They are coming of age online in a hypersexualized culture that has normalized extreme behavior from pornography to the casual exchange of nude photographs, a culture rife with a virulent new strain of sexism, a culture in which teenagers are spending so much time on technology and social media that they are not developing basic communication skills. The dominant force in the lives of girls coming of age in America today is social media. Instagram, Whisper, Vine, Youtube, Kik, Ask.fm, Tinder. Provocative, explosive and urgent. American Girls will ignite much needed conversation about how we can help our daughters and sons negotiate the
