Teka, Nicole Kenton, John Livingstone, 2022-08-17 This book investigates the role of social protection amongst African pastoral and agro pastoral communities with a particular focus on Ethiopia Based on rigorous empirical research this book assesses the successes failures prospects and lessons learned from Africa s largest social security intervention Ethiopia s Productive Safety Net Programme It goes beyond an analysis of immediate impacts exploring factors such as highland lowland interactions rural urban linkages economic diversification the role of youth indigenous safety nets and social capital Special attention is given to gender responsive social protection measures and to the circumstances brought about by the COVID 19 pandemic Overall the book demonstrates the value of indigenous knowledge systems and local institutions in contributing to the design of more effective safety net programmes and disaster responses and in helping people to build resilience and cope with shocks At a time when social protection is gaining prominence in contemporary development discourse this book will be of interest to development practitioners The Action Research Dissertation Kathryn Herr,Gary L. Anderson,2014-05-06 The first edition of The Action Research Dissertation A Guide for Students and Faculty was a first of its kind reference distilling the authors decades of action research experience into a handy guide for graduate students The Second Edition continues to provide an accessible roadmap that honors the complexity of action research while providing an overview of how action research is defined its traditions and history and the rationale for using it Authors Kathryn Herr and Gary L Anderson demonstrate that action research is not only appropriate for a dissertation but also is a deeply rewarding experience for both the researcher and participants This practical book demonstrates how action research dissertations are different from more traditional dissertations and prepares students and their committees for the unique dilemmas they may face such as validity positionality design write up ethics and dissertation defense

Climate-Resilient Development Astrid Carrapatoso,Edith Kürzinger,2013-10-01 The concept of resilience currently infuses policy debates and public discourse and is promoted as a normative concept in climate policy making by governments non governmental organizations and think tanks This book critically discusses climate resilient development in the context of current deficiencies of multilateral climate management strategies and processes It analyses innovative climate policy options at national inter regional and local levels from a mainly Southern perspective thus contributing to the topical debate on alternative climate governance and resilient development models Case studies from Africa Asia and Latin America give a ground level view of how ideas from resilience could be used to inform and guide more radical development and particularly how these ideas might help to rethink the notion of progress in the light of environmental social economic and cultural changes at multiple scales from local to global It integrates theory and practice with the aim of providing practical solutions to improve complement or where necessary reasonably bypass the UNFCCC process through a bottom up approach which can effectively tap unused climate resilient development potentials at the local national and regional levels This innovative book gives students and researchers in environmental and development studies as well as policy makers and practitioners a valuable analysis of climate change mitigation and adaptation options in the absence of effective multilateral provisions

Forests People and Power Oliver Springate-Baginski,Piers Blaikie,2013-06-17 With tens of millions of hectares and hundreds of millions of lives in the balance the debate over who should control South Asia's forests is of tremendous political significance This book provides an insightful and thorough assessment of important forest management transitions currently underway MARK POFFENBERGER EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR OF COMMUNITY FORESTRY INTERNATIONAL The contributions in this volume not only breathe life into the field of writing and analysis related to forests they do so on the strength of extraordinarily insightful research Kudos to Springate Baginski and Blaikie for providing us with a set of thoroughly researched provocative studies that should be required reading not only for those interested in community forestry in south Asia but in resource governance anywhere ARUN AGRAWAL ASSOCIATE PROFESSOR OF NATURAL RESOURCES it challenges our assumptions of the benefits of participatory forest management and the role of forestry in poverty reduction It should be of interest to policy makers and to all those who have been involved with the struggle of transforming forestry over the decades DR MARY HOBLEY HOBLEY SHIELDS ASSOCIATES NATURAL RESOURCE MANAGEMENT AND PLANNING CONSULTANCY A rare combination of extensive field study social science insights and policy studies will be of immense value DR N C SAXENA MEMBER OF NATIONAL ADVISORY COUNCIL GOVERNMENT OF INDIA In recent decades participatory approaches to forest management have been introduced around the world This book assesses their implementation in the highly politicized environments of India and Nepal The authors critically examine the policy implementation processes and causal factors affecting livelihood impacts Considering narratives and field practice with data from over 60 study villages and over 1000 household interviews the book demonstrates why particular field outcomes have occurred and why policy reform often proves so difficult Research findings on which the book is based are already influencing policy in India and Nepal and the research and analysis have great relevance to forestry management in a wide range of countries Published with DFID The Personal and the Professional in Aid Work Anne-Meike

Fechter, 2016-03-16 This book considers how the personal and the professional dimensions are related and how they matter for aid work The contributions to this edited volume are based on the assumption that all actors are relevant in development including national and international aid workers A key question which the book explores is why the personal so often remains unacknowledged in development studies even though its salience for aid workers is well documented One possible reason is an implicit narrative of aid work as altruistic and self-sacrificing which renders it inappropriate to devote much attention to the experiences of development professionals themselves In order to redress this this book critically considers the kind of difference they make and aims to understand how they respond to the challenges of their work The book explores their efficacy as human beings and employees with individual subjectivities social and cultural beliefs and practices and documents how these shape their involvement in development processes This book was published as a special issue of Third World Quarterly Conservation and Sustainable Use E. J. Milner-Gulland, J. Marcus Rowcliffe, 2007-11-15 The relentless exploitation and unsustainable use of wildlife whether for food medicine or other uses is a key concern for conservationists worldwide Indeed wildlife conservation and sustainable use have recently become centrepieces in conservation and development research Assessment interpretation and ultimate action in a scientific study of exploited species must consider numerous factors from the biology habitat requirements and population dynamics of the species in question to the relationships that people have with their environment and the species within it Any long term management plan must ensure that people and wildlife can coexist otherwise it is doomed to failure Conservation and Sustainable Use provides a practical and integrated approach to carrying out research on the conservation of exploited species It is relevant to both tropical and temperate biomes and is applicable to all exploited species including mammals fish and plants It describes both the practical field and theoretical modelling techniques for obtaining and interpreting information integrating biological social economic and institutional analyses It also demonstrates how to translate information into effective action through appropriate interventions from legislation to changing people s attitudes This is the first time that all these issues have been covered together in a single practically orientated volume This book will be essential reading for graduate level students and researchers in conservation biology human ecology sociology and resource economics It will also provide an important reference for anyone who is interested in carrying out a scientifically based conservation programme for an exploited species including field biologists wildlife managers and practitioners in the fields of conservation and international development

Gender Works Fenella Porter, Ines A. Smyth, Caroline Sweetman, 1999 Covers the challenges of implementing Oxfam s innovative gender policy of promoting gender aware development and emergency work of influencing organisational culture and of working with the international women s movement to promote gender equality Taking Stock of Nature Anna Lawrence, 2010-02-18 In a world of increasing demands for biodiversity information participatory biodiversity assessment and monitoring is becoming more significant Whilst other books have focused on methods or links to conservation or development this book is written particularly for policy makers and planners Introductory chapters analyze the challenges of the approach the global legislation context and the significance of the Millennium Ecosystem Assessment Specially commissioned case studies provide evidence from 17 countries by 50 authors with expertise in both biological and social sciences Ranging from community conservation projects in developing countries to amateur birdwatching in the UK they describe the context objectives stakeholders and processes and reflect on the success of outcomes Rather than advocating any particular approach the book takes a constructively critical look at the motives experiences and outcomes of such approaches with cross cutting lessons to inform planning and interpretation of future participatory projects and their contribution to policy objectives Empowering Female Climate Change Activists in the Global South Peggy Ann Spitzer, 2023-07-21 The ebook edition of this title is Open Access thanks to Knowledge Unlatched funding and freely available to read online Reimagining intersectional research this book addresses the urgent need to develop gender just solutions that empower those who are experiencing environmental degradation in their communities Changing Views on Change Joanne

Abbot,Irene Guijt,1998 Revisiting Targeting in Social Assistance Margaret Grosh,Phillippe Leite,Matthew Wai-Poi,Emil Tesliuc,2022-06-02 Targeting is a commonly used but much debated policy tool within global social assistance practice Revisiting Targeting in Social Assistance A New Look at Old Dilemmas examines the well known dilemmas in light of the growing body of experience new implementation capacities and the potential to bring new data and data science to bear The book begins by considering why or whether or how narrowly or broadly to target different parts of social assistance and updates the global empirics around the outcomes and costs of targeting It illustrates the choices that must be made in moving from an abstract vision to implementable definitions and procedures and in deciding how the choices should be informed by values empirics and context The importance of delivery systems and processes to distributional outcomes are emphasized and many facets with room for improvement are discussed The book also explores the choices between targeting methods and how differences in purposes and contexts shape those The know how with respect to the data and inference used by the different household specific targeting methods is summarized and comprehensively updated including a focus on big data and machine learning A primer on measurement issues is included Key findings include the following Targeting selected categories families or individuals plays a valuable role within the framework of universal social protection Measuring the accuracy and cost of targeting can be done in many ways and judicious choices require a range of metrics Weighing the relatively low costs of targeting against the potential gains is important Implementing inclusive delivery systems is critical for reducing errors of exclusion and inclusion Selecting and customizing the appropriate targeting method depends on purpose and context there is no method preferred in all circumstances Leveraging advances in technology ICT big data artificial intelligence machine learning can improve targeting accuracy but they are not a panacea better data matters more than sophistication in inference Targeting social protection should be a dynamic process Power to the People Martina Björkman,Jakob Svensson,2007 This paper analyzes the importance of strengthening the relationship of accountability between health service providers and citizens for improving access to and quality of health care How this is to be achieved and whether it works however remain open questions The paper presents a randomized field experiment on increasing community based monitoring As communities began to more extensively monitor the provider both the quality and quantity of health service provision improved One year into the program there are large increases in utilization significant weight for age z score gains of infants and markedly lower deaths among children The findings on staff behavior suggest that the improvements in quality and quantity of health service delivery resulted from an increased effort by the staff to serve the community Overall the results suggest that community monitoring can play an important role in improving service delivery when traditional top down supervision is ineffective Handbook on Participatory Action Research and Community Development Stoecker , Randy,Falcón, Adrienne,2022-04-08 This Handbook is a critical resource for carefully considering the possibilities and challenges of strategically integrating participatory action research PAR and community development

The novel begins with Richard Papen, a bright but troubled young man, arriving at Hampden College. Richard is immediately drawn to the group of students who call themselves the Classics Club. The club is led by Henry Winter, a brilliant and charismatic young man. Henry is obsessed with Greek mythology and philosophy, and he quickly draws Richard into his world. The other members of the Classics Club are equally as fascinating. Bunny Corcoran is a wealthy and spoiled young man who is always looking for a good time. Charles Tavis is a quiet and reserved young man who is deeply in love with Henry. Camilla Macaulay is a beautiful and intelligent young woman who is drawn to the power and danger of the Classics Club. The students are all deeply in love with Morrow, and they are willing to do anything to please him. Morrow is a complex and mysterious figure, and he seems to be manipulating the students for his own purposes. As the students become more involved with Morrow, they begin to commit increasingly dangerous acts. The Secret History is a brilliant and thrilling novel that will keep you wondering until the very end. The novel is a cautionary tale about the dangers of obsession and the power of evil.
