Perpetrators of International Crimes Alette Smeulers, Maartje Weerdesteijn, Barbora Holá, 2019-02-07 Why would anyone commit a mass atrocity such as genocide crimes against humanity war crimes or terrorism This question is at the core of the multi and interdisciplinary field of perpetrator studies a developing field which this book assesses in its full breadth for the first time Perpetrators of International Crimes analyses the most prominent theories methods and evidence to determine what we know what we think we know as well as the ethical implications of gathering this knowledge It traces the development of perpetrator studies whilst pushing the boundaries of this emerging field The book includes contributions from experts from a wide array of disciplines including criminology history law sociology psychology political science religious studies and anthropology They cover numerous case studies including prominent ones such as Nazi Germany Rwanda and the former Yugoslavia but also those that are relatively under researched and more recent such as Sri Lanka and the Islamic State These have been investigated through various research methods including but not limited to trial observations and interviews

Film Study Frank Manchel, 1990-10 The four volumes of Film Study include a fresh approach to each of the basic categories in the original edition Volume one examines the film as film volume two focuses on the thematic approach to film volume three draws on the history of film and volume four contains extensive appendices listing film distributors sources and historical information as well as an index of authors titles and film personalities

Kafka Reiner Stach, 2013-06-09 This volume tells the story of the final years of the writer's life from 1916 to 1924 a period during which the world Kafka had known came to an end Dust cover

Utopia in the Anthropocene Michael Harvey, 2019-06-03 Utopia in the Anthropocene takes a cross disciplinary approach to analyse our current world problems identify the key resistance to change and take the reader step by step towards a more sustainable equitable and rewarding world It presents paradigm shifting models of economics political decision making business organization and leadership and community life These are supported by psychological evidence utopian literature and inspirational changes in history The Anthropocene is in crisis because human activity is changing almost everything about life on this planet at an unparalleled pace Climate change the environmental emergency economic inequality threats to democracy and peace and an onslaught of new technology these planetwide risks can seem too big to comprehend let alone manage Our reckless pursuit of infinite economic growth on a finite planet could even take us towards a global dystopia As an unprecedented frenzy of change grips the world the case for utopia is stronger than ever An effective change plan requires a bold imaginative vision practical goals and clarity around the psychological values necessary to bring about a transformation This book will be of great interest to students and scholars of the environmental humanities sustainability studies ecological economics organizational psychology politics utopian philosophy and literature and all who long for a better world Bibliography of the History of Medicine ,1966 Imperial Requiem Justin C. Vovk,2014-06-03 Augusta Victoria Mary Alexandra and Zita were four women who were born to rule In Imperial Requiem Justin C Vovk narrates the epic story of four women who were married to the reigning monarchs of Europes last empires during the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries Using a diverse array of primary and secondary sources letters diary entries and interviews with descendants Vovk provides an in depth look into the lives of four extraordinary women who stayed faithfully at their husbands sides throughout the cataclysm of the First World War and the tumultuous years that followed At the centers of these four great monarchies were Augusta Victorias revered empress whose unwavering commitment to her bombastic husband made her a national icon Mary whose Cinderella story and immense personal strength made her the soul of the British monarchy through some of its greatest crises Alexandra the ill fated tsarina who helped topple the Russian monarchy through her ineffective rule and Zita the resolute empress of Austria whose story of loss and exile captivated the worlds attention for seven decades Imperial Requiem shares the fascinating story of four princesses who married for love graced imperial thrones and watched as their beloved worlds were torn apart by war revolution heartache and loss

Earphones On John Phrey Claro ,2021-04-26 18 year old Reign Callister has been living in what she calls The Yarn the universe that she created to escape reality To enter The Yarn she has to use her earphones and submerge herself in this fictitious world as the music starts to spiral in her ears Until she meets August Manzano the one who saved her and the man that she thought as the omen of death in a brown hoodie jacket They believe that they have the same melody because they are living in the same universe but the DOT can destroy everything The Dot that acts as blackhole that can separate them from reality The next step is to find the melody that shows them that the two universes are no different from each other They will find out everything as their journey continues in The Yarn From Creole to Standard Roshni Mooneeram,2009 This book gives a fascinating account of the unique history of the national creole language of Mauritius and the process of standardization that it is undergoing in postcolonial times The central question is how far a creative writer s activity may affect the status and linguistic forms of a regional language The book focuses on the work of the author Dev Virahsawmy who particularly through his Shakespeare translations is an active agent in the standardization of Mauritian creole The approaches employed in From Creole to Standard combine a sociolinguistic examination of changing language attitudes with detailed textual studies of some of Virahsawmy's works to show the relation of his work to the process of language development This book is relevant to the study of other creole languages undergoing standardization as well as to questions of language development more widely Its strength lies precisely in its interdisciplinary approach which addresses different readerships Mooneeram's study is of great interest to both postcolonial thinking and sociolinguistics but also has important implications for debates about the role of canonical literary works and their transmission in the wider world Her book is also a contribution to Shakespeare studies and the field of literary linguistics There are interesting parallels between the contemporary situation of Mauritian creole and English in the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries Virahsawmy's adaptations and translations into creole echo the role Shakespeare's originals played for English and Mooneeram demonstrates how other writers have followed Virahsawmy in using literary forms to enrich the language A Glimpse Of My World Jayani. B,

The Statist, 1921 Patterns, 2000 I was Dora Suarez Derek Raymond, 2011 In this book the reader is immediately plunged into the horrific mind of one of the most brutally damaged and murderous killers the unnamed Detective Sergeant has ever faced a deranged axe murderer But why the victim the gentle Dora Suarez was murdered at all becomes the Sergeant's obsession especially as he digs deeper into a diary she left behind and learns she was already dying of AIDS So why kill her The Microeconomic Mode Jane K. Elliott, 2018-06-26 From The Road to Game of Thrones across works as seemingly different as Gone Girl and Saw literature film and television have become obsessed with the intersection of survival and choice When the trapped rock climber hero of 127 Hours is confronted with self amputation or death it is only a particularly blunt example of an omnipresent set up In real life settings or fantastical games protagonists find themselves confronting extreme scenarios with life or death consequences forced to make torturous either/or choices in stripped down brutally stark environments Jane Elliott identifies and analyzes this new and distinctive aesthetic phenomenon which she calls the microeconomic mode Through close readings of its narratives tropes and concepts she traces the implicit theoretical and political claims conveyed by this combination of abstraction and extremity In the microeconomic mode humans isolated from any forms of social organization operate within a mini economy of costs and benefits gains and losses measured in the currency of life Elliott reads the key concepts that emerge from this aesthetic life interest sovereign capture and binary life in relation to biopolitics and natural law theory becoming and the control society and primitive accumulation in racial capitalism The microeconomic mode interrogates the destruction of the liberal political subject but what it leaves in its place is as disturbing as it is radically new Going beyond the question of neoliberalism in literature The Microeconomic Mode combines revelatory close readings of key literary and popular texts with significant theoretical interventions to identify how an aesthetics of choice has reshaped our contemporary understanding of what it means to be human
