The Algorithmic Age of Personality James Yékú, 2025-05-01 As the affordances of authorship and reading practices on social media become deeply mediated by algorithmic curation they encourage closer attention to the author's personality as fundamental to literary production The Algorithmic Age of Personality African Literature and Cancel Culture challenges any lingering utopianism in the role of digital media in African cultural productions by exploring how algorithms engender a culture of outrage conflict and personality driven and ego battles that distract from aesthetic and ethical evaluations of literary texts In Y k's careful attention to how contemporary African literary practices are significantly marked by the extractivist and affective logics of social media algorithms he articulates the current state of debating in the critical universe of African literature and connects this to the phenomenon of cancel culture Rather than a Manichean understanding of cancel culture Y k illustrates how the politics of both conservative and liberal polarization shape what can and cannot be said in online commentaries on African literary forms The outcome is a work that situates postcolonial classics by Chinua Achebe and Joseph Conrad in online debates on cancel culture and decolonization while responding to social media discussions on Western literary prizes ethnicity and sexuality involving writers like Soyinka Ng g Wainaina and Adichie

Neverending Stories R. Lyle Skains, 2022-12-29 Winner of the 2023 N Katherine Hayles Award for Criticism of Electronic Literature Digital fiction has long been perceived as an experimental niche of electronic literature Yet born digital narratives thrive in mainstream culture as communities of practice create and share digital fiction filling in the gaps between the media they are given and the stories they seek Neverending Stories explores the influences of literature and computing on digital fiction and how the practices and cultures of each have impacted who makes and plays digital fiction Popular creativity emerges from subordinated groups often excluded from producing cultural resources accepting the materials of capitalism and inverting them for their own carnivalesque uses Popular digital fiction goes by many different names webnovels adventure games visual novels Twitter fiction webcomics Twine games walking sims alternate reality games virtual reality films interactive movies enhanced books transmedia universes and many more The book establishes digital fiction in a foundation of innovation tracing its emergence in various guises around the world It examines Infocom whose commercial success with interactive fiction crumbled in no small part because of its failure to consider women as creators or consumers It takes note of the brief flourish of commercial book apps and literary games It connects practices of cognitive and conceptual interactivity and textual multiplicity dating to the origins of the print novel to the feminine It pushes into the technological future of narrative in immersive and mixed realities It posits the transmedia franchises and the practices of fanfiction as examples of digital fiction that will continue indefinitely regardless of academic notice or approval

Rethinking African Cultural Production Kenneth W. Harrow, Frieda Ekotto, 2015-05-29 Frieda Ekotto Kenneth W Harrow and an international group of scholars set forth new understandings of the conditions of contemporary African cultural production in this forward looking volume Arguing that it is impossible to understand African cultural productions without knowledge of the structures of production distribution and reception that surround them the essays grapple with the shifting notion of what African means when many African authors and filmmakers no longer live or work in Africa While the arts continue to flourish in Africa addressing questions about marginalization what is center and what periphery what traditional or conservative and what progressive or modern requires an expansive view of creative production The Bloomsbury Handbook of Postcolonial Print Cultures Toral Jatin Gajjarawala, Neelam Srivastava, Rajeswari Sunder Rajan, Jack Webb, 2023-08-10 The texts that make up postcolonial print cultures are often found outside the archival catalogue and in lesser examined repositories such as personal collections the streets or appendages to established collections This volume examines the published and unpublished writing magazines pamphlets paratexts advertisements cartoons radio and street art that serve as the intellectual forces behind opposition to colonial orders as meditations on the futures of embryonic nation states and as visions of new forms of equality The print cultures examined here are necessarily anti institutional they serve as a counterpoint to the colonial archive and relatedly to more traditional genres and text formats coming out of large scale publishers This means that much of the primary material analyzed in this book has not been scrutinized before Many of these print productions articulate collective liberation projects with origins in the grassroots They include debates around the shape of the postcolonial nation and the new state formation that necessarily draw on a diverse and contentious public sphere of opinion Their rhetoric ranges from the reformist to the revolutionary Reflecting the diversity indeed the disorderliness of postcolonial print cultures this book covers local national and transnational cultures from Asia Africa Europe and the Americas Its wide ranging essays offer a nuanced and taken together a definitive though that is not to say comprehensive or systematic study of a global phenomenon postcolonial print cultures as a distinct literary field The chapters recover the efforts of writers readers and publishers to produce a postcolonialism from below and thereby offer a range of fresh perspectives on the meaning and history of postcolonialism

Literary Transactions in South Africa Michael Chapman, 2025-04-03 A representative overview of some of the most pressing concerns in contemporary literary criticism in South Africa demonstrating literary form s shaping power in the interpretation of politically contentious content

Rather than pressing literature into the service of a political cause or programme this study's purpose its politics of interpretation is to open literature to the potential of human experience in both the personal and the public life The society of focus South Africa is a society of political contestation Instead of prioritizing the what of contestation however Michael Chapman explores contestation through the how of the literary work In sharp transactions between an intransitivity of form and a compulsion to communicate the book elucidates an ethics of aesthetics in J M Coetzee and Nadine Gordimer and the best of modernism and the worst of modernism in Roy Campbell's poetry It also asks Can Themba's style of the shebeens in the 1950s be re visited in a contemporary context of gender based abuse Why or how are Ellen Kuzwayo and Mtutuzeli Matshoba writing in the struggle years of the 1970s simultaneously less than artists and more than artists Has the interpretative frame of the postcolonial best served fiction after apartheid What language of interpretation best releases the voices of contemporary women's poetry a poetry which in its play on identities and identifications looks both inwards to its locality and outwards to the globe Alert to both South Africa's colonial past and its assertions of today Literary Transactions in South Africa pursues the challenge of interpreting a literature of disjuncture between Africa and the West or the South and the North

Written Out Joel Cabrita, 2023-01-17 Systemic racism and sexism caused one of South Africa's most important writers to disappear from public consciousness Is it possible to justly restore her historical presence Regina Gelana Twala a Black South African woman who died in 1968 in Swaziland now Eswatini was an extraordinarily prolific writer of books columns articles and letters Yet today Twala's name is largely unknown Her literary achievements are forgotten Her books are unpublished Her letters languish in the dusty study of a deceased South African academic Her articles are buried in discontinued publications Joel Cabrita argues that Twala's posthumous obscurity has not developed accidentally as she exposes the ways prejudices around race and gender blocked Black African women like Twala from establishing themselves as successful writers Drawing upon Twala's family papers interviews newspapers and archival records from Pretoria Uppsala and Los Angeles Cabrita argues that an entire cast of characters censorious editors territorial White academics apartheid officials and male African politicians whose politics were at odds with her own conspired to erase Twala's legacy Through her unique documentary output Twala marked herself as a radical voice on issues of gender race and class The literary gatekeepers of the racist and sexist society of twentieth century southern Africa clamped down by literally writing her out of the region's history Written Out also scrutinizes the troubled racial politics of African history as a discipline that has been historically dominated by White academics a situation that many people within the field are now examining critically Inspired by this recent movement Cabrita interrogates what it means for her a White historian based in the Northern Hemisphere to tell the story of a Black African woman Far from a laudable recovery of an important lost figure Cabrita acknowledges that her biography inevitably reproduces old dynamics of White scholarly privilege and dominance Cabrita's narration of Twala's career resurrects it but also reminds us that Twala tragically is still not the author of her own life story Window On The World 4 □□ ,2003 Love in the Time of AIDS Mark Hunter,2021-12-22 In some parts of South Africa more than one in three people are HIV positive Love in the Time of AIDS explores transformations in notions of gender and intimacy to try to understand the roots of this virulent epidemic By living in an informal settlement and collecting love letters cell phone text messages oral histories and archival materials Mark Hunter details the everyday social inequalities that have resulted in untimely deaths Hunter shows how first apartheid and then chronic unemployment have become entangled with ideas about femininity masculinity love and sex and have created an economy of exchange that perpetuates the transmission of HIV AIDS This sobering ethnography challenges conventional understandings of HIV AIDS in South Africa

Unfair Labor? David Beck,2019 Unfair Labor is the first book to explore the economic impact of Native Americans who participated in the 1893 World s Columbian Exposition held in Chicago By the late nineteenth century tribal economic systems across the Americas were decimated and tribal members were desperate to find ways to support their families and control their own labor As U S federal policies stymied economic development in tribal communities individual Indians found creative new ways to make a living by participating in the cash economy Before and during the exposition American Indians played an astonishingly broad role in both the creation and the collection of materials for the fair and in a variety of jobs on and off the fairgrounds While anthropologists portrayed Indians as a remembrance of the past the hundreds of Native Americans who participated were carving out new economic pathways Once the fair opened Indians from tribes across the United States as well as other indigenous people flocked to Chicago Although they were brought in to serve as displays to fairgoers they had other motives as well Once in Chicago they worked to exploit circumstances to their best advantage Some succeeded others did not Unfair Labor breaks new ground by telling the stories of individual laborers at the fair uncovering the roles that Indians played in the changing economic conditions of tribal peoples and redefining their place in the American socioeconomic landscape

Story of My Life William Taylor,1895 Making African Christianity Robert J. Houle,2011-09-16 In Making African Christianity author Robert J Houle argues that Africans successfully naturalized Christianity This book examines the long history of the faith among colonial Zulu Christians known as amakholwa in what would become South Africa As it has become clear that Africans are not discarding Christianity a number of scholars have taken up the challenge of understanding why this is the case and how we got to this point Where others have focused on the economic and political potential of conversion this book argues that we need to understand what was embedded within the faith that Africans found so appealing Houle argues that translation did not end with the bible but extended to Christian theology which needed to be fully appropriated before the faith was secure on the continent For Zulu the religion was not a good fit until converts filled critical gaps in the faith such as how Christianity could account for the active and everyday presence of the ancestral spirits a problem that was true for African converts across the continent in slightly different ways This book offers fresh insight into the history behind the contemporary success of Christianity on the continent and will be welcomed by African historians those interested in the history of colonialism missions southern African and in particular Christianity Harper's New Monthly Magazine ,1885 The Modern Girl Around the World Alys Eve The Modern Girl around the World Research Group,Alys Eve Weinbaum,Lynn M.
