Diamond Grill By Fred Wah:

Diamond Grill Fred Wah, 1996 Diamond Grill is a rich banquet where Salisbury Steak shares a menu with chicken fried rice bird s nest soup sets the stage for Christmas pudding where racism from whites for being Chinese and from Chinese for being white simmers behind the shiny clean surface of the action in the cafe This story of family and identity migration and integration culture and self discovery is told through family history memory glimpses of life and the occasional recipe The Presentation of a Hybrid Identity in Fred Wah's Diamond Grill Katharina Eder, 2011-05 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 University of Vienna language English abstract The following seminar paper is concerned with the presentation of a hybrid identity in Fred Wah s Diamond Grill and the cultural significance of food In the beginning the most important stages of the author s life shall help to embed the story in its historical and socio cultural context After a detailed discussion on the symbolic meaning of food with various examples providing insight into the many functions that food takes in daily life and human existence as well as its crucial role in the context of communities the paper will shift its focus to the text itself The term biotext and its emergence will be discussed and information on identity ethnicity other important themes and issues in the text and the language employed by Wah will be given The last part of this paper constitutes its centrepiece in which food as a metaphor and its cultural significance as a multilayered strategy and trope in postcolonial life writing will be discussed The culinary language employed in Wah s innovative discourse of Diamond Grill makes the concept of food a metonymy of the elaboration of identity and culture The use of food as a metaphor in the author s culinary memoirs will be discussed and the way in which the metaphor of food provides an axis for the understanding of Wah s explorations of his socio cultural background will be explained in more detail

Diamond Grill Fred Wah, 2006 Series of short sketches about Wah s father s modern Chinese Canadian restaurant in Nelson BC explore finding identity being mixed raced in a small Canadian town The presentation of a hybrid identity in Fred Wah's "Diamond Grill": Food and habitation as ethnic markers and Chinese Canadians Katharina Eder, 2011-05-16 Seminar paper from the year 2010 in the subject English Language and Literature Studies Literature grade 1 University of Vienna language English abstract The following seminar paper is concerned with the presentation of a hybrid identity in Fred Wah s Diamond Grill and the cultural significance of food In the beginning the most important stages of the author s life shall help to embed the story in its historical and socio cultural context After a detailed discussion on the symbolic meaning of food with various examples providing insight into the many functions that food takes in daily life and human existence as well as its crucial role in the context of communities the paper will shift its focus to the text itself The term biotext and its emergence will be discussed and information on identity ethnicity other important themes and issues in the text and the language employed by Wah will be given The last part of this paper constitutes its centrepiece in which food as a metaphor and its cultural significance as a multilayered strategy and trope in postcolonial life writing will be discussed The culinary language employed in Wah's innovative discourse of Diamond Grill makes the concept of food a metonymy of the elaboration of identity and culture. The use of food as a metaphor in the author's culinary memoirs will be discussed and the way in which the metaphor of food provides an axis for the understanding of Wah's explorations of his socio-cultural background will be explained in more detail.

Culture, Identity, Commodity Kam Louie, Tseen Khoo, 2005. From David Henry Hwang's M. Butterfly to Evelyn Lau's Diary of a Runaway to Fred Wah's poetry, diasporic Chinese literature in English is reaching wider audiences. The interdisciplinary essays in Culture Identity Commodity provide close textual readings and general theoretical frameworks from American, Australian, and Canadian perspectives for a range of textual productions: novels, autobiographies, plays, and Chinese cooking shows that address this dynamic field. Established and emerging scholars offer timely discussions of diasporic Chinese studies drawing on transnational, postcolonial, globalisation, and racialisation theories. The collection examines what is at stake in the consideration of diasporic literatures and the connections and fissures emerging in these new critical terrains. Book jacket.
