Visual Merchandising Louisa Iarocci, 2017-07-05 Situated at the crossroads of visual culture and consumerism this essay collection examines visual merchandising as both a business and an art It seeks to challenge that scholarly ambivalence that often celebrates the spectacle but denies the agenda of consumerism The volume considers strategies in the imaging of selling from the mid nineteenth century to the present in terms of the visual interaction that occurs between the commodity and the consumer and between body and space Under the categories of Promotion Product and Place contributors to the volume examine the strategies in the presentation of retail goods and environments that range from print advertising to product design to store display and architecture Visual Merchandising The Image of Selling is located directly at the nexus of business practice and cultural myth where the spectator never loses sight of their status as buyer and the object of desire is always still a commodity

Travels in Paradox Claudio Minca, Tim Oakes, 2006-03-30 This innovative volume focuses on tourism through the twin lenses of cultural theory and cultural geography Presenting a set of innovative case studies on tourist destinations around the world the contributors explore the paradoxes of the tourist experience and the implications of these paradoxes for our broader understanding of the problems of modernity and identity The book examines how tourism reveals the paradoxical ways that places are both mobile and rooted real and fake inhabited by those who are simultaneously insiders and outsiders and both subjectively experienced and objectively viewed The concepts of travel and mobility long have been used to explain modern identity and social behavior but this work pushes beyond the established literature by considering the ways that place and mobility are inherently related in unexpected even contradictory ways Travel the international cast of authors contends occurs in place rather than between places Thus instead of offering yet another interpretation of the ways modern societies are distinguished by their mobilities in contrast to the supposed place bound quality of traditional societies the chapters here collectively argue for an understanding of modern identity as simultaneously grounded and mobile This rich blend of empirical and theoretical analysis will be invaluable for cultural geographers anthropologists and sociologists of tourism

Brands S. Hart,J. Murphy,1997-11-14 Branding is currently one of the most exciting subjects around business people everywhere are waking up to the fact that brands are a huge source of value But it is only by understanding the real value that brands bring to consumers that brand owners and manufacturers can truly learn to exploit that value Brands no longer operate only in the traditional packaged goods markets the techniques of good branding are just as vital in the business to business and utilities sectors and are increasingly being applied even in non commercial areas from charities to football clubs This comprehensive and authoritative book looks at branding from a wide range of perspectives from the creation of a new brand through the development of brand names and packaging designs to advertising international brands It explores the hot topics of brand valuation and brand licensing as well as studying the increasingly important role of the corporate brand This book is a must for anyone with an interest in brands
