Anthony Lodge, 2013-04-08 Written as a text this book looks at the external history of French from its Latin origins to the present day through some of the analytical frameworks developed by contemporary sociolinguistics French is one of the most highly standardized of the world's languages and the author invites us to see the language as heterogeneous rather than a monolithic entity using the model proposed by E. Haugen as a useful comparative grid to plot the development of standardization After an introductory section which examines the dialectalization of Latin in Gaul the four central chapters of the book are constructed around the basic processes involved in standardization as identified by Haugen the selection of norms the elaboration of function codification and acceptance The concluding chapter deals with language variability and the wide gulf that has now developed between French used for formal purposes and that used in everyday speech with particular reference to Occitan speaking regions Emphasizing the ordinary speakers of the language rather than the statesmen or great authors as agents of change the book combines a traditional history of the language approach with a sociolinguistic framework to provide a broad and comparative overview of the problem of language standardization

Making Space in the Works of James Joyce Valerie Benenjam, John Bishop, 2012-05-23 James Joyce's preoccupation with space be it urban geographic stellar geometrical or optical is a central and idiosyncratic feature of his work In Making Space in the Works of James Joyce some of the most esteemed scholars in Joyce studies have come together to evaluate the perception and mental construction of space as it is evoked through Joyce's writing The aim is to bring together several recent trends of literary research and criticism to bear on the notion of space in its most concrete sense The essays move dialectically out of an immediate focus on the phenomenological and intra-psychic into broader and wider meditations on the social urban and collective As Joyce's formal experiments appear the response to the difficulty of enunciating truly the experience of lived space this eventually leads us to textual and linguistic space The final contribution evokes the space with which Joyce worked daily that of his manuscripts or what he called paperspace With essays addressing all of Joyce's major works this volume is a critical contribution to our understanding of modernism as well as of the relationship between space language and literature

Apprendre le français : un projet personnel, un projet de vie FIPF, 2022-12-30T00:00:00+01:00 Ce florilège du 4e Congrès de la CMA de la FIPF Apprendre le français un projet personnel un projet de vie contient des articles susceptibles d'alimenter la réflexion sur La langue française comme projet de vie implique qu'on ne peut dissocier l'apprenant ou l'enseignant comme acteurs principaux de l'opération pédagogique de leurs vies personnelles L'institution scolaire qui abrite le processus d'apprentissage gagnerait alors à être un cadre de vie collective en favorisant l'épanouissement individuel de chacun dans une ambiance de respect mutuel Des considérations sociales culturelles psychologiques ou personnelles peuvent constituer pour chacun des défis à relever en voulant apprendre le français Dans un monde marqué par les effets d'une globalisation farouche où la concurrence s'exerce la maîtrise des langues s'avère une nécessité et une clé de voute pour l'accès à l'emploi sur un marché du travail qui valorise de plus en plus les compétences linguistiques devenant de ce fait un critère incontournable de sélection non seulement pour le recrutement mais aussi pour la promotion professionnelle Par ailleurs si dans certains pays arabes on opte pour la création des filières bilingues francophones allant jusqu'à leur généralisation dans d'autres elles sont vouées au sort du provisoire

Proust's Lesbianism Elisabeth Ladenson, 1999 For decades Elisabeth Ladenson says critics have misread or ignored a crucial element in Marcel Proust's fiction his representation of lesbians Her challenging new book definitively establishes the centrality of lesbianism as sexual obsession and aesthetic model in Proust's vast novel A la recherche du temps perdu Traditional readings of the Recherche have dismissed Proust's Gomorrah his term for women who love other women as a veiled portrayal of the novelist's own homosexuality More recently queer positive rereadings have viewed the novel's treatment of female sexuality as ancillary to its accounts of Sodom and its meditations on time and memory Ladenson instead demonstrates the primacy of lesbianism to the novel showing that Proust's lesbians are the only characters to achieve a plenitude of reciprocated desire The example of Sodom by contrast is characterized by frustrated longing and self loathing She locates the work's paradigm of hermetic relations between women in the self sufficient bond between the narrator's mother and grandmother Ladenson traces Proust's depictions of male and female homosexuality from his early work onward and contextualizes his account of lesbianism in late nineteenth century sexology and early twentieth century thought A vital contribution to the fields of queer theory and of French literature and culture Ladenson's book marks a new stage in Proust studies and provides a fascinating chapter in the history of a literary masterpiece's reception Feuille de philologie comparée lituanienne et française, 1999
