Cataloging Policy and Support Office,2001 Modern Practices in North East India Lipokmar Dzüvichü,Manjeet Baruah,2017-11-13 This book brings together essays on North East India from across disciplines to explore new understandings of the colonial and contemporary realities of the region Departing from the usual focus on identity and politics it offers fresh representations from history social anthropology culture literature politics performance and gender Through the lens of modern practices the essays in this volume engage with diverse issues including state making practices knowledge production and its politics history writing colonialism role of capital institutions changing locations of orality and modernity production and reception of texts performances and literatures social change and memory violence and gender relations along with their wider historical geographical and ideational mappings In the process they illustrate how the specificities of the region can become useful sites to interrogate global phenomena and processes for instance in what ways ideas and practices of modernity played an important role in framing the region and its people Further the volume underlines the complex ways in which the past came to be imagined produced and contested in the region With its blend of interdisciplinary approach analytical models and perspectives this book will be useful to scholars researchers and general readers interested in North East India and those working on history frontiers and borderlands gender cultural studies and literature

Communities of Women in Assam Nandana Dutta, 2015-12-22 This book uses communities of women as a framework for reading women's experience rights and aspirations in Assam and Northeast India It explores the varying roles played by such communities in the formation of society the emergence of a women's public sphere and the representation of these communities in culture The essays in the volume study a host of women's communities including the Mahila Samiti Jain women's organisations Lekhika Sanstha lesbian communities religious gatherings scientific and environmental groups women's collaborations through cookbooks as well as nebulous communities of victims of persecution They examine how women's communities are both empowering and transformational but may paradoxically also be regressive and static Lucid analytical and rich with case studies this volume will be useful to scholars and researchers of gender studies sociology political science history and cultural studies particularly those interested in Northeast India

Sita's Voice in the Assamese Rāmāyana Tilottoma Misra, (ed.), 2024-06-28 Sita's Voice in the Assamese Rāmāyana is a translation of select verses from the Assamese Saptak Rāmāyana of Mdhava Kandal a karadeva and Madhavdeva written between the 14th 15th centuries CE This vernacular rendition of the Vlm ki Rāmāyana has been translated with a scholarly introduction by Tilottoma Misra The selected verses represent a distinctive creative rendition of the Vlm ki text from the region of Assam by adding new emotional and philosophic dimensions to it Especially in the Uttarakāśa ascribed to a karadeva Sita's voice acquires a unique quality in her final rejection of Rāma thereby expressing her ultimate disillusionment with him the much acclaimed paragon of all virtues

Indira Goswami Namrata Pathak, Dibyajyoti Sarma, 2022-06-23 This book engages with the life and works of Indira Goswami the first Assamese woman writer to win the highest national literary award the Jnanpith Award in 2001 From sociological treatises to a springboard of a socio political milieu Goswami's texts are intersections of the local and the global the popular and the canonical The writer's penchant for transcending boundaries gives a new contour and shape to the social and cultural domains in her texts That every character is a representative of the society that the context comes alive in every evocation of class struggle power play caste discrimination and gendered narratives add an interesting semantic load to her texts While tracing the trajectories discussed above this book foregrounds Goswami's act of going beyond the margins of varied kinds both abstract and concrete in search of egalitarian and democratic spaces of life The book looks at Indira Goswami's works with a special emphasis on the author situated within the Assamese literary canon It not only discusses the themes and issues within her writing but also focuses on the distinct language and style she uses The volume includes non fictional prose excerpts from her short stories and novels viewpoints of critics letters and entries from diaries as well as interviews with Goswami about her writing and personal life It engages with her works in the context of her multifaceted almost mythical life especially her avowed activism against animal sacrifice and militancy in her latter career Part of the Writer in Context series this book will be useful for scholars and researchers of Indian literature Assamese literature English literature postcolonial studies cultural studies global south studies gender studies and translation studies Trends in Contemporary Assamese Theatre Namrata Pathak, 2015-03-27 It is the very nature of representation to be theatrical and self referential This book undercuts the fact that all representational knowledge is autonomous and sovereign At times theatrical representations can misguide and mislead Representation can also ineluctably project ones own preferences and preoccupations Thus representation and subjective interpretation divulge into myriad domains This book is concerned with the effects and consequences of representation and its politics This book examines not only how language as well as representation produce meaning but also how discursive knowledge connected to power regulates conducts and constructs identities and defines the way certain things are thought about practices and are studied The book takes note of the fact that within the framework of performance a performative subject does not wear a coherent identity as it is fragmented decentered simulated and is unstable while being both virtual as well as actual In the field of semiotics theatre is historically and reciprocally affected by practice especially within contingent conditions of time In theatre semiotics the new image of knowledge is that of turbulence Here knowledge is not so much a system as it is a confluence Carrying this stance further we can say that contemporary Assamese theatre is characterised by shifting counter voices and sub textual underpinnings This act forces reading into two directions dialogic openness and variability of meaning that question the theatre directors as the only ones who know
