Ian McEwan Irena Księżopolska, 2024-04-30 This book offers a discussion of seven canonical novels by Ian McEwan: The Cement Garden, The Comfort of Strangers, The Child in Time, The Innocent, Black Dogs, Atonement, On Chesil Beach, introducing radical new readings which are offered not as ultimate and conclusive solutions of the textual puzzles but as possibilities to engage with the text creatively to enrich the critical consensus and restore interpretative freedom to the readers. This project formulates a strategy of inclusive reading, an approach to the text that does not seek to reduce it to a single interpretation and yet is comprehensively informed through the analysis of the primary text, critical discussion, authorial comments and the context of the composition. Each reading demonstrates the metafictional structure of the texts, indicating that McEwan's works may be treated as invitations to roam within their worlds, examining the multiple frames of their structure and the meanings generated thereby. All the chapters attend to submerged, repressed or deliberately masked voices. The Cement Garden is seen as a multi-layered dream with a shifting hierarchy of dreamers. The Comfort of Strangers is viewed as an inverted metafiction with insubstantial characters corrupting more complex heroes. The Child in Time is read as Stephen's book written for his dead daughter. The Innocent as a memory narrative of Leonard who refuses to notice Maria's role as a spy. In Black Dogs the over-exposure of unreliability is studied as a screen for personal trauma. In the analysis of Atonement Briony's claim to authorship is questioned and Cecilia is suggested as an alternative narrative agent. Finally, examining On Chesil Beach, both characters' voices are reconstructed in search of the superior narrative power which in the end is seen to be elusive as the text seeks to undermine the hierarchy of voices. Family and Relationships in Ian McEwan's Fiction Tomasz Dobrogoszcz, 2018-02-23 The book provides a lucid analysis of all Ian McEwan fiction published to date from his 1975 debut short stories up to the 2016 novel Nutshell spanning forty years of his literary career Apart from a general discussion of McEwan's works the study offers a uniform focal point it concentrates on one of the key issues taken up by the writer the aspect of relationships between partners and between family members As the book demonstrates the novelist employs interpersonal relations to establish a pertinent context in which he can dramatically portray the process of identity formation in his characters Throughout his fiction McEwan consistently uses references to psychoanalysis either veiled or direct The proposed book investigates the novelist's oeuvre through the lens of the psychoanalytic theory developed by Jacques Lacan The approach used makes the book useful both for readers well familiar with this apparatus and for those who need introduction to Lacanian psychoanalysis and such of his concepts as desire fantasy the symbolic order or the Name of the Father

Waiting for the End Earl G. Ingersoll, 2007 Waiting for the End examines two dozen contemporary novels within the context of a half century of theorizing about the function of ending in narrative That theorizing about ending generated a powerful dynamic a quarter century ago with the advent of feminist criticism of masculinist readings of the role played by ending in fiction Feminists such as Theresa de Lauretis in 1984 and more famously Susan Winnett in her 1991 PMLA essay Coming Unstrung were leading voices in a swelling chorus of theorist pointing out the masculinist bias of ending in narrative With the entry of feminist readings of ending it became inevitable that criticism of fiction would become gendered through the recognition of difference transcending a simple binary of female male to establish a spectrum of masculine to feminine endings regardless of the sex of the writer Accordingly Waiting for the End examines pairs of novels one pair by Margaret Atwood and one by Ian McEwan to demonstrate how a writer can offer endings at either end of the gender spectrum

God and Self in the Confessional Novel John D. Sykes, Jr., 2018-06-08 God and Self in the Confessional Novel explores the question what happened to the theological practice of confession when it entered the modern novel Beginning with the premise that guilt remains a universal human concern this book considers confession via the classic confessional texts of Augustine and Rousseau Employing this framework John D Sykes Jr examines Goethe's The Sorrows of Young Werther Dostoevsky's Notes from Underground Percy's Lancelot and McEwan's Atonement to investigate the evolution of confession and guilt in literature from the eighteenth century to the early twenty first century

Guilt in Ian McEwan's "Atonement" and Joe Wright's film adaptation Carmen Odimba, 2015-04-30 Seminar paper from the year 2009 in the subject Cultural Studies Basics and Definitions grade 3.0 Johannes Gutenberg University Mainz Department of British Irish Studies

Translation Studies course Seminar Transferring Translating Media Novels to Film Ian McEwan's Atonement language English abstract Atonement the novel by Ian McEwan published in 2001 is qualified by many critics as a wartime love story. It is an interpretation that suits the glamorous criteria needed by the public and provided by the media nowadays. This interpretation however solely focuses on the characters of Cecilia and Robbie and forgets the important part that Briony or her writing process play in the novel and Joe Wright's film. A complete reading of Atonement should include a study of the title and its implications in the story. We will start by analyzing the meaning of the word atonement. The choice of this title has a special significance for the whole novel and should lead us readers and spectators to understand its message to know whether the spirit of the novel has been respected by the film maker is a question to which we will also answer briefly. The tragic event that happened in Part One of the novel could never have taken place in a more opened social environment. With other codifications more courage and less things left unsaid the story would have been different. We will examine some of the taboos that played an important role in the shaping of Atonement's characters. The notion of guilt is very present in the novel thus it will be in relation to atonement the central focus of this paper. We will consider the main characters i.e. Briony, Robbie, Cecilia, Lola and Paul Marshall and try to evaluate the degree to which each one of them is guilty, feels guilty and is willing to atone for his sins. The last part of the paper will be essentially dedicated to the film to Joe Wright's interpretation of the concepts we named above. Considering our paper's subject was it a good or a bad adaptation?
