Philosophical Foundations Of Human Rights Philosophical Foundations Of Law:

Philosophical Foundations of Human Rights Rowan Cruft, S. Matthew Liao, Massimo Renzo, 2015-04-30 What makes something a human right What is the relationship between the moral foundations of human rights and human rights law What are the difficulties of appealing to human rights This book offers the first comprehensive survey of current thinking on the philosophical foundations of human rights Divided into four parts this book focuses firstly on the moral grounds of human rights for example in our dignity agency interests or needs Secondly it looks at the implications that different moral perspectives on human rights bear for human rights law and politics Thirdly it discusses specific and topical human rights including freedom of expression and religion security health and more controversial rights such as a human right to subsistence The final part discusses nuanced critical and reformative views on human rights from feminist Kantian and relativist perspectives among others The essays represent new and canonical research by leading scholars in the field Each section is structured as a set of essays and replies offering a comprehensive analysis of different positions within the debate in question The introduction from the editors will guide researchers and students navigating the diversity of views on the philosophical foundations of human rights Philosophical Foundations of Human Rights Rowan Cruft, S. Matthew Liao, Massimo Renzo, 2014 This title brings together a set of essays on the philosophical foundations of human rights along with critical replies It is a comprehensive survey of the topic comprising of research essays from academics in the fields of law philosophy international relations social science and economics Philosophical Foundation of Human Rights Paul Tiedemann, 2020-06-27 This textbook presents a range of classical philosophical approaches in order to show that they are unsuitable as a foundation for human rights Only the conception of human dignity based on the Kantian distinction between price and dignity can provide a sufficient basis The derivation of human rights from the principle of human dignity allows us to identify the most crucial characteristic of human rights namely the protection of personhood This in turn makes it possible 1 to distinguish between real moral human rights and spurious ones 2 to assess the scope of protection for many codified human rights according to the criteria of core and yard and 3 offers a point of departure for creating new unwritten human rights This philosophical basis supports a substantial reassessment of the case law on human rights which will ultimately allow us to improve it with regard to legal certainty clarity and cogency The textbook is primarily intended for advanced law students who are interested in a deeper understanding of human rights It is also suitable for humanities students and for anyone in the political or social arena whose work involves human rights and their enforcement Each chapter is divided into four parts Abstracts Lecture Recommended Reading and Questions to check reader comprehension Sample answers are included at the end of the book Philosophical Foundations of the Nature of Law Wilfrid J. Waluchow, Stefan Sciaraffa, 2013-03-14 This volume examines power sharing agreements their legitimacy and their compatibility with human rights law Providing a clear accessible introduction to the political science and human rights law on the issue the book is an invaluable guide to all those engaged with transitional justice peace agreements and human rights The Culturalization of Human Rights Law Federico Lenzerini, 2014 International human rights law was originally focused on universal individual rights This book examines the developments which have seen it change to a multi cultural approach one more sensitive to the cultures of the people directly affected by them It argues that this can provide benefits but that aspects of universalism must be retained

Conceptualizations of Africa Abdul Karim Bangura, JP Afamefuna Ifedi, 2025-02-27 This book discusses how Africa has been understood and defined across various academic fields Building on the influential works of Valentin Yves Mudimbe and more recent studies by Axel Fleisch and Rhiannon Stephens this book bridges previous limitations by offering a comprehensive interdisciplinary analysis Each chapter examines the conceptualization of Africa within a specific discipline balancing local and global perspectives blending competing viewpoints and providing suggestions for future research The book will be essential for students scholars and researchers interested in a better understanding of the diverse and complex narratives that shape our knowledge of Africa and its intellectual heritage Unesco List of Documents and Publications Unesco, 1985

Philosophical Foundations of International Criminal Law Morten Bergsmo, Emiliano J. Buis, 2018-11-30 This first edition of Philosophical Foundations of International Criminal Law Correlating Thinkers contains 20 chapters about renowned thinkers from Plato to Foucault As the first volume in the series Philosophical Foundations of International Criminal Law the book identifies leading philosophers and thinkers in the history of philosophy or ideas whose writings bear on the foundations of the discipline of international criminal law and then correlates their writings with international criminal law

Philosophical Foundations of Discrimination Law Deborah Hellman, Sophia Moreau, 2013-11-28 How do we understand and justify the particular partialities that discrimination law tries to protect against Are different discrimination laws from around the world grounded in a single set of norms And does discrimination law fail to treat people as individuals The philosophical study around discrimination law in the private and public sector is a relatively young field of inquiry This is owing to the fact that anti discrimination laws are relatively new It is arguably only since the Second World War that these rights have been adopted by countries in a broad sense ensuring that all citizens have civil rights and the right to non discrimination Theory around discrimination law has until recently been threefold doctrinal in its approach questioning equality why it matters and why should it influence legislatures in the design of policy and thirdly focusing on the issue of affirmative action This volume takes a fresh look at the philosophy of discrimination law identifying points of discussion in need of further study It addresses how we are to understand and justify laws prohibiting discrimination For instance how discrimination might be best conceived as a personal wrong or as an unfair distribution of resources The volume then turns to a number of meta theoretical questions whether different discrimination laws are coherent and grounded in collectively held beliefs or are instead a collection of very different rules that have no underlying coherence Lastly the authors focus on issues in discrimination law that are currently the topic of considerable political debate The questions raised here are urgent and necessary and it is the hope of the authors that other academics and philosophers may join in their discussions
