The construction of Identities Through Muting and Absenting of the Other.* Ahmed Musa, 2021-07-19 Essay from the year 2021 in the subject Cultural Studies Middle Eastern Studies grade 95 language English abstract This paper is an attempt to trace the absence of the West in the cultural creative modes of knowledge productions that emerged post the Arab social movements in Tunisia and Egypt Whenever we discuss or approach the subject of the construction of identities in post colonial studies the West who I represent here as the other is largely but not entirely perceived as consolidating against or formulating the identities of the East or the identities of the Rest This is evident in not only the revered works of prominent theorists like Edward Said Homi Bhabha and Gayatri Spivak but also in the works of other post colonial theorists and writers that emerged afterward However during the Arab Spring one of the most solidaristic and transcultural Arab movements that searched for more stable governing models at crossroads of global regional and national challenges creative new forms of formulating identities beyond post colonial theory emerged such as the Arab Spring poetic slogans as creative modes of knowledge production which moved away from the previous discourse of the post colonial Arab intellectuals built on a bifurcation identity and also in tandem revolting the internal regimes of knowledge production The new forms of cultural productions not only represented moments of self emergency social solidarity and construction of the self during traumatic moments but also in tandem absented and muted the West and East binaries and antithesis of representation The Intimacies of Hatred Rani Jean Neutill, 2007 Postcolonial Biology Deepika Bahri, 2017-12-15 Although the body has been a vast subject for postcolonial studies few theorists have attempted to go beyond the simple mixing of races in examining the impact of colonialism on the colonized body However as Deepika Bahri argues it is essential to see the postcolonial body in a variety of forms as capable of transformation not only in psyche and outward behavior but also in flesh and blood European colonizers brought new ways of seeing the body in matters as basic as how to eat speak sit shit or spit As nations decolonized these imperialistic ideas remained becoming part of the global economy of the body In Postcolonial Biology Bahri argues that the political challenges of the twenty first century require that we deconstruct these imperial notions of the body as they are fundamental to power structures governing today s globalized world Postcolonial Biology investigates how minds and bodies have been shaped by colonial contact to create deeply embedded hierarchies among the colonized Moving beyond North South thinking Bahri reframes the questions of postcolonial bodies to address all societies whether developed or developing Engaging in innovative highly original readings of major thinkers such as Adorno Horkheimer Derrida and Fanon this book brings an important new focus to the field of
