Man on Fire Stephen Kelman, 2016-02-16 John Lock has fled the quiet desperation of his life in England decades wasted in a meaningless job a marriage foundering in the wake of loss and a terrible secret he cannot bear to share with his wife and has come to India to meet his destiny A destiny dressed in a white karate suit and sporting an impressive moustache John has come to offer his help to a man who has learned to conquer pain a world record breaker who specializes in feats of extreme endurance and ill advised masochism Bibhuti Nayak has survived forty three kicks to the unprotected groin in ninety seconds three forty pound slabs of concrete smashed over his groin with a sledgehammer and thirty one watermelons dropped on his stomach in one minute from a height of more than thirty feet His next record attempt to have fifty baseball bats broken over his body will be the crowning moment in a career that has seen him rise from poverty to become a minor celebrity in a nation where standing out from the crowd requires tenacity courage and perhaps a touch of madness John is welcomed into Bibhuti's family and into the color and chaos of Mumbai where he encounters Ping Pong playing monks a fearless seven year old martial arts warrior and an old man who longs for the monsoon to wash him away As he and Bibhuti take their leap of faith together John sets out to rewrite a brave end to a life poorly lived Pigeon English Stephen Kelman, 2012

Transdisciplinary Perspectives on Childhood in Contemporary Britain Sandra Dinter, Ralf Schneider, 2017-11-15 In the light of the complex demographic shifts associated with late modernity and the impetus of neo liberal politics childhood continues all the more to operate as a repository for the articulation of diverse social and cultural anxieties Since the Thatcher years juvenile delinquency child poverty and protection have been persistent issues in public discourse Simultaneously childhood has advanced as a popular subject in the arts as the wealth of current films and novels in this field indicates Focusing on the late twentieth and the early twenty first centuries this collection assembles contributions concerned with current political social and cultural dimensions of childhood in the United Kingdom The individual chapters written by internationally renowned experts from the social sciences and the humanities address a broad spectrum of contemporary childhood issues including debates on child protection school dress codes the media the representation and construction of children in audiovisual media and literary awards for children s fiction Appealing to a wide scholarly audience by joining perspectives from various disciplines including art history education law film and TV studies sociology and literary studies this volume endorses a transdisciplinary and meta theoretical approach to the study of childhood It seeks to both illustrate and dismantle the various ways in which childhood has been implicitly and explicitly conceived in different disciplines in the wake of the constructivist paradigm shift in childhood studies

Childhood in the Contemporary English Novel Sandra Dinter,2019-10-10 Since the 1980s novels about childhood for adults have been a booming genre within the contemporary British literary market Childhood in the Contemporary English Novel offers the first comprehensive study of this literary trend Assembling analyses of key works by Ian McEwan Doris Lessing P D James Nick Hornby Sarah Moss and Stephen Kelman and situating them in their cultural and political contexts Sandra Dinter uncovers both the reasons for the current popularity of such fiction and the theoretical shift that distinguishes it from earlier literary epochs The book s central argument is that the contemporary English novel draws on the constructivist paradigm shift that revolutionised the academic study of childhood several decades ago Contemporary works of fiction Dinter argues depart from the notion of childhood as a naturally given phase of life and examine the agents interests and conflicts involved in its cultural production Dinter also considers the limits of this new theoretical impetus observing that authors and scholars alike even when they claim to conceive of childhood as a construct do not always give up on the idea of its natural core Accordingly this book reconstructs how the English novel between the 1980s and the 2010s oscillates between an acknowledgment of constructivism and an endorsement of childhood as the last irrevocable quintessence of humanity In doing so it successfully extends the literary and cultural history of childhood to the immediate present
