A Treatise on Maritime Law, Vol. 1 Of 2

Theophilus Parsons, 2017-11-06 Excerpt from A Treatise on Maritime Law Vol 1 of 2 Including the Law of Shipping the Law of Marine Insurance and the Law and Practice of Admiralty Before I came to Cambridge and while still engaged in the business of my profession I had become convinced that the books in the different departments of maritime law excellent as some of them were were still Open to the objection that they treated severally and disconnect edly topics which in themselves were closely connected and needed the mutual illustration they could give each other It seemed to me that the Law of Shipping and the Law of Marine Insurance for example could not be learned fully and accurately excepting in their connec tion How these subjects intermingle in some of their subdivisions is obvious Thus no work on Shipping would leave the subject of General Average untouched and certainly no work on Insurance could do so But does this topic belong more properly to Shipping or to Insurance It belongs to both and equally to both and connects the two together And to go beyond this it may be said that there is no topic of either of these systems of law which can be treated of with any ful ness without a frequent reference more or less direct to the same topic as it stands in the other of those sys tems About the Publisher Forgotten Books publishes hundreds of thousands of rare and classic books Find more at www.forgottenbooks.com This book is a reproduction of an important historical work Forgotten Books uses state of the art technology to digitally reconstruct the work preserving the original format whilst repairing imperfections present in the aged copy In rare cases an imperfection in the original such as a blemish or missing page may be replicated in our edition We do however repair the vast majority of imperfections successfully any imperfections that remain are intentionally left to preserve the state of such historical works

Maritime Law: Volume I Arrest of Vessels Committee on Maritime and Transport Law Staff, 2013-11-11 It is with great pleasure that as Chairman of the Section on Business Law of the International Bar Association I write this foreword to a series of handbooks on maritime law which have been prepared by the Committee on Maritime and Transport Law of our Section The first of these handbooks deals with Arrest of Vessels the second with Enforced Sales of Vessels the third with Registration of Vessels and the fourth with Mortgages on Vessels I feel sure that they will all be valuable aids to international lawyers practising in the field of maritime law These handbooks owe their conception to Mr Lennart Hagberg of Gothenburg Sweden the Chairman of the Maritime and Transport Law Committee Both he and the contributors to the series have put an enormous amount of work into the handbooks and devoted long hours to their preparation hours which I feel sure they have borrowed with difficulty from their heavy commitments as busy practising lawyers I am happy to think that our Section which was formed only six years ago is as its first ventures in the publishing field producing at the same time both these handbooks on maritime law and another on Contracts of Employment which has been prepared by our Committee on Labour Law under the chairmanship of Mr Willard Z Carr Jr of Los Angeles California May they be the forerunners of many more
