Mystery in San Francisco Gina D. B. Clemen, Eleanor Donaldson, 2005 Mystery in San Francisco Gina D. B. Clemen, 2005 Mystery in San Francisco , 2019 Street Sex Workers' Discourse Jill McCracken, 2013-04-17

Incorporating the voices and insights of street sex workers through personal interviews this monograph argues that the material conditions of many street workers the physical environments they live in and their effects on the workers bodies identities and spirits are represented reproduced and entrenched in the language surrounding their work As an ethnographic case study of a local system that can be extrapolated to other subcultures and the construction of identities this book disrupts some of the more prevalent academic and lay understandings about street prostitution by providing a thorough analysis of the material conditions surrounding street work and their connection to discourse McCracken offers an explanation of how constructions can be made differently in order to achieve representations that are generated by the marginalized populations themselves while placing responsibility for this marginalization on the society in which these people live The Art of Facilitation Dale Hunter, 2012-03-01 World renowned facilitation group and meetings dynamics guru explains how to run great meetings Dr Dale Hunter s classic guide includes all the latest findings and research on facilitation Written by an international expert it s the go to sourcebook for people involved in human resources management mediation team leadership performance management and individual and team coaching If you re someone who is responsible for effective group and inter personal dynamics this is the Bible Interpersonal dynamics can unravel the best of managerial intentions Worse still a little knowledge in untrained hands can lead to managers manufacturing consent and manipulating people to agree to management goals Hunter s book is a sobering reminder of how many managers directors and business leaders are stumbling about in the dark with very few skills when it comes to unlocking individual and group potential The Art of Facilitation will sit comfortably on the bookshelf of anyone wanting to learn more about harnessing group energy to attain a common goal Ruth le Pla Management Magazine May 2007 Becoming an Ally, 3rd Edition Anne Bishop, 2020-05-27T00:00:00Z Becoming an Ally is a book for men who want to end sexism white people who want to end racism straight people who want to end heterosexism able bodied people who want to end ableism for all people who recognize their privilege and want to move toward a more just world by learning to act as allies Has oppression always been with us just part of human nature What does individual healing have to do with social justice What does social justice have to do with individual healing Why do members of the same oppressed group fight one another sometimes more viciously than they fight their oppressors Why do some who experience oppression develop a life long commitment to fighting oppression while others turn around and oppress those with less power In this accessible and enlightening book now in its third edition Anne Bishop examines history economic and political structures and individual psychology in a search for the origins of racism sexism heterosexism ableism ageism and all the other forms of oppression that divide us Becoming an Ally looks for paths to justice and lays out guidelines for becoming allies of oppressed peoples when we are in the privileged role. A new chapter in this third edition offers a greatly expanded discussion of effective approaches to educating allies which is meant for teachers of adults particularly those who teach about diversity equity and anti oppression. In this chapter Bishop examines the ways in which Western culture prevents us from recognizing our roles as members of privileged groups and explores how to challenge this with participatory exercises and group discussion.

Women in New Religions Laura Vance, 2015-03-13. An in depth history of selected New Religions that highlights the roles of women in their founding and continual practice. Women in New Religions offers an engaging look at women's evolving place in the birth and development of new religious movements. It focuses on four disparate new religions: Mormonism, Seventh day Adventism, The Family International, and Wicca, to illuminate their implications for gender socialization, religious leadership and participation, sexuality and family ideals. Religious worldviews and gender roles interact with one another in complicated ways. This is especially true within new religions which frequently set roles for women in ways that help the movements to define their boundaries in relation to the wider society. As new religious movements emerge they often position themselves in opposition to dominant society and concomitantly assert alternative roles for women. But these religions are not monolithic rather than defining gender in rigid and repressive terms, new religions sometimes offer possibilities to women that are not otherwise available. Vance traces expectations for women as the religions emerge and transformation of possibilities and responsibilities for women as they mature. Weaving theory with examination of each movement's origins, history and beliefs and practices, this text contextualizes and situates ideals for women in new religions. The book offers an accessible analysis of the complex factors that influence gender ideology and its evolution in new religious movements, including the movements' origins, charismatic leadership and routinization, theology and doctrine, and socio historical contexts. It shows how religions shape definitions of women's place in a way that is informed by response to social context, group boundaries and identity.

A Curriculum of Fear Nicole Nguyen, 2016-08-15. Welcome to Milton High School where fear is a teacher's best tool and every student is a soldier in the war on terror. A struggling public school outside the nation's capital, Milton sat squarely at the center of two trends: growing fear of resurgent terrorism and mounting pressure to run schools as job training sites. In response, the school established a specialized Homeland Security program. A Curriculum of Fear takes us into Milton for a day to day look at how such a program works, what it means to students and staff, and what it says about the militarization of U.S. public schools and more broadly the state of public education in this country. Nicole Nguyen guides us through a curriculum of national security themed classes, electives, and internships designed through public-private partnerships with major defense contractors like Northrop Grumman and federal agencies like the NSA. She introduces us to students in the process of becoming a corps of diverse workers for the national security industry, learning to be vigilant citizens, and she shows us the everyday realities of a program intended to improve the school, revitalize the community, and eliminate the achievement gap. With reference to critical work on school militarization neoliberal school reform the impact of the global war on terror on everyday life and the political uses of fear A Curriculum of Fear maps the contexts that gave rise to Milton s Homeland Security program and its popularity Ultimately as the first ethnography of such a program the book provides a disturbing close encounter with the new normal imposed by the global war on terror a school at once under siege and actively preparing for the siege itself Health Promotion in Action R. Labonté, G. Laverack, 2008-09-30 Globalization is reshaping the field of health promotion practice In this innovative study the authors outline health promotion s traditional concerns and argue that a policy of glocalization thinking globally acting locally can succeed in establishing health equality and achieving empowerment individually locally nationally and globally Drawing on international examples across Africa Asia Europe and North America this study analyses economic policies and their link to health particularly in relation to the developing world Globalization affects health in varied ways and this book examines the competing ways in which global health has been framed in public policy concluding by revealing how health promoters can respond to globalization s new challenges Out of Nowhere Susan Dunlap, 2016-09-01 Zen student and stunt double Darcy Lott wonders whether she can trust her own brother in this intriguing mystery Darcy Lott is thrilled to be reunited with her brother Mike who disappeared twenty years earlier But her joy at bringing him home to San Francisco turns to fear when she learns that he has become the victim of escalating attacks and he has no idea who is targeting him Darcy determines to find out who is after him and why before the attacks turn deadly However when Darcy searches Mike s apartment a disturbing discovery makes her question whether she really knows her brother any more or trusts him The Miwok Eagles Barry Smith, 2009 The Miwok Eagles are a set of 1849 ten dollar gold coins that become part of a bold con game mounted by an international counterfeiter named Fritz Boehmer Miwok Indians in the San Francisco Bay Area accepted coins like these as payment for some of their land in the 19th Century Boehmer plans to steal the coins from a San Francisco coin evaluator named Mirza Tarkanian publicize their disappearance to drive up their value and offer copies of them for sale David Moore co owner of the Rothmore Security Agency is trying to hold his swing shift of some fifty widely spread guard posts together when the theft of the Eagles takes place The theft and resultant death of the coin dealer s nephew are partly his fault because he is late posting a guard to coin dealer Mirza Tarkanian who frequently uses Moore s security agency when he is moving valuable coins from one place to another The Miwok Eagles belong to Bess Carman wealthy and influential owner of a ranch near San Francisco Tracing the crime to her ranch Moore begins to unravel the method of the criminals and reveal two murders tied to the crime He has the help of a female archeologist who is studying Miwok village sites on the ranch Her name is Kelly Raphael and she too is disturbed by the activities of Bess Carman s visitors especially when a servant goes missing The search for evidence of murder takes Moore on a night hike to a site on the ranch where he finds buried in a dry stream bed a crucible a clean and carefully wrapped rifle and the odor of a body which he has no time to exhume Moore s efforts to uncover the plot lead him into deadly encounters
